Introduction

Accreditation

Lee University is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools to award baccalaureate and masters degrees. Contact the Commission on Colleges at 1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia 30033-4097 or call 404-679-4500 for questions about the accreditation of Lee University. The Helen DeVos College of Education at Lee University is accredited by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE), www.ncate.org. This accreditation covers initial teacher preparation programs and advanced educator preparation programs at Lee University. However, the accreditation does not include individual education courses that the institution offers to P-12 educators for professional development, relicensure, or other purposes. The School of Music is accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music (11250 Roger Bacon Drive, Suite 21; Reston, Virginia 20190; telephone: 703-437-0700). Lee also holds membership in the American Council on Education, the Council of Independent Colleges, the Tennessee College Association, the Tennessee Association of Independent Colleges and Universities, the Council for Christian Colleges and Universities, and the Appalachian College Association.

Mission Statement

Lee University is a Christian institution which offers liberal arts and professional education on both the baccalaureate and graduate levels. It seeks to provide education that integrates biblical truth as revealed in the Holy Scriptures with truth discovered through the study of arts and sciences and in the practice of various professions. A personal commitment to Jesus Christ as Savior is the controlling perspective from which the educational enterprise is carried out. The foundational purpose of all educational programs is to develop within the students knowledge, appreciation, understanding, ability and skill which will prepare them for responsible Christian living in a complex world.

Founded as the Bible Training School in 1918 by the Church of God, Cleveland, Tennessee, the institution was renamed in 1947 to honor its second president, the Reverend F. J. Lee, and attained university status in 1997. The original purpose was to provide both general and biblical training for those persons entering the Christian ministry and through the years Lee University has continued this purpose of "ministry," ever more broadly defined to include both church and non-church vocations.

Enrollment consists primarily of recent high school graduates; sixty percent of the students reside on campus. In order to maintain a sense of Christian community and enhance the personal, spiritual, academic, emotional and physical development of students, Lee University seeks to foster a residential campus experience, with special focus on the needs of freshmen and sophomores. The university works to create common space on the campus and a common core of residential events around which the entire community operates. Most of the students are affiliated with the Church of God, although many come from other denominations. Lee University serves the Church and society by offering graduate programs in various professions and academic disciplines. These post-baccalaureate programs are designed to deepen one's understanding of a discipline and/or strengthen one's skills as a professional. The goal of all graduate degree programs is to nurture scholars and professionals who will better serve the kingdom of God and the world. In this way, the graduate programs are a natural extension of the university's commitment to undergraduate education.

As an independent institution, Lee University is controlled by a Board of Directors appointed by the General Executive Committee of the denomination. The President is responsible to this board for facilitating an educational program presented from a theological perspective that is conservative, evangelical and Pentecostal. In keeping with the amended Charter of Incorporation (1968) and the Bylaws of Lee University (article I, sections 2 and 4), all board members, administrators and faculty members certify annually by contract that they will not advocate anything contrary to the Church of God Declaration of Faith.

Lee University endeavors to employ scholars with the highest academic credentials who present their disciplines from a distinctly Christian perspective. All truth is perceived to be God's truth, and the effective presentation and integration of truth is the goal. Lee University values teaching as the most important faculty role, and excellence in teaching is the primary standard for retention, tenure and promotion. Faculty research is seen as essential to teaching excellence. It, too, is an important criterion for faculty advancement. Lee University values and rewards Christian community service and service to humankind as significant faculty responsibilities.

Lee University identifies its public service region as being generally coterminal with the geographic scope of the denomination. While most students come from the United States, the student body typically consists of representatives of a broad range of socioeconomic backgrounds from all fifty states and more than twenty countries in Central and South America, Europe, Asia and Africa. Because of this geographic span, the university serves a racially, ethnically and culturally diverse student body with 15 percent international or minority students. The institution has adopted the policy that no person in whatever relation with Lee University shall be subject to discrimination because of race, color, national origin, age, gender or disability.

Lee University attracts students with widely varied academic skills. The university is committed to serve under-prepared students with a variety of support services. While the primary source of funding is from student revenues, the Church of God provides for the university in its annual budget. The university also receives support from alumni, businesses, churches, foundations and friends.

All baccalaureate degree students at Lee University must complete a general education core including eighteen semester hours of religion. The general education courses foster intellectual development by enhancing the student's ability to observe, read and think critically and to communicate effectively. The courses also cultivate awareness, understanding and respect for cultural diversity. The religion core courses are predicated on the Reformation principle of the priesthood of the believers. The courses are designed to enable the student both to understand and articulate the Christian faith. The campus curriculum is enriched by American, Latin American, European, African, and Asian studies programs, study tours, and service-to-humankind projects, as well as courses offered by the Center for Adult and Professional Studies for non-resident students.

An integral part of the university mission is a commitment to training responsible citizens to contribute their God-given gifts to the community at large. A biblical understanding of service and benevolence is introduced in the general education core, actualized through planned, reflective community engagement and developed in various major courses.

Lee University takes seriously the task of preparing students for responsible Christian living in a complex world. The goal is pursued within a variety of structures provided within the widest campus context, such as classroom instruction, extracurricular activities, student development services and residential living. The university realizes that the knowledge, appreciation, understanding, ability and skill for such resourceful living will be evident in its students in direct proportion to the success of its programs and service whereby a healthy physical, mental, social, cultural and spiritual development is fostered.

The Lee University experience intends to demonstrate that there is a positive correlation between scholarship and wholeness; that one must approach all learning with a sense of privilege and responsibility under God; that truth is truth wherever it is found, whether test tube, literary or artistic masterpiece or Holy Scripture; that appropriate integration of truth is both intellectual and behavioral in nature; and that the pursuit and application of truth is, indeed, “ministry.”

Faith Statement

As a Christian university operated under the auspices of the Church of God, Lee University is firmly committed to the conservative, evangelical, Pentecostal religious position of its sponsoring denomination. This position is expressed in the “Declaration of Faith” as follows:

We believe:
In the verbal inspiration of the Bible.
In one God eternally existing in three persons; namely, the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost.
That Jesus Christ is the only begotten Son of the Father, conceived of the Holy Ghost, and born of the Virgin Mary.
That Jesus was crucified, buried, and raised from the dead. That He ascended to heaven and is today at the right hand of the Father as the Intercessor.
That all have sinned and come short of the glory of God and that repentance is commanded of God for all and necessary for forgiveness of sins.
That justification, regeneration, and the new birth are wrought by faith in the blood of Jesus Christ. In sanctification subsequent to the new birth, through faith in the blood of Christ, through the Word, and by the Holy Ghost.
Holiness to be God’s standard of living for His people.
In the baptism with the Holy Ghost subsequent to a clean heart.
In speaking with other tongues as the Spirit gives utterance and that it is the initial evidence of the baptism of the Holy Ghost.
In water baptism by immersion, and all who repent should be baptized in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost.
That divine healing is provided for all in the atonement.
In the Lord’s Supper and washing of the saints’ feet.
In the pre-millennial second coming of Jesus.
First, to resurrect the righteous dead and to catch away the living saints to Him in the air.
Second, to reign on the earth a thousand years.
In the bodily resurrection; eternal life for the righteous, and eternal punishment for the wicked.

Philosophy of Education

To offer a philosophy of education is to engage in critical and constructive introspection. It includes an appreciation of the past, an assessment of the present, and a will to dream, even to dare, respecting the future. The Lee University Philosophy of Education has been a commitment-in-process since 1918. At whatever stage in institutional development, those engaged in the enterprise have sensed a common calling, i.e., our community is a discipleship of equals, our work is a kind of sanctification of the ordinary, and our disposition is doxological in nature.

A philosophy of education necessarily considers teachers, students, and the creative engagement of the two. Furthermore, a Christian philosophy of education presupposes the integration of faith and learning. The following represents a corporate commitment in these regards.

Teaching, to this community of Christian scholars, is a calling to serve the Kingdom of God through scholarly discovery of truth, dissemination of appropriate knowledge, and development of effective constituents. This mission requires a commitment to invest the time necessary to prepare students intellectually and spiritually to be productive citizens in the twenty-first century. Effective teachers challenge and inspire succeeding generations to discover gifts, to discern callings, to formulate life plans, and to begin to implement all of these for excellence in service. Furthermore, they lead students toward personal excellence by modeling the goals and values of the learning community, by facilitating student learning of discipline knowledge, personal skills and Christian perspectives, and by inspiring students to reach for transformational growth.

Effective teachers are characterized, most notably, by commitment to lifelong learning. Lee University faculty members are committed Christians who believe in being led by the Holy Spirit as they fulfill their professional roles in scholarship, teaching, and service. Those teachers support collegiality and accountability with respect for academic freedom within the bounds of the Christian faith. Effective relational and communication skills, disciplinary expertise, care for students, and a strong work ethic are viewed as essential qualifications for a community of Christian teacher-scholars. As members of a teaching-learning community, Lee faculty contribute to life beyond the classroom through involvement in campus organizations and events, service on faculty committees, civic and church responsibilities, and scholarly accountability.

Aware that an intentional teaching-learning community significantly impacts the growth and development of students, members of the Lee University faculty share these distinctive educational commitments: the integration of biblical truth with the disciplinary knowledge of academic specialties; the promotion of the Lordship of Jesus Christ through all that is done in the classroom, on the campus, and in the full scope of living; the encouragement of students to strive for excellence in mastery of subject knowledge, in critical thinking, in skills development, in moral and spiritual growth, and in social development; the importance of service learning experiences for all students; the fostering of global perspectives through cross-cultural interaction and multi-cultural experience; the holistic development of students through collaboration with other institutional partners; and the mentoring of students as their academic and spiritual role models.
The learning experience at Lee University includes the development of critical thinking skills and the challenge of creative thought issuing from and empowered by a Christ-centered approach to education. Working in partnership with faculty who are grounded in the integration of faith and learning, students are empowered and encouraged to discover and investigate the facets of their disciplines as they learn to adapt to a constantly changing landscape. Each student is regarded as a product of God’s design, distinctly gifted to learn and to grow. The faculty’s role is to help students, God’s workmanship, to understand the call that God has placed on them and to challenge them to examine and to use their gifts in discharging those callings.

The centrality of the classroom with designed educational activities is a given in the formation of students’ intellectual habits. Therein lies the life of the mind is nurtured and students become more than merely passive recipients of information. Even so, to embody this process requires a level of faculty responsibility outside the classroom whereby to build personal and collegial relationships that enhance the learning experience. Desiring for students an integration of faith and knowledge, Christian teachers in that external context also mentor and counsel students to the fullest engagement of Christian discipleship.

Engaging students in the learning process, then, whatever the venue, is integral to the educational mission. While acknowledging that not all students may be challenged successfully and that ultimate responsibility for learning rests with the students themselves, Lee faculty do believe that efforts at such engagement must be intentional, aggressive, and thorough. Students must not be treated as passive consumers; rather, because of their created dignity in the image of God, the faculty proposes to challenge them by ennobling intellectual and scholarly endeavors sufficient to fulfill their distinctive vocations in life.

Sensitive Christian educators intend to approach all students as worthy of time, care, and attention. While acknowledging varied levels of academic preparation in their backgrounds, Lee faculty do maintain that all students who meet university admission standards and are placed before them are worthy of the best efforts, which include teaching techniques that are flexible and accommodating in order to meet the needs of a diverse population. Far from relaxing standards in the face of such differentiation, faculty commit to engage students in such ways that each one might realize his/her highest potential, all to the glory of God.

In retrospect, the principals, i.e. teachers and students, involved and the process undertaken may be characterized succinctly in this way: The positive engagement of the passionate intellect and the inquiring mind represents the intersection of calling, the sense of divine vocation; of commitment, the belief that the arts and sciences represent the core values of one’s academic identity; of confession, the concurrence of Christian faith affirmations and transcendental values; of confidence, the challenge that academic faithfulness does make a difference in the development and expression of one’s own character and contribution; of competence, the amalgam of academic integrity and quality assurance so essential to any Christian enterprise; and of community, the holistic and relational perception of the teaching-learning paradigm. These matters have not been consigned to the vagaries of chance but have been decidedly intentional. Indeed, the energizing Geist at Lee University is that academic engagement is a spiritual discipline.

Philosophy of Calling and Career

Lee University believes that God gives strengths, talents or gifts to all humans in creation. We also believe that God calls people in two ways: primarily to a relationship with God and secondarily to tasks and careers in response to that relationship.

Understanding these gifts and callings as fundamental to a meaningful life on earth, Lee University attempts to create an atmosphere where questions about calling and career are encouraged. The university accomplishes this through discussion of calling with-in courses throughout the curriculum, through vocational retreats and chapel speakers, through the Center for Calling and Career, through other programs sponsored by the Poiema Project and through our own quest for understanding our personal strengths and calling from God in the Spirit. The goal is that we all might love God with our whole being and love our neighbors as ourselves.

Athletic Philosophy and Mission

Lee University, as a Christian liberal arts university, is committed to the principle that God is glorified when individuals develop to their full potential as whole persons - intellectually, spiritually, socially and physically.

The existence of an athletic program at Lee University not only is consistent with this principle but is necessary to it. A university without an athletic program omits an important part of the preparation of its students for “responsible Christian living in the modern world.” The mission of the intercollegiate athletic program is to assist in the preparation of graduates for Christian service in their occupations, academic pursuits and personal ministry. The success of this preparation depends on programs and services whereby physical, mental, social and spiritual development is fostered. The mission is pursued within a variety of activities provided within the context of the intercollegiate athletic program.

The intercollegiate athletic program is designed to assist in preparing students for “responsible Christian living in the modern world.” Its commitment is to develop an integrated person - one who is spiritually alive, intellectually alert and physically disciplined. This balance is achieved in each athlete by training him/her to think about athletics with a competitive spirit from the Christian perspective.

Lee University engages in intercollegiate athletic competition as a member of the Southern States Athletic Conference and the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics. Varsity teams compete in men’s and women’s basketball, tennis, soccer and cross country; women’s fast pitch softball and volleyball; and men’s golf and baseball with several of our teams qualifying for the national tournament each year. All events are open to students upon presentation of a current identification card.

Historical Sketch of Lee University

Lee University has emerged in recent years as an institution of national standing in many areas that are typically ranked by outside observers. One of the reasons for this emergence is that Lee stands out in a select group of higher education institutions, that of Christ-centered, liberal arts colleges and universities. Another reason is that Lee’s original core values and goals have remained strong even as it has adapted to the changing landscape of academic and professional life.

Lee University’s recent success belies its humble beginnings almost a century ago. In 1918, the Church of God of Cleveland, TN began a small Bible institute to invest in the ministerial training of its young people. From its hopeful beginning of twelve students and one teacher, the school grew and became Lee College, with a Bible college and junior college on its current site, in 1948. Twenty years later, Lee received accreditation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools as a four-year liberal arts college. In 1997 Lee made the transition from college to comprehensive liberal arts university granting masters degrees. In 2009, Lee’s Helen DeVo Cololege of Education launched an Education Specialist degree program.
The liberal arts experiment at Lee College came into its own in the mid 1980s with a deliberate move to embrace the broader evangelical Christian community. The shift brought an influx of new students and faculty. In the twenty-four years between 1986 and 2010, student enrollment more than tripled from just over 1200 to more than 4200. While Lee remains committed to its denominational affiliation, the institution’s inclusive enrollment policy now attracts students with a variety of religious traditions, academic abilities and ethnic and socio-economic backgrounds. Lee draws students from every state, and the percentage of minorities and internationals is one of the highest in the Council for Christian Colleges and Universities.

The faculty has also grown and diversified to keep pace with the 100 undergraduate major and 15 graduate programs in its four schools: the College of Arts & Sciences, the Helen DeVos College of Education, the School of Religion and the School of Music. Faculty members come from around the world and represent a wide range of academic, cultural and religious backgrounds.

Campus construction programs have added significant acreage and more than 20 major buildings to Lee’s landscape over the past twenty-four years. Among these are ten new dormitories, six classroom buildings, a student union building, a dining hall, and two recreation centers.

At the turn of the new millennium, Lee University became a higher education pioneer in incorporating benevolence and service learning, personal strengths development and cross-cultural studies as a regular part of every student’s educational experience. Lee has been recognized for its leadership in preparing students for responsible living and was included in the Honor Roll of Character-Building Colleges by the Templeton Foundation. The Institute of International Education Open Doors reports for the past few years have ranked Lee University among the top five master’s degree granting institutions nationwide for its application of global and cross-cultural studies. Lee has also been recognized by the Corporation for National and Community Service as one of the top six institutions in the nation for the service efforts of our students. This year we received the Presidential Award in Higher Education Community Service after having been included in that institution’s Honor Roll for the past three years.

Student Life

Campus Life

Campus Safety
Lee University maintains a safety team to provide protection for students, staff, faculty and property. Campus Safety officers perform a variety of duties, including regulating traffic and parking, filing university incident reports, securing buildings, maintaining order, providing assistance in times of emergency and contacting local law enforcement and emergency response authorities when needed. With a ten-minute notification, Safe Ride services are provided for students who need to be escorted across campus at night.

The university provides parking facilities for students who bring automobiles onto the campus. Each student who parks an automobile on campus must register it with the Campus Safety Office and must carry liability insurance. This includes non-resident students who commute to the campus. Upon receipt of a parking permit, the student is entitled to park in an assigned area. Parking is on a first-come, first-served basis. Automobiles parked illegally will be ticketed or towed at the owner’s expense.

All students enrolled at Lee University are required to have a current student identification card. The card is issued during registration and is used for a number of university activities such as the library, dining services, campus events, recreation center, intramural sports and chapel.

Chapel

The university is firmly committed to corporate worship and views chapel as an integral and indispensable part of the learning experience. Chapel services are conducted on Tuesday and Thursday mornings and some Sunday evenings. Weeks are set aside for special convocation during the fall and spring semesters.

All full-time students (12 hours or more) are required to attend chapel services including convocations. Students requiring work exemptions for chapel may complete the appropriate forms each semester in the Chapel Coordinator’s Office located in the Conn Center. Freshmen are not eligible for exemptions. Students who do not comply with chapel requirements may not be allowed to register for another semester.

Students who have been on chapel probation for three or more months and are on chapel probation at the end of the semester will forfeit any university-funded scholarships for which they would have otherwise qualified during the semester.

Fine Arts and Cultural Events

Each year the Fine Arts and Campus Events Committees bring to the campus a wide array of programs designed to enrich the student’s cultural life. Included are concerts by professional entertainers, musical festivals, lectures, drama, film series and art exhibits.

In addition, student organizations sponsor special cultural events for the enjoyment and enrichment of the Lee University community. Students can attend most of these events for free by simply presenting their current student identification card.

Health Clinic

Lee University maintains a Health Clinic which provides a variety of medical services including certain lab tests and medications. Students are treated by a registered nurse, campus or local physician, or are referred to the Emergency Room, or to a walk-in clinic. The Health Clinic fee is mandatory for full-time students and optional for part-time students.

The primary objective of the Health Clinic is to give first aid and medical treatment on a limited basis. No student is refused treatment and all information is confidential. There are no inpatient beds or isolation facilities available on campus. Students with communicable diseases are assisted in making arrangements to return home to recover.

Students with health-related problems that require on-going care are strongly encouraged to contact the Director of Health Services prior to registration so arrangements can be made for medical supervision. Specific questions may be directed to the Clinic staff through the “Ask a Nurse” section of the Health Clinic portion of the main Lee University webpage. The Health Clinic is located on Parker Street in the north end of the Leonard Center and across from the McKenzie Athletic Building.

Small Group

Lee University is committed to the development of relationships in the context of community. One avenue through which we encourage students to build vulnerable, authentic and deeper relationships is through our discipleship program called SmallGroup. Each Residence Hall, staffed with a Resident Director, Resident Assistants and a Resident Chaplain, coordinates and facilitates a weekly opportunity for students to gather in small groups to discuss and process faith in a safe environment. The Resident Chaplain, who works for both the Resident Director and Discipleship Ministries Coordinator is provided a scholarship by the Poiema Project. The seventeen chaplains on campus are responsible for overseeing the small groups in their particular Residence Hall. The Resident Chaplains are also responsible for a team of volunteer small group leaders called Floor Leaders who facilitate small groups on each floor.

SmallGroup meets every Thursday night at 10:00 p.m. for one hour in each Residence Hall. During SmallGroup our student leaders are encouraged to center their small group on discussion, accountability, vulnerability and good questions. We firmly support a safe environment which can and should be developed between members of SmallGroup. This safe environment can lead to effective growth and transformation by challenging and encouraging members of the group who are walking this journey of faith together.

The mission of SmallGroup in its simplest form is to love God and love others. We hope to point one another towards a transformational relationship with Jesus Christ and help our students understand the call that Jesus has on our lives, as a member of God’s kingdom. Although SmallGroup is not a required activity, over 25% of our on-campus students participate each Thursday night to participate and engage in this unique program of growth, challenge, transformation and encouragement.

Intercollegiate Athletics

Lee University engages in intercollegiate athletic competition as a member of the Southern States Athletic Conference and the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics. Basketball, tennis, golf, softball, soccer, volleyball, cross-country and baseball are available on an intercollegiate basis, with several of our teams qualifying for the national tournament each year. All events are free to students upon presentation of a current identification card.

Intramurals and Recreation

To promote physical well-being, Lee University encourages participation in various forms of athletics, outdoor recreation and other activities. Intramural sports for both men and women attract a large percentage... of students who compete individually and as members of class, club, dormitory or independent teams. In addition to team sports like softball, volleyball, soccer, basketball and football, many individual sports and games are also offered (i.e., table tennis, bowling, billiards and chess). Current students and their spouses may participate in intramural programs. The programs are free to all students who pay the student activity fee. Spouse participation requires a spouse pass which may be purchased at the Recreation Center Office. Participants may register for the event(s) of their choice.

The DeVos Recreation Center provides a wide range of social and recreational opportunities. These opportunities include a full-size gym, weight and physical fitness equipment, racquetball, cycling and games such as table tennis and billiards. This facility is only open to Lee University students, faculty, administration and staff. There are minimal fees for some features such as lockers and supplies. Other opportunities exist in the area of sport clubs and outdoor recreation. A list of active sport clubs and outdoor recreation activities can be obtained at the DeVos Recreation Center office. All users must present a valid ID in order to use the facilities or any equipment.

Social and Entertainment Activities
Consistent with its desire to develop the whole person, Lee University offers a balanced program of social opportunities which provide social interaction for the entire student body. A number of events are underwritten by the Campus Events Committee which is funded by student activity fees. These events may be attended without charge upon presentation of a current student identification card.

Student Activities and Services
The goal of Lee University is to be a Christian community where people share their lives with one another and meet whatever academic, spiritual and social needs are present. Such a community calls its members into accountability for their actions, their theology and their lifestyles. This quest for Christian community is the foundation of the mission and purpose of Lee University, including campus life and student activities. The services provided, as well as the rules and regulations by which we live, evolve from commitment to the Christian community.

Student Grievances and Appeals
Lee University is committed to a policy of responsiveness to students who express that actions and decisions of university personnel are inappropriate and detrimental.

A student grievance or complaint should be discussed with the university employee responsible for the specific decision or having authority for the condition in the institution giving rise to the complaint. If the discussion does not resolve the issue, the student should submit a signed written complaint stating the facts as perceived and the requested action or change of decision. The written complaint may be submitted to the original employee and/or to the employee’s supervisor. Each supervisor is committed to assist in resolving problems and complaints in accordance with professional standards. These standards include respect for differences in viewpoint, protection of the right of students to seek clarification of policy or changes in policy and delivery of satisfactory service in accordance with stated program objectives. Students are expected to demonstrate appropriate respect in both oral and written complaints. When a member of the faculty, administration or staff renders a decision that is in accordance with institutional policy, the student should recognize that an appeal for exceptions to policy and recommendations for changes in policy involve privileges that usually exceed the authority of a given employee.

Student Lifestyle Expectations
Lee University seeks to maintain an environment in which wholesome attitudes and proper conduct can flourish. The university is fully committed to serious educational goals and welcomes those students who indicate their desire for a quality education in a Christian environment in attitude, appearance and behavior.

Whenever any group is closely associated for the accomplishment of a definite purpose, rules and regulations are necessary. Lee University attempts to maintain equitable rules, developed with the participation of the student body and the university administration. Registration is held to be the student’s written agreement to comply with the rules and regulations of the university.

The ideals of Christian character should be foremost in private deportment and all social relationships. Stealing, cheating, lying, use of tobacco, pornography, extra- or premarital sexual activity, drinking of alcoholic beverages, use of illegal drugs, attending establishments of ill repute, immorality, disrespect for school authorities, commission or conviction of a criminal offense, discrimination or harassment of another person, etc., will not be tolerated.

Students are subject to all school and residence hall regulations from the time they arrive on campus, whether they have registered or not. Students are also subject to these rules when participating in off-campus study trips and during holidays.

A student handbook is distributed at the beginning of each fall semester. Students should refer to this document for more specific information regarding behavior codes and expectations.

Community Covenant
All students are required to sign the following Community Covenant indicating their agreement with these principles:

Lee University is a Christian community dedicated to the highest standards of academic achievement, personal development and spiritual growth. Together the community seeks to honor Christ by integrating faith, learning and living while its members’ hearts and lives mature in relationship to Jesus Christ and each other. Faith in God’s Word should lead to behavior displaying His authority in our lives. Scripture teaches that certain attributes such as love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self control are to be manifested by members of the Christian community (Galatians 5:22-23)

1. Community life at Lee University should be marked by personal stewardship of abilities and resources and sensitivity to the God-given worth and dignity of each individual. Respect for the worth and dignity of each individual regardless of any differences is a foundational tenet of the Christian community of faith. The university does not allow and will not condone discrimination or harassment of another person because of race, color, national or ethnic origin, religious background, age, gender or disability.

2. Corporate worship aids in community building and support of the body of Christ. We gather as a community at special times for nurture and instruction in the truths of God’s Word. These activities include required attendance at chapel and spiritual emphasis weeks. Personal devotions and local church involvement are encouraged.

3. Scripture condemns such attitudes as greed, jealousy, pride, lust, needless anger, an unforgiving spirit, harmful discrimination and prejudice. Furthermore, certain behaviors are expressly prohibited by Scripture. These include theft, lying, cheating, plagiarism, gossip, slander, profanity, vulgarity, adultery, homosexual behavior, premarital or extramarital sex, sexual promiscuity, pornography, drunkenness, gluttony, immodesty and occult practices (Galatians 5:19-21, I Corinthians 6:9-10).

4. Scripture teaches that all our actions (work, study, play) should be performed to the glory of God. We endeavor, therefore, to be selective in the choices of clothes, entertainment and recreation, promoting those things which strengthen the body of Christ and avoiding those which would diminish sensitivity to Christian responsibility or promote sensual attitudes or conduct.

5. Since the body of the Christian is the temple of the Holy Spirit, it deserves respect and preservation of its well-being. Therefore, the use of alcohol, illegal drugs, tobacco in any form and the abuse of prescriptions and over-the-counter drugs violate our community standard.

Student Publications
Lee University student publications serve to inform, entertain and promote understanding among the various publics of the university community. They reflect the university’s mission and purpose and are in keeping with the doctrinal commitments of the sponsoring denomination. The Vindagua is the university yearbook. The Clarion is the campus newspaper. The Lee Review is the student literary magazine published each semester. All student publications are written, designed, edited and published by students under faculty supervision.

Student Housing

On-Campus
Lee University is primarily a residential campus and freshmen and sophomores are required to live in university housing.

Upon first entry to on-campus housing, students are required to pay a one-time $200 housing reservation deposit. Half of this deposit will be applied toward the cost of the first semester’s residence hall expense, and the other half will be held as a "roll-over" deposit. In subsequent semesters, this roll-over deposit, along with a residence hall application, will reserve the student’s residence hall assignment for the following semester. Residence Hall applications can be obtained by contacting the Office of Residential Life and Housing or visiting http://www.leeuniversity.edu/residential-life.

Should a new applicant cancel his/her application to Lee University, a request can be made for a refund of the housing reservation deposit. The request must be received in writing to the Office of Residential Life and Housing, thirty days prior to the first day of classes. Refunds will not be processed after this date.

Local freshmen and sophomores who wish to live off campus must live with their parents or an immediate relative, not including siblings who are also college students. Approval to live off-campus must be obtained by completing an off-campus application and submitting it to the Office of Residential Life and Housing. See “Off-Campus” for application deadlines.

Residence Hall assignments for new students
New students are assigned on a first-come, first-served basis, once the following criteria has been met:

1. acceptance to Lee University,
2. completion of a Residence Hall application, and
3. payment of the housing reservation deposit.

Room assignments within the residence hall are made by the Resident Director. Every effort is made to assign roommates based on written mutual request on the residence hall application. The university reserves the right to change residence hall assignments.

Residence Hall assignments for the fall semester are made in February, May and continue to be made through-out the summer months. Residence Hall assignments for the spring semester are made in December. Students will be notified by email of their assignment.

On Monday morning, following new student check in (first day of registration) students who have not checked into their residence hall, will lose their residence hall assignment, unless they have received permission for late arrival from the Office of Residential Life and Housing. Students who lose their assignment must contact the Office of Residential Life and Housing for their residence hall application and deposit to be reactivated. The residence hall assignment location will be based upon available spaces.

Residence Hall assignments for current students
To reserve a residence hall assignment for a new academic year, each student will need to complete the Advanced Housing Selection application and process.

Advanced Housing Selection
The Advanced Housing Selection process has two important steps that each student must complete in order to reserve their residence hall for the following year.

1. Complete the Advanced Housing Selection application and have the roll-over deposit on student account. To receive priority in residence hall selection this application must be submitted by the deadline (March) given by the Office of Residential Life and Housing. All students are required to attend a residence hall meeting to receive this information and the application.

2. Confirm their residence hall assignment by the deadline of June 15. Students will confirm by responding to an email they will receive at their LeeU email address. If students do not confirm their housing by June 15, they will be purged from their residence hall assignment. Students will then need to contact the Office of Residential Life and Housing to reapply for housing, which includes a new $100.00 housing deposit, in order to receive a residence hall assignment. Students will be assigned according to available spaces.

The roll-over deposit is no longer refundable upon cancellation of a confirmed assignment after June 15, which is also the deadline for students seeking off-campus approval.

Roll-Over Deposit

Upon completion of the final semester in Lee University housing, the student's roll-over deposit will be applied to the student's account as a credit. The deposit will be applied 60 days after classes begin the following semester.

Meal Plan Policy

Students with under 30 cumulative credit hours are required to participate in a university meal plan. If a student does not select a meal plan the default meal plan of 21 meals per week will be selected for the student’s use. Charges will be applied accordingly.

Possible exemptions of a meal plan are made only to those who have a specific medical condition that would not permit them to eat at any food service location on campus. To be considered for exemption, a signed physician’s medical note is required, as well as a signed letter from the management of the University’s food service, stating that the food requirements for the student cannot be met.

Married Student & Non-Traditional Housing

The university provides Carroll Courts for its married and non-traditional students. This apartment complex contains one and two-bedroom units. Applications for Carroll Courts are available by contacting the Office of Residential Life and Housing. Rent includes utilities. Laundry facilities are available at the apartment complex.

Off-Campus

Students who wish to live off-campus must submit an off-campus application and meet one of the criteria listed below. Students must submit an Off-Campus Application to the Office of Residential Life and Housing by the appointed deadline for each semester.

1. Local student (student living with immediate relative in Cleveland or immediate surrounding area).
2. Student who is married.
3. Student who is 21 years of age or older as of the date of the first day of classes.
4. Student who is enrolled for less than 12 credit hours.
5. Student who has lived on campus for at least four semesters (not including summer school).
6. Student who has completed 60 credit hours (not including Summer Honors, dual enrollment, or AP credit), is not on chapel or social probation and has at least a 2.0 GPA.
7. Student who is enrolled in a graduate program.

Students who have accountability hours or are on chapel/academic probation will not be approved to move off campus. Additionally, students who have already been approved but display a disregard for the lifestyle expectations of the university can be required to move back on campus.

Counseling Center

Counseling

The Counseling Center offers short-term personal counseling and psychological services to Lee University students and is staffed by licensed mental health practitioners and their supervisees. Therapeutic modalities include individual, group, couples, and family counseling. Counseling Center therapists provide assistance and support for students who wish to address a variety of issues such as depression, anxiety, sexual trauma, self-esteem, relational conflicts, family of origin concerns, experience(s) of abuse, spirituality, and sexuality. Staff members are also available to students, faculty, and staff for consultation and/or outreach programming on a wide variety of topics. Services are free of charge and confidential. For issues requiring long-term psychological care, students may be referred to outside providers. Medication consultations with a contract psychiatrist and/or psychiatric nurse practitioner are available on a limited basis to students who are actively involved in counseling. The Counseling Center also serves as a training site for masters-level interns. For more information about any of the Counseling Center’s services, please call 423-614-8415 or visit www.leeuniversity.edu/counseling.

Leonard Center

The purpose of the Leonard Center is to prepare students for citizenship as Christians in the world through reflective community interactions and by teaching commitment to the ideals of service, benevolence, civic virtue, and social justice.

Service-Learning is part of the academic requirement at Lee University. Students are required to participate in the equivalency of 10 service-learning hours for each semester they attend Lee University (up to 8 semesters). For every 10 hours served, students will earn .25 credit hours. In a four-year program, 80 hours of service-learning convert to 2.0 credit hours of your religion minor. Transfer students enrolled at Lee University will be required to complete the equivalency of 10 service-learning hours for every semester they are at Lee University (up to 80 hours). For every 10 hours completed outside of a service-enhanced course, a two-page critical reflection paper must be submitted with proper documentation of service to the Leonard Center.

Lee University encourages and values all types of Christian service inside and outside of the church. However, only certain types of service may be counted toward the graduation Service-Learning requirement of 80 hours. Students should consult the Leonard Center for approval of individually arranged projects before participating in the project. The Leonard Center is located on Parker Street, directly across from the McKenzie Athletic Training Facility.
Undergraduate Admissions

Admission to Lee University is based on evidence that the applicant possesses the qualities needed for satisfactory achievement in terms of character, ability, academic foundation, purpose and personality. The university admits students regardless of race, color, national origin, religious preference or disability.

To be eligible for admission the applicant must have graduated from an approved high school or satisfactorily completed the GED test. All persons who register at Lee University are required to file an application. Acceptance of students is based upon discernable qualities and potential without reference to any perceived notion of an ideal class.

Procedure
Application forms are mailed on request to all prospective students or can be obtained from our website, www.leeuniversity.edu. All students expecting to enroll at Lee University for the first time must submit the following:

1. An application for admission on a form provided by the university.
2. An official high school transcript mailed directly from the high school. All students must graduate with a 2.0 GPA, and a composite score of 17 or above on the American College Test (ACT) or 860 (Math and Critical Reasoning only) or above on the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT). Students transferring with more than 15 semester hours are not required to furnish a high school transcript. Students who are Tennessee residents and transferring 24 or more semester hours will not be required to furnish a high school transcript.
3. An official test score report from ACT or SAT. (Applicants are not required to take the new writing component of these exams.) Transfer students with more than 15 semester hours are not required to submit ACT or SAT test scores. Students who are Tennessee residents and transferring 24 or more semester hours will not be required to furnish test scores. Applicants who have not already taken the entrance examination (ACT or SAT) will be required to take it prior to acceptance. The ACT/SAT should be taken on a national test date. Exceptions to this policy may be forwarded to the Vice President for Enrollment for consideration. To be eligible for Academic Scholarships, ACT/SAT exams must be taken on a national test date.
4. An advance matriculation fee of $25 (not refundable). The matriculation fee may be applied to the account of the student for a period of two semesters following the date of payment.
5. An advance housing fee of $200. (This is refundable up to 30 days prior to registration.)
6. Any applicant born after January 1, 1957, must provide documented proof of receiving two MMR (measles, mumps, rubella) vaccinations after 12 months of age. (Submitted after acceptance.)

When the above requirements have been fulfilled, a student will be notified of his/her acceptance or rejection by the Office of Admissions. The university may refuse admission and registration to students not meeting the minimum requirements or may admit them on probation for limited work. Admissions policies are reviewed annually by the Admissions Committee.

GED Equivalency Certification
Applicants who have not completed high school will be required to take the General Education Development test. These tests cover English, natural science, social sciences, literature and mathematics. The tests are given in many major cities throughout the nation. One may apply for admission with an average score of 450 or above.

Advanced Academic Work for Credit
Superior students with advanced work in high school are encouraged to work at more advanced academic levels. All university academic credit will be granted on the basis of acceptable documentation under the following conditions:

1. At least one semester of work (12 semester hours) must be completed at Lee University before credit earned by testing will be included on the transcript.
2. Credit earned by testing will be designated on the transcript by a grade of "P" (Pass).
3. A maximum of 32 semester hours can be earned by advanced testing.

Advanced Placement (AP Courses)
The university recognizes the validity of Advanced Placement Tests of the College Entrance Examination Board and awards credit. Lee will accept a score of three or above on AP exams for all categories except Music Theory and Statistics, which require at least a score of four. Students should request that original documentation (courses/scores) directly from the College Board be submitted to the Office of Records for evaluation at the time of application for admission to Lee. It is critical that these scores be sent to Lee as quickly as possible for placement purposes. (See corresponding chart in this section for pre-approved course/credit details.)

Cambridge International Exams (CIE)/University of Cambridge
The university recognizes the excellence of the CIE program and awards university credit. The student should request that original documentation (courses/scores) directly from CIE be submitted to the Office of Records for evaluation at the time of application for admission to Lee. It is critical that these scores be sent to Lee as quickly as possible for placement purposes. (See corresponding chart in this section for pre-approved credit details.)

College Level Examination Program (CLEP)
The university awards academic credit for select CLEP courses. Students should request that original documentation (courses/scores) directly from the College Board be submitted to the Office of Records for evaluation at the time of application for admission to Lee. It is critical that these scores be sent to Lee as quickly as possible for placement purposes. (See corresponding chart in this section for pre-approved course/credit details.)

International Baccalaureate Programme (IBP)
The university recognizes and awards academic credit for IBP coursework. The student should request that original documentation (courses/scores) directly from IBP be submitted to the Office of Records for evaluation at the time of application for admission to Lee. It is critical that these scores be sent to Lee as quickly as possible for placement purposes.

NOTE: If a student has a question regarding a course for the above-mentioned programs (AP, CIE, CLEP, IBP), the student should personally contact the Dean of the Department in which the course is located to discuss the course in question. (See the listing of Departmental Deans at the back of the university catalog.)
United States Armed Forces Institute (USAFI) Credits

Original transcripts containing college credits acquired through USAFI should be submitted directly from the testing agency to the Office of Admissions at the time of application for admission to Lee. It is critical that these scores be sent to Lee as quickly as possible for course placement purposes. Transcripts will be reviewed to determine the number of hours and specific courses acceptable for university credit.

Early Admission
Early admission to the university may, under strict conditions, be granted to students before graduation from high school. The student applies for early admission with the advice and approval of his/her principal and guidance counselor. To be eligible for this early admission program, the student must have a minimum 3.5 high school grade point average and must score at least 22 on the ACT or 1070 (Math and Critical Reasoning only) on the SAT. A letter of recommendation from the parents and high school principal must accompany an application for early admission.

Dual Enrollment
The Lee University High School Dual Enrollment Program's purpose is to provide local high school students a means of beginning their college careers while simultaneously earning high school credits. Students must be high school juniors or seniors with a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher and have an ACT score of 19 or higher in the subject to be taken (if applicable). They must also complete an admissions application and provide approval from a parent or guardian and high school principal or counselor. Grades are provided upon completion of college classes to the respective high school guidance counselors. The dual enrollment cost per credit hour is $107.

Probationary Admission
Applicants who are accepted as first-time freshmen whose high school grade point average is below C (2.0) or with an ACT score lower than 17 are accepted on probationary status. Such persons will normally be limited to a 12-14 hour course load and may be required to enroll in special sections for the first semester. Enrollment of such students at the university will serve as proof of each student's acceptance of his/her probationary status.

Transfer students who have earned more than 15 semester hours with a grade point average less than 2.0 will be accepted on academic probation.

Readmission
Students who are in good standing will be eligible for readmission. However, readmission after suspension is never automatic. The student must apply for readmission and be approved by the Admissions Committee. Any student who is suspended for academic reasons is ineligible to apply for readmission until one full semester has elapsed. The summer session is not considered a semester. Readmission requires new application and a written letter explaining the reason for returning to Lee. Application fees are required at the time of application.

Test Requirements
All freshmen are required to submit scores on the American College Test (ACT) or Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT). High schools should have registration forms for these tests. If these registration forms are not available in your high school they may be obtained on the Internet at www.act.org or www.collegeboard.com, or by calling ACT at (319) 337-1270 or SAT at (609) 771-7600. The registration form is accompanied by a Student Information Bulletin which describes the test, gives the dates and places for test administration, and the procedures for registration. Test centers are located throughout the United States and tests are administered on five specific dates established in advance by the testing service each year. Scores are reported to colleges and universities as requested by the student.

Applicants are advised to take the ACT or SAT as early as possible in the junior or senior year of high school. Test results are used as an aid in predicting the applicant's potential for a successful college career, financial aid opportunities and as a basis for planning the student's program of studies. Registration for ACT or SAT should be made at least one month in advance of the test date. (Applicants are not required to take the new writing component of these exams.)

Placement Testing
In order to effectively place entering students in certain courses, we require some students to take additional placement tests prior to enrollment. These tests help to determine which students may need additional help in the areas of reading or mathematics.

Nelson-Denny Reading Test
Students with the following scores are required to take this test: ACT English sub-score of 12 or below; SAT Verbal sub-score of 330 or below. Students scoring below the 11th-grade level on the Nelson-Denny Reading Test will be required to take READ-101 during the first semester at Lee University. This course carries two hours elective credit.

Math Placement Test
Students with the following scores are required to take this test: ACT Math sub-score 17 and below; SAT Math sub-score 439 and below. Transfer students who are not required to submit ACT or SAT scores prior to admission will be required to take the Math Placement test unless transferring a college-level math class from another institution.

Music Major Auditions
All students who wish to major in music must be formally accepted into the School of Music by audition in addition to acceptance to the university. Students must contact the School of Music to schedule an audition during Frontline, Lee Day, Music Camp or at the beginning of a semester. In addition to an audition on the principal instrument/voice, each student must take a piano proficiency exam and music theory placement exam.

International Student Admission
Qualified international students are considered for admission as freshmen and transfer students. Applicants with a native language other than English are required to submit scores earned on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL), designed to ascertain proficiency in English and administered in many overseas testing centers. Students who wish to take the test should write directly to: TOEFL, Educational Testing Service, P.O. Box 6151, Princeton, New Jersey 08541. For further information, go to www.toefl.org. The SAT or ACT are accepted in place of the TOEFL.

All international applicants must submit official transcripts from all previous colleges and/or secondary schools. An estimate of expenses and Sponsor’s Guarantee Form must be submitted with the application. These forms are available upon request. All these must be received and approved before a student can be accepted to Lee University and issued an I-20 form.

An international advisor works with all students in matters relating to admission and residency at Lee. Arrangements can be made for meeting a student upon arrival provided complete information is sent in advance to the Vice President for Enrollment.

In order for the transfer work of international students to be applied to the Lee transcript, the transcript from the previous educational institution(s) must be evaluated by World Education Services (WES). Information concerning submitting a transcript for review can be found at www.wes.org. The cost of this service is the responsibility of the student. If the transcript has not yet been evaluated by WES upon arrival at Lee for registration, an advisor will place the student in courses deemed appropriate. Upon Lee's receipt of the WES evaluation, the student's placement will be re-evaluated if during the registration period. If received after the registration period, the student will remain in the class as placed.

Full Course of Study Requirement for International Students

Immigration regulations require students in F-1 status to complete a full course of study during each fall and spring semester. Students are not required to register for classes during the summer session. A full course of study for an undergraduate student is at least 12 semester hours. All students must complete General Education core classes including a minor in Religion.

Veterans and Dependents of Veterans

Lee University is approved for veterans and dependents of disabled or deceased veterans under existing public laws. Eligible persons should contact the Veterans Administration regional office of the state in which they maintain a permanent residence. One must have authorization for VA or vocational rehabilitation training before registering. If in doubt about the procedure, check with your local VA office (800-827-1000 or 888-442-4551). All questions concerning VA benefits at Lee University should be put in writing and sent to the Vice President for Enrollment. Transcripts containing college credits acquired through USAFI courses and the College Level Examination Program (CLEP tests) or through colleges in the various branches of the military should be submitted with application. The transcript will be reviewed by the Registrar to determine the number of hours and the specific courses that are acceptable.

Transfer Student Admission

A student from an accredited college or university will be admitted without examination, provided he/she withdrew in good standing and has completed at least 16 hours of college work. Transfer applicants must present an official transcript showing evidence of at least a 2.0 average in all academic work previously taken. If the student has fewer than 16 hours, he/she will be required to submit ACT or SAT scores and a high school transcript. The student should request that ACT or SAT scores and transcript be sent to the Admissions Office. Transfer students who have less than a 2.0 grade point average can be accepted on academic probation.

Students who are Tennessee residents that are transferring fewer than 24 semester hours are required to furnish a high school transcript and ACT or SAT scores.

An official transcript must be sent from each institution attended, regardless of whether credit was earned or is desired. A student who fails to acknowledge attendance in any college or university where he/she has been previously registered is subject to dismissal from Lee University.

The Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) has authorized each institution to review and decide for itself how much, if any, credit will be accepted from other educational institutions. Therefore, Lee University has adopted the following policy regarding the review process for transfer work from post-secondary schools that are accredited, non-accredited and outside the United States.

Transfer of credit shall not be denied solely on the basis of the agency or association that accredited such other institution of higher education if that agency or association is recognized by the Secretary of the Department of Education pursuant to Section 496 to be a reliable authority as to the quality of the education or training offered. Transfer of credit is the result of an academic review process which may include the registrar, the dean and/or chair of respective departments and the Vice-President for Academic Affairs and Enrollment. Requests for transcript review will be submitted to the university registrar in a timely manner. During non-registration periods, at least one week will be allowed for review. However, during peak registration periods, at least two weeks will be allowed for the complete review process. Furthermore, if transcripts from multiple institutions are being reviewed, original transcripts from each institution will be required and all coursework will be reviewed separately and individually. No credit or transcripts from Lee will be issued until all previous transcripts are on file in the Office of Records.

A student in good standing at an accredited college or university who wishes to enroll in the summer term only may be considered for admission as a non-matriculated (transient) student. Such admission will terminate at the end of the summer term and does not presuppose acceptance by the university. A non-matriculated student may submit, in lieu of official transcripts of college credits, a statement of good standing from the Dean or Registrar of the last school attended. This statement must include the total number of semester or quarter hours previously earned.

All work from previous schools is reviewed and evaluated for acceptance. The cumulative grade point average includes credit hours attempted on all accepted courses.

Except in special cases, any student who has failed in another institution and who cannot remain in that institution will not be admitted to Lee University.

Removal of entrance conditions must be accomplished by the end of the first year.

Credit may be awarded for prior learning at an unaccredited institution provided Lee University has sufficient evidence of the quality of the prior learning experiences. Such credit will be placed on the Lee transcript only after the successful completion of a semester at Lee and will be subject to an evaluation of the appropriate application of such prior learning credits to the specific program of studies chosen by the transfer student.

All of the courses completed at an accredited junior college by a transfer applicant may be accepted provided the courses are submitted at the time of the original application. A junior college graduate, however, must complete a minimum of 60 additional hours at a senior level institution with the last 33 hours required to be taken in residence at Lee.

Once a student has reached junior status at Lee University he/she must have special prior approval to take any courses at a two-year college to be transferred toward a degree program at Lee.

From Accredited Institutions

For schools accredited by agencies recognized by the Council for Higher Education and Accreditation (CHEA) or the Secretary of the Department of Education, Lee University will review and accept all coursework and the corresponding letter grade earned for courses which are comparable to those offered by Lee. For courses for which Lee does not offer an equivalent, credit for related electives will be considered. A review committee which may consist of the registrar, respective deans/chairs and the Vice-President for Academic Affairs will make the final decision on credit awarded. If accreditation cannot be established, the transcript will be treated as if from a non-accredited institution.

From Non-Accredited Institutions

For schools in which accreditation cannot be established, Lee reserves the right to examine coursework requested to be transferred to the Lee transcript. Each transcript will be considered individually and separately. Letter grades will not be given; only pass-fail status will be recorded on the transcript. Documentation required for transcript review is the following: (1) original transcript, (2) a school catalog (for course comparison), (3) a description of faculty credentials (if not included in the catalog), (4) proof that the school is post-high school, (5) a research means, such as web-site and/or phone number. Securing this documentation is the responsibility of the student. If the above criteria are met, a review committee which may be composed of the respective deans/chairs in conjunction with the Vice Presidents for Academic Affairs and Administration will make the final decision as to whether transfer work is accepted and how much credit is awarded.

From Institutions Outside the United States
Grading systems and coursework vary greatly outside the United States. Therefore, in order for international transfer students to receive full credit for their post-high school educational experience, they will be required to submit all transcripts from international education institutions to World Education Services (WES) for credit review for a course-by-course academic credit evaluation. The fee for this service is the responsibility of the student requesting the services. Instructions for submitting a transcript for review can be found at www.wes.org. This website provides specific submission instructions for each country. The transfer work will not be added to the Lee transcript until the official academic credit report is received from WES. Lee University reserves the right to further review all courses that are being transferred to Lee. International transfer credits with a WES evaluation will be recorded on the Lee transcript with letter grades as reported by the WES analysis. International transfer credits without a WES Evaluation will be recorded with a pass-fail status (if the courses are deemed transferrable to the Lee transcript). Therefore, academic qualifications of new international transfer students may be reviewed in order to determine if they qualify for the Lee University Honor Scholarship. The Honor Scholarship is awarded to any transfer applicant or returning undergraduate student who has passed a minimum of 30 semester hours, whose cumulative GPA is at least 3.70, and who is currently enrolled as a full-time undergraduate student.

Associate of Arts/Associate of Science Transfer Agreement
Any student entering Lee University for the first time in Fall 2009 or later is eligible to be considered for the A.A./A.S. Transfer Agreement. Under this agreement, any student who has completed an Associate of Arts or Associate of Science degree from an accredited post-secondary institution will be considered to have met all general education requirements at Lee University, with the following exceptions:

1. Students will be required to take one religion course each semester for up to 4 semesters. [The student teaching semester for education majors will be excluded.] This includes the capstone course which is offered within the discipline.

2. Students will be required to complete 10 clock hours of service for each non-summer semester they are enrolled at Lee up to 40 hours.

3. Students will be required to complete the Global Perspectives Requirements of ANTH-200 Global Perspectives Seminar and either GNST-251/2/3 (a study abroad experience offered through Lee) or GNST-250 (an individually arranged and approved experience).

4. Students will be required to complete any pre-requisites for upper-division courses.

5. Students enrolled in Bachelor of Arts (.BA) academic programs will be required to complete the Foreign Language requirement of two semesters at the intermediate level or higher. The intermediate level is the 200-level for French, Spanish, and Chinese, and the 300-level for Greek.

6. Students enrolled in teacher licensure programs (.BST, .BAT, .BME) will be required to complete all courses necessary to meet state licensure standards, even if some of those courses are general education requirements that would otherwise be waived for students in non-licensure degree programs who have completed an Associate of Arts or Associate of Science degree.

NOTE: This agreement does not apply to students who have been awarded the Associate of Applied Science (A.A.S.) degree.

Transfer Agreements with Other Institutions
Lee University has entered into transfer articulation agreements with the following institutions and organizations: Cleveland State Community College (TN), Chattanooga State Community College (TN), Church of God School of Ministry (TN), SIAS University (China), and The National Academy Foundation (NY). Students planning to transfer to Lee University from these institutions should contact the Director of Academic Services for details about course equivalencies.

Lee University has also entered into collaborative study agreements with The University of Strasbourg (France), Tokyo Christian University (Japan), and other institutions and organizations associated with the Council of Christian Colleges and Universities (CCCU). Further information concerning collaborative study agreements is available from the Office of Special Academic Projects or the Office of Academic Services.

Non-Degree Seeking Student Admission
Under certain circumstances an applicant over twenty-one years of age and not qualified for admission may be admitted as a special student by permission of the Vice President for Enrollment.

Statements of Compliance
Lee University, in compliance with Title VI and VII of the Civil Rights Acts of 1961 and Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972, does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, gender, age, disability, status as a veteran, or any other characteristic protected by law in any of its policies, practices or procedures. The Vice President for Student Life is the campus coordinating officer for Title IX and all inquiries should be made to the Office of Student Life.

In compliance with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Lee University does not discriminate on the basis of disability in the recruitment and admission of students, or in the operation of any of its programs and activities, as specified by federal laws and regulations. Persons with questions about the Rehabilitation Act may contact the Office of Academic Support Programs.

Lee University complies with the provisions of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974. This Act assures students attending a post-secondary educational institution that they will have the right to inspect and review certain of their educational records and, by following the guidelines provided by the university, to correct inaccurate or misleading data through informal or formal hearings. It protects students’ rights to privacy by limiting transfer of these records without their consent, except in specific circumstances. Students also have the right to file complaints with the Family Policy Compliance Office; U.S. Department of Education; 440 Maryland Avenue S.W.; Washington, D.C. 20202-4605. Information concerning this legislation is available via the web at www.ed.gov and from the Lee University Office of Records. A

Discounts
In those cases where more than one member of an immediate household is registered full time (at least 12 hours), a 25% discount on the lesser tuition is permitted for each additional student after the first. Please notify the Office of Student Financial Services at the beginning of each semester in order to be assured of receiving the discount. This policy does not include married children or students considered independent for financial aid purposes.

Settlement of Accounts
Students should be prepared to pay full semester charges on or before registration. Money may be submitted in advance to the Student Financial Services Office. This payment will facilitate registration. On-campus students are required to pay $4,220 and part-time or off-campus students are required to pay forty five percent down on or before registration according to the deferred payment plan. Students who are unable to pay their accounts in full must either borrow the necessary funds or enroll in the university’s deferred payment plan. Parents and students who will have difficulty paying the full charges within the semester are encouraged to make advance arrangements for borrowing the needed funds. The university also offers Visa, MasterCard, Discover and American Express services by which students may pay on their accounts.

Deferred Payment Plan
Any full-time, on-campus student desiring to participate in the university’s deferred payment plan is required to pay $4,220 down at registration and the balance of the semester charges in two equal payments on the dates mentioned below. Any part-time student or off-campus student desiring to participate in the deferred payment plan is required to pay forty five percent of the total charges at registration and the balance of semester charges in two equal monthly payments on the dates mentioned below. The same financial requirements apply to veterans and others in cases when money is not sent directly to Lee University. In all cases, when the student does not have the down payment, a commitment letter is required from those underwriting the student’s account. Students enrolling in the deferred payment plan will be charged a $75 fee for this service. This fee will apply to all students owing a balance in excess of $500 at the completion of registration.

Fall Semester
Full-time, on-campus students must pay $4,220 at registration; off-campus and part-time students must pay forty five percent of their total charges. The balance must be paid as follows:

- First payment by September 30
- Final payment by October 31

Spring Semester
The same down payment ($4,220) is required at registration. (Off-campus and part-time students must pay forty five percent of their total charges.) The balance must be paid as follows:

- First payment by February 28
- Final payment by March 31

A bill will be sent to the student’s permanent address (unless otherwise indicated) each month. However, the student is still responsible for timely payments, even if a bill is not received. If payment is not made on the due date, a $25 late fee will be assessed.

Deferred Payment Plan for Summer School
Ordinarily students are required to pay the full charges for all terms at registration. However, those unable to pay the full amount may defer up to 50% of the charges for a maximum of 30 days. Students delaying registration for second term must pay an additional registration fee of $25. Students enrolling in the deferred payment plan will be charged a $75 fee for this service. This fee will apply to all students owing a balance in excess of $500 at the completion of registration.

Refund Policy
No reduction of charges will be granted unless application is made within two weeks of any change in program or departure of the student. STUDENTS WHO WITHDRAW FROM THE UNIVERSITY AFTER THE FIFTH WEEK OF CLASSES WILL RECEIVE NO ADJUSTMENT ON TUITION, FEES, AND ROOM. Those whose study is interrupted by the university for discipline reasons will receive no adjustment on tuition, fees, and room after the fifth week of classes. When a student withdraws from the university or moves out of on-campus housing, his or her ROOM CHARGES WILL BE ADJUSTED ON THE SAME SCHEDULE AS TUITION AND FEES. Board charges will be prorated from the date of withdrawal. If a student withdraws during a semester and requests a refund of advanced payments, the following rules will determine the amount of adjustment, provided the student withdraws formally through the Office of Student Life.

1. Board will be adjusted by the full amount unused at the date of withdrawal.
2. Tuition, fees, and room, with the exception of matriculation and registration fees, will be adjusted on the following percentages:
   - During first two weeks of semester: 80%
   - During third week of semester: 60%
   - During fourth week of semester: 40%
   - During fifth week of semester: 20%
   - After fifth week of semester: No Adjustment

3. NO REFUND ON MATRICULATION FEE, REGISTRATION FEE OR LATE REGISTRATION FEE.
4. No person who registers as a full-time student and is later permitted to drop enough courses to place him/her in the classification of a part-time student will be entitled to an adjustment or prorated tuition after the fifth week.
5. Mandatory refunds and repayments to Federal Title IV student financial aid programs will be calculated based upon earned and unearned aid percentages as outlined by the Federal Government. The formula for such calculations is based on the number of days in a given semester and the number of days attendance completed by the student prior to his/her withdrawal. Refunds mandated by the calculation could possibly increase the amount a student must pay after he/she withdraws from school. Please refer to “Return of Federal Title IV Financial Aid Policy” in the Undergrad Financial Aid section.

Refund Policy for Summer School
1. Withdrawals during the first week of classes will receive 50% credit on tuition and room. THERE IS NO REFUND AFTER THE FIRST WEEK.
2. There is no refund for Registration Fee or Late Registration Fee. Refund for board will be prorated by the week.
3. If you register for both terms and withdraw prior to the beginning of the second term, you will receive full refund for the second term.

Accounts must be paid prior to final examinations. Written commitments for aid from Lee University or other sources are the only substitutes for the required down payment. Therefore, students should assume responsibility for applying for aid in advance and for seeing that the proper letters or cash arrive at the Student Financial Services Office by registration day.

While we recognize the problems involved in increasing costs to the student, education with a Christian emphasis is the greatest personal investment available today. The university will assist students in every way possible to finance their education. If you need financial assistance, please check with our Office of Student Financial Aid.

Accounts with the school must be settled in full before a diploma or a transcript of credits is issued or a letter of honorable dismissal is granted. ACCOUNTS MUST BE PAID BEFORE FINAL EXAMINATIONS ARE TAKEN. NO STUDENT WILL BE ALLOWED TO GRADUATE UNTIL HIS/HER ACCOUNT IS PAID IN FULL.

Undergraduate Financial Aid

Undergraduate Financial Aid

Lee University offers a wide variety of financial aid to eligible students, including endowment scholarships, federal and state grants, loans, employment opportunities and private scholarships, as well as a combination of these programs. Since a large portion of Lee University’s resources for financial aid is tied to federal funding, it is required that eligibility or need be established as an initial step in applying for financial aid.

To determine need, the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) MUST BE FILED through the Federal Processor. This will allow a student to be considered for the range of financial aid options available through the Lee University Financial Aid Office. All information must be received by Lee University before March 15 to be included in the priority group. To expedite the process, file a FAFSA online at www.fafsa.gov.

Rights and Responsibilities of Financial Aid Recipients

Along with the monetary awards received by individual students, there are certain other rights and responsibilities to be observed:

1. Financial aid recipients must be enrolled at least half-time in a degree program. In certain cases, students who are less than half-time may be eligible for the Pell Grant.

2. Any changes in Federal Work-Study (FWS) placement (or number of hours awarded, etc.) MUST be cleared through the Financial Aid Office prior to changes taking place. Students must have all documents completed and submitted to the Financial Aid Office prior to beginning work. A completed contract, I-9 and W-4 are required prior to working.

3. All loan recipients must assume repayment responsibility upon leaving school. Prior to graduation (or withdrawal), an exit interview should be scheduled to ensure full understanding of loan terms and repayment provisions (including deferment options).

4. Financial aid recipients are expected to maintain satisfactory academic progress for continuation of aid.

5. Students anticipating funds from sources other than the Financial Aid Office should notify the office as soon as an award is made. This includes scholarships, loans, etc. Certain aid may be reduced if total aid exceeds the cost of attendance.

6. Students planning to withdraw or drop any course work must notify the Financial Aid Office prior to doing so. Students may be asked to repay part or all of any aid received.

7. Students must re-apply for financial aid each year by submitting the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The annual re-applying priority deadline is March 15 for fall enrollment.

8. The Financial Aid Office will process financial aid requests without regard to race, religious affiliation, gender, age, or disability. All funds are subject to individual student need as well as to the availability of funds.

9. Financial aid recipients must maintain good standing within the university community. The Financial Aid Office reserves the right (on behalf of Lee University) to review and cancel any financial aid award in the event of academic, financial or disciplinary misconduct on the part of the recipient.

10. Students who have been on chapel probation for three or more consecutive months and are on chapel probation at the end of the semester will forfeit any university-funded scholarships for which they would have otherwise qualified during the following semester.

11. Students are only eligible to apply Lee University scholarships or tuition discounts toward a maximum of two Lee University off-campus study programs.

12. Off-campus study programs that are directly sponsored by Lee University and led by Lee University faculty are the only study programs eligible for institutionally-funded aid.

14. The Financial Aid Office should at all times have a local phone number and address at which students can be reached.

15. If family/individual situations change during the school year, the Financial Aid Office should be notified. You may qualify for special conditions revision.

Consumer Information
In accordance with the Higher Education Opportunity Act of 2008 (HEOA) consumer information is made available on the Lee University website at http://www.leeuniversity.edu/about/consumer-info.aspx

Disbursement of Aid
Financial aid payments to student accounts will begin no earlier than the first day of class. Typically, funds are posted to the student’s account by an electronic means. Due to the volume at the beginning of each semester, it may take up to 2-3 weeks for initial payments or when the funds are released from their originating source. State grants typically arrive mid-semester. Some aid such as Employee Discount and Family Tuition Discount are paid after the drop/add period.

Incomplete files may delay payment of funds. Students should be prepared to cover personal expenses until all aid is disbursed.

Home-Schooled Students
Under the student eligibility provisions of section 484(d)(3) of the Higher Education Act, a student who does not have a high school diploma or GED is eligible to receive Title IV, HEA program assistance if the student “completes a secondary school education in a home-school setting that is treated as a home-school or private school under State law.” Section 484(d)(3) imposes no age limitation on the eligibility of homeschooled students.

An “underage” home-schooled student is considered to be “beyond the age of compulsory school attendance in the State in which the institution is located,” if that State does not consider that student truant once he or she has completed a home-school program; or would not require the student to attend school or continue to be home-schooled.

Global Perspectives
Hours earned from participation in a Lee University sponsored study trip may be considered toward hours enrolled for purposes of applying for federal student financial aid.

Hours earned from participation in an individually Arranged Cross-Cultural trip can only be considered if the attending institution completes a Contractual Agreement. For more information, please see the Director of Financial Aid.

Professional Judgment
If you have any unusual family or financial circumstances you feel have not been reflected properly in the determination of your financial need, you are encouraged to contact us. These unusual circumstances may include one or more of the following: loss of job, change in income, divorce, death, and/or private elementary or secondary education costs. If you have additional educational costs that exceed the university’s published cost of attendance, such as child care, computer purchase, study abroad, or additional tuition charges, please contact the Financial Aid Office.

Federal Financial Aid Programs
You must submit the FAFSA application to be considered for these federal aid programs. The FAFSA can be submitted online at www.FAFSA.gov Some aid programs are designated for particular types of students (i.e. undergraduate, graduate, professional) and level of federal need.

Federal Pell Grant Program
This program, previously known as the Basic Educational Opportunity Grant, was established under the Higher Education Act of 1972 and was implemented during the 1973-1974 academic year.

IMPORTANT NOTE: The amount of the student’s award is based on the student's eligibility index, the cost of attendance, and a payment schedule issued to Lee University from the U.S. Department of Education. The applicant must submit a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). This program is restricted to U.S. citizens, or those in the U.S. for other than temporary purposes, who are undergraduates maintaining satisfactory academic progress.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant Program
Grants ranging from $100 to $500 a year are awarded to students with exceptional financial need who for lack of financial means would not be able to attend college. Supplemental Grants are restricted to undergraduates. A FSEOG may be received through the period required for degree completion.

Federal Work-Study Program
This is a federal aid program administered by Lee University which provides part-time employment on campus for a limited number of students with demonstrated need. Some positions are available through the Community Service Learning Program. Each student worker is normally employed for 10 hours a week at the current minimum wage rate. Students are paid bi-monthly. A completed contract, I-9, and W-4 must be completed before starting work.

It is the responsibility of the student to secure a job on-campus. There is an on campus listing to assist the student in finding a work study position at http://www.leeuniversity.edu/student-employment.

Federal TEACH Grant / Loan Information
Teacher Education Assistance for College and Higher Education (TEACH) Grant
The Department of Education’s TEACH Grant Program provides funds to postsecondary students who are completing or plan to complete coursework that is needed to begin a career in teaching, and who agree to serve for at least four years as a full-time, highly qualified teacher in a high-need field, in a school serving low-income students. Eligible full-time students may receive $4,000 per year in TEACH Grant funds, up to a maximum of $16,000 for undergraduate and post baccalaureate study, and $8,000 for graduate study.

If you receive a TEACH Grant but do not complete the required four years of teaching service within eight years after completing the coursework for which you received the grant, or if you otherwise do not meet the requirements of the TEACH Grant Program, all TEACH Grant funds that you received will be converted to a Federal Direct Unsubsidized Stafford Loan that you must repay in full, with interest, dating back to the original disbursement date, to the Department of Education. Once a TEACH Grant is converted to a loan, it cannot be converted back to a grant.

Federal Perkins Loan Program
Perkins Loans are available to students who are enrolled on at least a half-time basis (6 semester hours) and who demonstrate a financial need. Subject to the availability of funds, an eligible undergraduate may borrow up to $2,000 per academic year or a maximum of $15,000 in undergraduate studies. While the borrower is at least a half-time student, there is no repayment of the loan and no interest accrues. Repayment of the loan begins nine months after graduation or termination of studies. The interest rate is five percent on the unpaid balance. However, deferments extending the repayment period may be made for a member of the armed forces of the United States, a volunteer under the Peace Corps, a member of VISTA or a full-time law enforcement officer.

Federal Direct Student Loan Program
To apply for a loan, you must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). You also need to complete a Master Promissory Note and Loan Entrance Counseling if you are a first time borrower at Lee. Repayment on the loan is made to the Department of Education and payments begin 6 months after the student graduates, leaves school, or drops below half time (Half time is 6 hours for undergraduate or 5 hours for graduate). The amount of repayments depends upon the size of the debt, but at least $600 per year must be paid. Deferment from repayment is granted for up to three years while a borrower serves in the Armed Forces, Peace Corps, VISTA or while enrolled full-time. Information and application forms are available from http://www.leeuniversity.edu/financial-aid.

(Sub Portion should not exceed $23000)
Graduate and Professional Loan Limits=$138,500 (no more than $65,500 can be subsidized)

Direct Subsidized Loan
The subsidized loan is a need-based loan. The maximum amount which may be borrowed per year is $3,500 for freshmen, $4,500 for sophomores, and $5,500 for juniors and seniors. The results of your FAFSA determine your eligibility for this loan. The total amount which may be borrowed for undergraduate study is $23,000.

Direct Unsubsidized Loan
A new federal law called the Higher Education Amendment of 1992 created a new program of Federal Unsubsidized Loans for students who do not qualify, in whole or in part, for Federal Subsidized Loans. The terms of the unsubsidized loan are the same as the terms for subsidized Federal Direct Loans, except that the federal government does not pay interest on the student’s behalf. Monthly or quarterly interest payments may be made during the time of enrollment in school, during the grace period or during any period of deferment or repayment.

Federal Loan Borrowers Rights and Responsibilities
Rights and responsibilities for Federal Loan Borrowers can be obtained with the consumer information, Student Loan Information, on the Lee University website at http://www.leeuniversity.edu/about.

Loan Entrance Counseling
Federal regulations require all students who participate in one of the Federal Student Loan programs to complete Loan Entrance Counseling. The purpose is to provide loan information to students who anticipate receiving a Federal Student Loan. All first-time borrowers at Lee University are required to complete Loan Entrance Counseling prior to receiving the first disbursement of their loan. This requirement may be fulfilled online at www.studentloans.gov.

Loan Exit Interview
Federal regulations require all students who participate in one of the Student Loan programs to attend an Exit Interview conducted by the Financial Aid Office. The purpose of the Exit Interview is to review loan history and repayment terms with each student borrower. The Exit Interview is required for graduation and must be completed before a diploma will be issued.
Federal Plus Loan Program
The Federal Parent Loan for Undergraduate Student Program (PLUS) enables parents to borrow a non-deferred loan for an amount up to the Cost of Education, less other aid received. Parents may only borrow for dependent, undergraduate students. Applications may be submitted online at www.studentloans.gov.

There is no penalty for paying a loan off early. You will save yourself interest. Example:

- If you borrowed $20,000 in a Stafford loan with a fixed interest rate of 6.8% and are paying on the standard 10 year plan; minimum payments are $230 a month.

- If you only make the minimum payments, you will pay $7,619 in interest alone over the 10 year repayment period.

- If you pay over the minimum amount and paid $270 a month, you will have the loan paid off in 8 years and only pay $5,986 in interest; saving $1,633 in interest payments.

Alternative Loans
Sometimes federal student and parent loans are not enough to cover all educational expenses. For this reason, you may consider applying for a private, credit-based loan that may be used as a supplemental resource for paying college costs. Unlike Direct or PLUS loans, Alternative Loans require a separate application, credit check, multiple disclosures and a Self-Certification form. A co-signer may be required if you have less than two years of good credit history. By applying online you will know instantly if you are eligible or if you need a co-signer. Applications maybe obtained from http://www.leeuniversity.edu/financial-aid/. A list of available lenders is provided, but you may apply directly with any lender that you choose.

Return of Federal Title IV Financial Aid Policy
The return of unearned Title IV aid is calculated by the Business Office. This calculation applies to any student who meets the following criteria:

1. The student completely withdraws (officially or unofficially) and
2. The student received Federal Title IV or state aid (Federal Pell Grant, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant, Tennessee Student Assistance Award, Tennessee Hope Scholarship, Federal Direct Loan, Federal PLUS Loan, but not Federal Work-Study).

If a student withdraws, the university is required to calculate the amount of aid earned. Any unearned aid must be returned according to the provisions of the Higher Education Amendments of 1998. The withdrawal date is determined by the Office of Student Life for official withdrawals (see the Undergraduate Academic Section for the policy regarding withdrawing from the University). The withdrawal date for unofficial withdrawals is the last date of recorded attendance or the midpoint of the semester whichever is earlier. The calculation of the return of these funds may result in the student owing a balance to the university and/or the Federal/State Government.

The student will be responsible for any balance due on the account after Title IV funds have been returned.

The institution will be responsible for the return of unearned tuition and fees. To determine the institution’s responsibility, multiply the total amount of institutional charges for the semester by the percentage unearned. Compare this result with the amount of Title IV aid unearned, the lesser amount is the unearned Title IV aid which will be returned by the institution.

The student’s responsibility includes earned Title IV aid due to the lender and any tuition and fees due to the institution. If the student’s portion of unearned Title IV aid is a loan, the terms and conditions of the loan take care of the repayment. If the student’s portion of unearned Title IV aid is a federal grant, the student returns no more than 50 percent of the amount received for the semester.

Re-calculation Formula
- Percent earned is equal to the number of days completed up to the withdrawal date divided by the total number of days in the semester.
- The amount of Title IV aid earned is equal to the amount of aid disbursed plus the amount of aid that could have been disbursed times the percentage earned.
- Federal/State financial aid is returned to the federal/state government based on the percent of unearned aid using the following formula: Aid to be returned is equal to the amount of Title IV earned subtracted from Title IV aid disbursed.
- Returned aid is credited in the following order:
  o Federal Unsubsidized Direct Loans
  o Federal Subsidized Direct Loans
  o Federal Perkins Loan
  o Federal PLUS Loans
  o Federal Pell Grant
  o Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant
  o Other Title IV and State aid programs

Satisfactory Academic Progress Standards
All students who receive federal financial aid must be working toward an eligible degree from Lee University. In order to assure that students make progress the following requirements have been established. Lee University will utilize the following policy in determining federal financial aid eligibility. Progress will be evaluated at the end of the academic year or at the end of a term of Financial Aid Probation.

I. Progress Standards
A. Quantitative Standard: Both undergraduate and graduate students must satisfactorily complete 70% of all hours attempted. Satisfactory grades are A, B, C and
D. Unsatisfactory grades are W, F, or I.

B. Qualitative Standard: Undergraduate students must maintain the following cumulative grade point averages to be considered making satisfactory progress.

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Total Hours Attempted</th>
<th>Minimum Required G.P.A.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>0 – 29</td>
<td>1.5</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>30 – 59</td>
<td>1.7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>60 – 89</td>
<td>1.9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>90 – above</td>
<td>2.0</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Graduate students must maintain a minimum 3.0 grade point average which is the academic standard to remain in the graduate programs.

C. Maximum hours: Any undergraduate student who has attempted 195 hours or more will not be making progress.

D. 0.0 GPA within a term: Any student who receives all F’s, W’s or I’s in courses attempted in any semester (fall, spring or summer) will not be making progress.

E. Transfer students: All transferable credits will be counted toward the maximum number of hours allowed to be eligible for financial aid. Satisfactory progress will be evaluated at the end of the first academic year attended at Lee University.

F. Repeat, Remedial and ESL courses will be evaluated consistent with the academic standards of the University.

II. Review of Eligibility
Satisfactory academic progress is reviewed annually for all financial aid applicants to insure that they meet the required qualitative, quantitative, and maximum time frame standards as outlined in Section I. Progress will be evaluated at the end of the academic year or at the end of a term of Financial Aid Probation. Applicants who do not meet these standards will be notified.

III. Removal From Financial Aid
A. A student who fails to meet the above standards of progress will be placed on Financial Aid Suspension.

B. Removal from financial aid does not prevent the student from enrolling at Lee University if:
   • the student has an alternative method of payment and
   • if the student meets the academic requirements to re-enroll.

IV. Appeals
Students placed on Financial Aid Suspension can appeal to the Financial Aid Office. Reasons that may be acceptable for the appeal are:
   • serious illness or accident on the part of the student;
   • death, accident or serious illness in the immediate family;
   • financial difficulties forcing incomplete and premature withdrawal;
   • other extenuating circumstances directly affecting academic performance.

The appeal must be submitted in writing and be accompanied by appropriate supporting documents. These will be reviewed weekly by the Financial Aid Satisfactory Academic Progress Committee. Students will be notified in writing of the approval or denial.

V. Reinstatement of Financial Aid
A. If an appeal is approved the student will be granted one semester of Financial Aid Probation. The student can continue to receive financial aid during this one semester of probation. During the term of probation the student must enroll in a minimum of nine hours and pass all courses attempted with a minimum 2.0 semester G.P.A. to be considered making successful academic progress for subsequent review of financial aid eligibility.

B. A student who is removed from financial aid and/or whose appeal has been denied may be eligible to have his/her financial aid reinstated if he/she enrolls without financial aid in a minimum of nine hours one semester and passes all courses attempted with a minimum 2.0 semester G.P.A. It is the student’s responsibility to inform the Financial Aid Office if this requirement has been met.

State Financial Aid Programs

Tennessee Teaching Scholars Program
The Tennessee Teaching Scholars Program was established by the Tennessee General Assembly in 1995 to encourage exemplary students to enter the teaching force. Participation in this forgivable loan program is limited to college juniors, seniors and post-baccalaureate candidates admitted to a teacher education program in Tennessee. Recipients of the awards incur an obligation to teach one year in a Tennessee public school for each year the award is received or repay the loan with substantial interest. Applications are available online at www.state.tn.us/tsac.

Tennessee Student Assistance Award (TSAA)
The Tennessee Student Assistance Corporation (TSAC) is a non-profit organization established by the Tennessee General Assembly to further post-secondary education opportunity for Tennessee residents. In administering the Tennessee Student Assistance Award, TSAC reviews all Tennessee resident applicants who are enrolled in an eligible post-secondary institution. The award for full time enrollment is $4,000. Students apply for the TSAA by completing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid. These funds are exhausted very early in the award process. Tennessee families with financial need are encouraged to submit the FAFSA by February 1st. Families may be required to use estimated tax information to meet this early application time frame. Following the submission of the FAFSA, TSAC will review the student’s application based on family need in the same manner as the Pell Grant. For more information, go to www.state.tn.us/tsac.

Tennessee Hope Scholarship
Tennessee residents who graduate from high school in 2011 are eligible to apply for a Hope Scholarship. The award amount is up to $5,500 per year for a four-year institution (not to exceed the cost of attendance). To receive the award, students must have been a Tennessee resident for at least one year prior to September 1, 2011.
Class of 2011 applicants should have one of the following:

- minimum ACT score of 21

Lee University Scholarships

Academic Scholarships

The Centennial, Presidential and Dean’s scholarships are awarded to first-time freshmen each year based upon ACT or SAT scores. Composite scores for scholarship consideration are taken only from a single test date, and tests must be taken on one of the published national test dates set by The College Board. Students who take the ACT residual test on campus are NOT eligible for academic scholarship consideration. Each academic scholar must maintain a full-time Lee University undergraduate class load of 12-17 semester hours each semester. Academic scholarships do NOT cover the cost of summer camps or Summer Honors. Students older than traditional high school graduates are eligible for academic scholarships if they are first time college attendees.

Institutional Scholarships (including academic scholarships and employee tuition discounts) can not be applied toward more than two Lee University off campus study programs during a student’s enrollment at Lee.

Centennial Scholarship is awarded to any student who has graduated from an approved high school and who scores 31-36 on the ACT or 1400-1600 (Math and Critical Reasoning only) composite score on the SAT. Those students who qualify must carry more than 11 credit hours per semester and maintain a 3.0 cumulative GPA or higher in order to continue receiving the award. The scholarship is distributed in two phases. In the first phase, all Centennial Scholars receive an amount equal to standard tuition. This phase lasts for the recipient’s freshman year. The second phase is in effect from the recipient’s sophomore year until he or she graduates. In the second phase, Centennial Scholars are separated into two categories, Centennial Gold and Centennial Silver. Those Centennial Scholars with a cumulative GPA of 3.0 to 3.69 will be designated as Centennial Silver.

Those with a cumulative GPA of 3.7 and above will be designated as Centennial Gold. A Centennial Silver Scholar receives an amount equal to half-tuition for each semester that he or she qualifies. A Centennial Gold Scholar receives an amount equal to full-tuition for each qualifying semester. If at any time the student should lose the scholarship for falling below the 3.0 or the 3.7 cumulative grade point requirement, it can be reinstated at either level once the GPA is equal to or above the original level. This scholarship can be used in any semester including the summer (must take 4 credit hours in any one summer session), but not after graduation. The Centennial Scholarship is awarded in place of, not in addition to, the Honor Scholarship. If a student enrolls in another college/university before attending Lee University, this student will forfeit his or her eligibility for the Centennial Scholarship. This scholarship is awarded by the Office of Admissions.

Presidential Scholarship is awarded to any student who has graduated from an approved high school and who scores 27-30 on the ACT or 1230-1390 (Math and Critical Reasoning only) composite score on the SAT. This scholarship is equal to standard tuition for the freshman year. Students who enroll in another college/university before attending Lee University forfeit eligibility. Presidential scholarships are awarded by the Office of Admissions.

Dean's Scholarship is awarded to any student who has graduated from an approved high school and who scores 24-26 on the ACT or 1120-1220 (Math and Critical Reasoning only) composite score on the SAT. This scholarship is equal to one-half standard tuition for the freshman year. Students who enroll in another college/university before attending Lee University forfeit eligibility. Dean's scholarships are awarded by the Office of Admissions.

Honor Scholarship is awarded to any incoming applicant or returning student who has passed a minimum of thirty (30) semester hours, has a cumulative GPA of at least 3.7, and who is currently enrolled as a full-time undergraduate student. The scholarship provides the amount of $2,000 for the semester awarded. This scholarship can be utilized in an unlimited number of semesters as long as all criteria mentioned above are met. Students enrolled in the CAPS program or students who have already graduated with a bachelor's degree are not eligible for this scholarship. This scholarship is awarded by the Office of Records.

Asian Pacific Scholarship Program

The purpose of the Asian Scholarship Program is to help expand partnerships & recruitment opportunities with specific Asian countries that were established by Lee University through the Asian study grant initiative. The program will provide (10) student scholarships to international students from various Asian countries. Eligible scholarship recipients are students coming to Lee for the first time beginning August 2010 from these targeted Asian countries: China, Japan, Korea, Taiwan, and Thailand. The recipient of the scholarship shall be a full-time undergraduate or graduate student in good standing, pursuing a degree from Lee University. All recipients will be selected by a committee on the basis of provisions listed herein: academic achievement, talent, or leadership experiences.

Scholarship Stipend

Each recipient will be awarded $7,000 per year or $3,500 per semester. Any remaining cost, including books, would be covered by the student. Summer classes are not covered by this program. The award will apply for fall and spring semesters only. The scholarship shall be identified as the Asian Pacific Scholarship. The number of awards shall be limited to ten total students for any given semester. Students receiving this award are limited to (8) semesters.

Selection

Applications received by December 1 and May 1 of each year would be considered for available scholarships. The selection of the scholarship recipients is wholly and strictly the responsibility of the Lee University Asian Pacific Scholarship selection committee.

Eligibility Requirements

In the selection of the scholarship recipients, major consideration will be given to the potential academic performance and talent or leadership ability of each applicant. This scholarship shall be awarded to a full-time undergraduate or graduate student enrolled in any academic program. First priority will be given to Asian students who are from the specific countries outlined above. Application deadline for the January semester is December 1 and May 1 for fall semesters. Two letters of recommendation are required for each applicant. Students awarded must provide the following:

Undergraduate Academic Policies and Procedure

Academic Fresh Start
This policy allows Lee University degree-seeking students who have experienced academic difficulty to make a fresh start and have one final opportunity to earn a bachelor’s degree. This option benefits those students who early in their college careers failed to perform satisfactorily. The student must not have been enrolled in Lee University or any other post-secondary institution for a period of three consecutive years immediately prior to readmission, and must have had a cumulative GPA of below 2.0 prior to the three years’ absence. Students who meet the above criteria may obtain further information regarding eligibility and application procedures for Academic Fresh Start from their faculty advisor or by contacting the Office of Academic Services.

Academic Probation
To graduate from Lee University a student must have a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.0, as well as a 2.0 (or higher if specified) in the major. In order to continue in residence at Lee, students must earn a minimum grade point average in accordance with the following scale of attempted hours:
Any student failing to achieve this average will be placed on academic probation. This probation may be removed during the next semester by bringing the GPA up to the required standard. Students who achieve the required cumulative GPA for the hours attempted are considered to be in good standing. Those who fail to achieve the required average will be subject to the following action:

1. A student on academic probation is limited to 12-14 credit hours each semester.

2. All students on academic probation are reviewed by the Retention Committee. This committee will grant an extension to probation only when a student’s record demonstrates that such an extension would benefit the student in removing the probation and progressing toward graduation.

3. No student will be continued on probation more than two consecutive semesters, unless approved by the Retention Committee.

4. A student who has been authorized by the Retention Committee to continue on probation may be required to register for a specified class schedule which may include an Academic Success Implementation course.

Changing a Schedule (Add, Drop, Withdraw)
Adding or dropping courses and changing from credit to audit and audit to credit may be accomplished only during the 12-day registration ("add/drop") period at the beginning of each term. Appropriate instructor and advisor signatures as communicated by the Records Office must be obtained on the Change of Schedule Form. The student must bring the completed Change of Schedule form to the Records Office within 48 hours of securing the appropriate signatures so that the computer record can be updated.

After the 12th day of registration ("add/drop") period at the beginning of the term, the student may wish to withdraw from a class in order to avoid negatively impacting his/her GPA or to reduce a heavy academic course load. To withdraw from a class, the student must initiate this transaction with a Change of Schedule Form obtained from the Records Office. The form must be filled out in its entirety, signed and dated, and signed by his/her academic advisor and by the instructor of the class from which he/she is withdrawing. The student should return the form to the Office of Records for data entry within 48 hours of securing the appropriate signatures so that the computer record can be updated. The last day to withdraw from a course with a grade of “W” is published in the university academic calendar which can be found at www.leeuniversity.edu/academics. A student who never attends a class or stops attending a class for which he/she is officially registered will receive a grade of “F” in that course if established procedures for class withdrawal outlined above are not followed.

During Advance Class Selection (ACS) the student will build his/her schedule for the upcoming term using the online student information system. Following the face-to-face advising session with the academic advisor, the advisor will note on the student’s online account that the advising appointment has been completed. Scheduling agreements made with the student will be documented on the advisor’s account. After the advising session is completed, students are then activated to the priority registration schedule which is based on completed academic hours: seniors first (90+ hrs), then juniors (60-89 hrs), then sophomores (30-59 hrs), then freshmen (0-29 hrs). There is a fee applied for each schedule change beginning with the first day of classes. The tuition refund policy is explained in the section on “Tuition and Fees”.

Questions regarding schedule changes, registration, or Advance Class Selection should be directed to the Office of Records. Questions regarding fees should be directed to the Business Office.
Auditing a Class

Any student who has been admitted may request to audit a class. Some classes may be excluded from auditing status by the department in which the class is taught. Students who wish to audit a class may do so at registration and pay the applicable fees. The audit fee is applicable regardless of the number of credit hours the student is currently enrolled in. Auditors must attend and participate in a minimum of sixty percent of the class sessions but are not responsible for exams and/or term papers. On the first day of class, the student must ask the instructor for permission to audit that class. If the request to audit is declined, the student must drop the audit class or change it to credit status, with a refund of the audit fee subject to the provisions of the university’s refund policy. Students who successfully complete the minimum audit requirements will receive a grade of “U” for the class. Should a student not meet the minimum requirements, the instructor will inform the Office of Records, which will purge the course from the student’s transcript with no refund of the audit fee. Any change in registration status (such as audit to credit or credit to audit) must be made by the last day to add a class (during the registration period at the beginning of each term).

Class Attendance

Regular attendance is essential to realize the purposes and objectives of the student’s academic program. Each student is responsible to the professor for class attendance and participation. Specific requirements for each course will be determined by the professor and outlined in the course syllabus during the first full week of each semester. Each professor has the prerogative of developing his/her own attendance policy. The professor may develop a system by which grade reduction can be made, not to exceed one letter grade per semester based on absence alone. Faculty members are encouraged to report cases of excessive absences (defined as two weeks of class or more) to the dean of the college/school within which the course is taught. The dean will then meet with the student and/or faculty member to determine an appropriate course of action. Possible courses of action include but are not limited to the following: a request that the student withdraw from the course, a request that the student make up work that was missed with permission of the faculty member; a request that the student demonstrate an intent to attend regularly for the remainder of the semester; or, in extreme situations, a request to the Deans Council and Vice President for Academic Affairs that the student be brought before the council in order to determine the best course of action for his/her future.

Absences because of university-related events will be a part of the regular absence policy. For such events, it will be the student’s responsibility to contact the professor in case of such absence and to do whatever reasonable make-up work may be required to keep the student current with the class progress. Sponsors of university-related events should supply students with appropriate information to offer their professors well in advance of the event. This information should include the name of the sponsor, the name of the event, the day and time of the expected absence, and the name of the class/group participating in the event. Students should present this information to their professors/instructors and request any make-up work.

Facility and students should be aware that there are several types of absences under consideration. First, there are university-related events. These include but are not limited to the following: athletic events; field trips; music ensemble traveling; drama traveling; public relations events for the university; and other ad hoc requests for student involvement by the president’s office or a vice president’s office. Professors are asked to consider these absences as a part of student and university responsibility and should therefore “excuse” the absence, requiring whatever make-up work is necessary. As noted above, students are responsible for contacting their professors and making up the work.

Second, there are personal events that may cause student absences. These may include the following: extended illnesses; hospitalization; death or emergency in the family. Students are responsible for contacting their professors (where feasible) and making up the work required. However, it is the prerogative of the individual professor to consider these absences and make up work in whatever way he/she thinks appropriate within the guidelines stated in the course syllabus. In all cases of absences, students should take the initiative to contact their professors and discuss with them appropriate courses of action. If students feel they are being handled unfairly regarding absences, they should appeal their case to the dean in writing, with a copy presented to the professor involved. The dean will attempt to resolve the situation, but may also choose to appoint an independent board of appeal to settle the matter.

Confidentiality of Student Records

In accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, Lee University students have the right to review, inspect and challenge the accuracy of information kept in a cumulative file by the university unless the student waives the right. The law further ensures that records cannot be released except in emergency situations without the written consent of the student other than the following:

1. to all school officials within the educational institution who have legitimate educational interest;
2. to officials of other schools in which the student intends to enroll, upon condition that the student be notified of the transfer, receives a copy of the record if desired, and has an opportunity for a hearing to challenge the content of the record;
3. to authorized representatives of (1) the Comptroller General of the United States, (2) the Secretary of Education, (3) an administrative head of an educational agency or (4) state educational authorities;
4. in connection with an emergency or legal situation;
5. in connection with any publicly-announced honor such as the Dean’s List;

in cases of information classified as “directory information.” (See below for definition.)

If a student wishes to share confidential academic and financial information with their parent(s), s/he may share their WebAdvisor login information so that parents may readily view this information online. In order for a parent to access their son’s or daughter’s confidential information by contacting university personnel, a signed release form must be completed by the student giving the parent permission to access this information and the parent must be able to provide several items of personally identifiable information to ensure the authenticity of the parent (legal guardian).

If the student does not wish academic information to parents or directory information to be released, the student should notify the Office of Records at any time during the semester to place a hold on this information. Questions concerning this law and the university’s policy concerning release of academic information may be directed to the Office of Records.

In order for a student to release his/her confidential academic record (grades, GPA, race, gender, religion, country of citizenship) or on-hold directory information to a third party, the student must specifically state
Grades and quality points are assigned and recorded as follows:

U
(Audit successfully completed; see explanation below)

It is the instructor’s choice whether to use a straight letter-grading system or to incorporate plus/minus increments.

A grade of "I" indicates the student’s work is incomplete. The "I" grade becomes "F" if the work is not completed by the end of the following semester, unless a written extension has been approved by the Vice President of Academic Affairs. A grade of "I" is given only to students who encounter some personal difficulty such as a severe illness or an extreme family emergency near the end of the semester. The "I" grade is not given in order to allow students additional time to complete assignments.

A grade of "W" is assigned to a student who, for any reason, officially withdraws from the university or withdraws from a course at any time after the registration (add/drop) period. The "W" is assigned without academic penalty to the student. (See the section on “Changing a Schedule” for details regarding this process.)

A grade of "U" is given when a student successfully completes the minimum requirements for auditing a class. (See section on Auditing a Class for details regarding this process.)

A grade change must be requested in writing by the student and approved by the instructor. The instructor will submit a change of grade on the appropriate form. Grade changes must be made within one semester. All grades are distributed through the student’s online account and are available at the end of each term. Paper grade reports are available only when requested from the Office of Records. If this service is desired, the request must be renewed each term. Parents may request paper grade reports only if their child has signed a waiver granting permission to the university to release academic information to parents. To request a paper grade report, students may contact the Office of Records by email (records@leeuniversity.edu) or by phone (423-614-8200).
If a student wishes to share confidential academic and financial information with their parent(s), s/he must share their WebAdvisor login information so that the parents may readily view this information online.

Proficiency Examinations
Students taking proficiency examinations will be required to present evidence that they have developed those abilities and aptitudes expected of students who have taken the course involved. When possible, this evidence should be in the form of recognized standardized tests and must be approved by the school dean and the Director of Academic Services. Upon passing the examination with a minimal grade of "B," the student may be given credit toward graduation provided this does not duplicate credit accounted for admission to Lee University and the course is acceptable in his/her curriculum. Proficiency examinations may not be taken to repeat coursework or be used in lieu of "I" or "F" grades. In order to take a proficiency examination, the student must be enrolled for other courses and may take the proficiency test only once. Credit earned through proficiency and advanced placement shall be recorded with a grade of "P" and will not affect the student's GPA. Students interested in proficiency credit should inquire with the respective department chairperson for the course.

Native speakers (those educated in target language countries) of Spanish, French, German or Chinese may not receive proficiency credit by examination for either 211 or 212. Native speakers may have their foreign language requirement waived by successfully completing both ENGL 105 or 106 and ENGL 110.

Native speakers who minor or major in Spanish or French must begin their coursework with any course numbered SPAN 310, FREN 213 or above. Additional upper-level courses must be taken to complete the required 36 hours in either major. Heritage speakers (those who learned Spanish or French in the United States, not formally educated in target language country) must pass both a writing exam and a speaking proficiency exam to receive proficiency credit for either 211 or 212. If passed, they begin their minor or major coursework with SPAN 310, FREN 213 or above.

Registration
Registration may be completed online or on campus. It is critical that students register during the stated registration periods at the beginning of each term. Students who fail to complete registration (including financial arrangements) by the first day of classes will be charged a late registration fee. Registration is not complete until the student has made arrangements for payment of the semester charges at the Business Office and has signed the registration statement and promissory note. Until such settlement has been made, the student is not entitled to participate in any class or other activities at the university. At the end of the registration period, students who have failed to make financial arrangements will be de-registered (schedules will be purged). First-time students will be required to meet with an academic advisor to plan their selection of courses before being allowed to register. For subsequent semesters, the student may meet with his/her academic advisor as needed and register online to expedite the registration process. After completion of the first semester, the registration process includes a period of advance class selection ("pre-registration") toward the end of each semester.

Change in credit status for any course (from audit to credit or from credit to audit) must be done by the last day to register.

Repeating a Course
A course can only be repeated twice. A course taken at another university and transferred onto the Lee transcript can be repeated if Lee offers an equivalent course. When a student elects to repeat a course, only the grade received for the repeat will be counted in the computation of the cumulative grade point average. This is true even if the second grade is lower than the first.

Required or Permitted Loads
The minimum academic load for classification as a full-time student is 12 semester hours. For a class load beyond 17 hours, there is an additional tuition charge and approval from the academic department is required. An overload of 18 hours requires the signature of the departmental chair; an overload of 19 hours requires the signature of the school dean. This approval is granted only on the basis of superior academic achievement. The maximum course load is 19 hours. The maximum course load for summer is seven hours per session.

To qualify for the Honor Scholarship for the sophomore year a student must complete 30 hours the first year, including summer school. A student on academic probation will normally register for 12 hours. Probationary students cannot enroll for more than 14 hours without special permission from the Director of Academic Services. International students must maintain a full-time load of at least 12 hours each semester unless (1) they have received prior approval for a part-time load or (2) it is their final semester and less than 12 hours are required to complete their graduation requirements. For further information, refer to the Office of Admissions for discussion of I-20 and SEVIS agreements.

Athletes must maintain a full-time load in order to meet eligibility requirements. For further information, contact the Athletic Director.

Transcripts
A transcript of academic credits will be issued by the Office of Records upon written request of the student. Forms are available in the Office of Records or online at www.leeuniversity.edu (Alumni Services, "request a transcript"). The transcript will not be released until the office has received the student's signature granting permission to release his/her record. Further, no transcript will be furnished until all accounts have been satisfactorily settled. An official transcript will be sent to another institution or other authorized person or agency. Official transcripts cost $5 each.

Replacement Diploma
The University will replace a diploma if destroyed, damaged, lost, or stolen. No diploma will be replaced due to a personal name change since this would alter a historical document. A Lee College diploma will not be replaced with a Lee University diploma for the same reason. The replacement diploma will maintain historical accuracy as much as possible. A Lee University diploma will be issued with current signatures (President, VP of Academic Affairs, Chairman of the Board of Directors) if the graduation date is after 1997. A Lee College diploma with current signatures will be issued if the graduation date was 1997 or before. A note will be added to the bottom of the replacement diploma indicating that it is a replacement for a diploma issued on (date).

Although Lee University is the "records keeper" for Northwest Bible College in Minot, ND, Lee is not able to fulfill requests to replace a diploma from Northwest Bible College. Lee does not have the authority to issue a replacement diploma from another school.

Withdrawing from the University
Students may withdraw from the university at any time beginning the first day of classes until the final day of classes for the semester. Withdrawals will not be processed after final exams have begun. Students who withdraw will be assigned the grade of "W" for all courses and will not be allowed to continue on the meal plan or remain in Academic dishonesty. The following acts are those which we consider to be dishonest: Students will not knowingly perform or assist others in performing acts of dishonesty. As a Christian academic community are called.

To such integrity, we can there be an honest evaluation of our abilities. Only with a truthful presentation of our knowledge can there be an honest evaluation of our abilities. Therefore, academic dishonesty is handled with serious consequences for two fundamental reasons: it is stealing - taking something that is not ours; it is also lying - pretending to be something it is not. In a Christian community, such pretense is not only unnecessary, it is also harmful to the individual and community as a whole. Cheating should have no place at a campus where Christ is King because God desires us to be truthful with each other concerning our academic abilities. Only with a truthful presentation of our knowledge can there be an honest evaluation of our abilities. To such integrity, we as a Christian academic community are called.

As a Christian community of scholarship, we at Lee University are committed to the principles of truth and honesty in the academic endeavor. As faculty and students in this Christian community, we are called to present our academic work as an honest reflection of our abilities; we do not need to defraud members of the community by presenting others' work as our own. Therefore, academic dishonesty is handled with serious consequences for two fundamental reasons: it is stealing - taking something that is not ours; it is also lying - pretending to be something it is not. In a Christian community, such pretense is not only unnecessary, it is also harmful to the individual and community as a whole. Definitions

Students will not knowingly perform or assist others in performing acts of academic dishonesty. The following acts are those which we consider to be dishonest:

1. Plagiarism
   - Plagiarism is presenting as your own work the words, ideas, opinions, theories, or thoughts which are not your own without fair attribution (documentation), are guilty of plagiarizing. Unfair attribution includes, but is not limited to, a direct quotation of all or part of another's words without appropriately identifying the source. It is also unfair attribution to have included a source within a Works Cited page without having carefully cited the source within the text of the document. Plagiarism also includes, but is not limited to, the following acts when performed without fair attribution:
     - a. directly quoting all or part of another person's words without quotation marks, as appropriate to the discipline.
     - b. paraphrasing all or part of another person's words without documentation.
     - c. stating an idea, theory, or formula as your own when it actually originated with another person.

2. Unauthorized assistance
   - Giving or receiving assistance that has not been authorized by a faculty member in connection with any exam or academic work is academically dishonest. Students should assume that any assistance on exams, quizzes, lab work, etc., is unauthorized unless the faculty member involved in the exercise has approved it. Examples of prohibited actions include, but are not limited to, the following:
     - a. copying or allowing others to copy answers to an exam.
     - b. transmitting, receiving, or in some form obtaining information during an exam which would offer answers within the framework of the material being tested.

4. Theft
Stealing or otherwise taking in an unauthorized manner information which relates to academic work is academically dishonest. Such activities include, but are not limited to, the following:

a. removing from a professor’s office materials which would give a student an unfair advantage on an academic assignment.

b. procuring information from a professor’s computer hardware or software.

c. taking exams, grade records, forms used in grading, books, papers, or other materials related to grading or evaluation of academic performance.

d. stating an idea, theory, or formula as your own when is actually originated with another person.

Procedures - Faculty Discretion
When any form of academic dishonesty occurs, the teacher has the authority of deciding how to deal with it. Faculty have the following options:

1. The faculty member may determine an appropriate course of action ranging from giving the student an F on the assignment or exam to awarding an F for the course.

2. If the faculty member wants additional input from colleagues, he/she may ask the department chair to convene a committee to discuss the situation. If the incident involves students in courses from other departments, the school dean may convene a committee including members of other departments faculties. The committee may then determine the penalty.

3. If the academic dishonesty is of the most serious nature, the committee may refer the case to the Dean’s Council. The Vice President for Academic Affairs may then determine the penalty or refer the case to the Judicial Council.

Student Appeal
If a student is accused of academic dishonesty, and he/she feels this judgment is in error, or the penalty is inappropriate, he/she may appeal to the department chair of the faculty member making the decision. If the committee determined the penalty, the student may appeal to the Vice President for Academic Affairs. If the Judicial Council determined the penalty, he/she may appeal through the Judicial Appeal Board.

Directed Studies

Purpose of a Directed Studies Program
Directed study should enrich the program of the above-average student by allowing him/her to pursue an area of specific interest. The opportunity to be involved in a directed study should foster initiative, resourcefulness and creativity.

Initiation of Directed Studies
A directed study should be generated by the interest of the student. A student should indicate to a faculty member his/her interest in doing a directed study in a specific area.

Requirements for participating in a Directed Study are as follows:

1. A student must have a minimum overall grade point average of 2.5.

2. He/she must have a minimum grade point average of 3.0 in his/her major field.

3. He/she must be at least a junior at the time he/she registers for the study.

4. Each student must be approved by a faculty member, his/her advisor, and the head of the department in which he/she wishes to conduct the study. A special form for this purpose may be obtained in the office of the school dean.

Supervision of the Study

1. The study will be conducted under the supervision of a committee consisting of the following members: a faculty member who will serve as a supervisor, the chairperson of the department in which the course is offered, and one other faculty person.

2. The number of directed studies supervised by any one faculty member will not exceed one per semester.

Restrictions

1. A student may take no more than three hours of directed studies during his/her junior year and no more than six hours during his/her senior year.

2. Directed studies may be conducted only in the major or minor field. Students acquiring teacher certification may conduct a study in either education or their field of emphasis.

3. A student may apply for and complete a directed study only during the regular registration period.

4. Courses offered by Center for Adult and Professional Studies may not be taken by directed study.

5. Students may not take a directed study for a course that is offered during the academic semester.

Requirements of Study

1. The student must meet with his/her committee regularly at times designated by the faculty supervisor.

Applicants must have a minimum designated GPA and ACT or SAT score.

Undergraduate Academic Resources

Undergraduate Academic Resources

Academic Advising

Academic advising is one of the many ways in which students engage with faculty on an individual basis. After completing registration, each student is assigned a faculty advisor in his/her major area of interest. The faculty advisor and student work together to craft a unique and individual academic plan based on the student’s strengths and calling. Students who have not declared a major are assigned to a faculty advisor who is specially trained to work with students who are still exploring their strengths and calling.

Lee University hopes the advising relationship will be an ongoing ‘conversation’ that goes beyond mere course selection and will enable the student to explore the breadth of the liberal arts curriculum, focus on the major concentration, and prepare for life after Lee.

The academic advisor is a mentor and a guide. Students have the right to expect accurate information (to the best of his/her knowledge) from their faculty advisors. Advisors have the right to expect that their advisees will take ownership of their academic progress and accept the consequences of their academic decisions.

For questions about the advising process or to request reassignment to a new advisor, contact the Office of Academic Services.

Academic Support

The Academic Support Program (ASP) acts as a liaison between students with disabilities and the Lee University academic community. In compliance with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended, and the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990, the ASP works to ensure that students with disabilities, (physical, sensory, learning, and/or emotional), have equal access to educational opportunities. The ASP also provides information on issues of accessibility and reasonable accommodations. These services give students with disabilities equal access to academic programs. With the exception of one building, all buildings on campus are accessible for students with physical challenges. If a student with a physical disability takes a class in an inaccessible building, the class is moved to an accessible one immediately. In addition to serving students who are permanently disabled, the ASP also serves students who have temporary disabilities. The ASP also provides free on campus academic tutoring to all Lee students. Although some advanced classes may not have a tutor available, core courses have lab tutoring, small group tutoring, and/or one-on-one tutoring for no charge. Additionally, ASP provides free mentoring for students who need extra support socially.

Students with Disabilities

Lee University is committed to the provision of reasonable accommodations for students with disabilities, as defined in Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. Students who think they may qualify for these accommodations should contact the Office of Academic Support to set up accommodations.

Tutorial Program

Tutors are provided free of charge for any student who is having difficulty with a class and requests help. Tutors are recommended by faculty members, and are trained and carefully supervised as they deliver services. All tutorial services are monitored and evaluated for effectiveness.
Writing Center
The Department of English and Modern Foreign Languages offers special assistance in composition and grammar through the Writing Center. Staffed by trained peer instructors, the center offers assistance on five levels. Students receive individualized writing consultations focused on students’ unique needs: grammar and mechanics; organization and paragraph development; research techniques; documentation; and planning the long paper.

The Writing Center also provides assistance for students whose native language is not English.

The Writing Center is equipped with computers. Any Lee University student may use these facilities by making an appointment in the center. Tutorial sessions are conducted on a one-to-one basis, last for 30 minutes, and must be scheduled in advance.

Center for Calling and Career
The Center provides resources for students, faculty and staff to examine their strengths and discover a clearer sense of calling by understanding who they are as God’s “work of art.” The Center uses a strengths based approach to advising that allows time for students to enter into dialogue with a Strengths/Vocational advisor to discuss their strengths themes, what they enjoy, what they do best and what they believe they are called to do with their life. Students also come to the Center to declare or change their academic program.

Several career-related assessments and job search resources are available for students to access online. LeeCareerCentral provides an online Job Board, listing local part-time and full-time openings. Students may come to the Center for individual career counseling, and for resume and job interview preparation.

Computer Labs
Lee University provides over 450 open use computers in four academic buildings and several dorms as well as a few computers in the lobby areas of the Humanities Center. Academic computer labs are outfitted with state-of-the-art Gateway computers, complete with Windows XP Professional, Microsoft Office and provide access to the Internet. Some of the computers in the labs have development, web design, Flash and Adobe photo-shop applications installed on them for student use. Additionally, the student technology fee includes 300 free print pages from the high-quality laser printers in the labs. Aside from scheduled times when classes meet in select labs, campus computer labs are open to all students. Staff members from Information Services & Technology are available throughout the day to help with technical questions. Students can also call the Help Desk at extension 8027.

First-Year Experience
Lee University provides a comprehensive program designed to assist first-year students in adjusting to university life. The Office of First-Year Programs seeks to assist all incoming freshmen and transfers of Lee University in their first year college experience.

- All new students entering Lee University participate in New Student Orientation. This orientation is dedicated to helping freshmen and transfer students become acclimated to Lee University through sessions with administrators from different areas on campus. The Office of First-Year Programs coordinates the efforts of these sectors within the institution to ensure that students start on the right track during their first few days at Lee. Instructors and Peer Leaders of the freshman seminar class (GNST-101) serve as guides for students and parents during the orientation process. Events include, special sessions for parents, freshmen, and transfer students as well as a special Service of Dedication.

- Lee University requires that all incoming freshmen enroll in a freshman seminar called “Gateway to University Success” or GNST-101. This special course embodies and expresses the central goals and purposes of the first-year experience. It introduces essential academic skills such as critical thinking, and helps students begin to develop a Christian worldview. GNST-101 is taught by an “all-star” team of faculty and administrators under the leadership of the Director of First-Year Programs. This class allows students to meet different professors on campus as well as create lasting friendships with upperclassmen (Peer Leaders) who guide freshmen through their first semester. The Office of First-Year Programs is in charge of recruiting and training these Peer Leaders to act as guides and mentors to the incoming freshmen.
Study Abroad

Global Perspectives

The Global Perspectives Program is one of the most unique and exciting opportunities that Lee University offers because it requires students to travel and to study a culture different from their own. Through the Global Perspectives Program, students will fulfill at least two credit hours: ANTH 200: Global Perspectives Seminar (1) and GNST 250-3: Cross-Cultural Experience (1-3). ANTH 200 is the prerequisite course that prepares students for the intentional study of a culture different than their own. GNST 250-3 is the actual experience component where students engage and immerse themselves within an intended target culture. These courses can not be taken out of sequence. Three options are offered for fulfilling the experience component of the requirement:

1. Participate in one of Lee’s many school-sponsored global perspectives trips. Every year, Lee offers between 30-35 global perspectives trips, led by our very own credentialed faculty, as an economical and rewarding cross-cultural experience. While the majority of trips occur during the summer, several are offered during Christmas and Spring breaks. Not only can students fulfill their cross-cultural requirements by participating in a Lee-sponsored trip, they can find a trip that offers course credit in most major fields of study. By traveling and earning credit at the same time, 75% of the tuition dollars paid is used to cover trip expenses. Very few universities if any have made a financial commitment of this magnitude to assist students in studying abroad.

2. Apply to conduct an Individually Arranged Cross-Cultural Study. Some students choose to conduct their own cross-cultural experience by researching and designing an independent study unique to their preferences and personality. A student can fulfill this requirement if the experience is designed to be an in-depth academic analysis of a particular culture; it has to be prepared for and intentionally undertaken with an academic goal in mind. Many students opt to become active participants in a domestic church or community where the culture differs significantly from their own.

3. Qualify for exemption from the Cross-Cultural experience requirement. Some students who have had significant cross-cultural life experiences prior to coming to Lee may qualify for exemption from the GNST 250-253 requirement. The school has set clear guidelines for students who may be exempt:

- Extensive overseas military service tours, at least 6 months in duration
- Extensive missions work in one particular culture, at least 6 months in duration; short-term mission trips do not qualify
- Being raised or having lived in a foreign country as a young adult for at least 24 months
- Significant academic study in a foreign college/university
Having spent a minimum of one year as a foreign exchange student during high school.

These guidelines have been approved by external accreditation agencies. Exceptions will not be granted.

Off-Campus Study Programs

Lee University Off-Campus Student Programs
Below is a list of Global Perspectives trips typically offered by Lee University. Check with your advisor or the sponsoring academic department for up-to-date details about each trip being offered. The availability of programs is subject to change without notice. Any student participating in a Lee sponsored faculty-led trip must have successfully completed a minimum of one full semester, equal to 12-15 credit-hours, of studies in residence on the Lee University campus, with one of those hours being the prerequisite ANTH 200 Global Perspectives Seminar.

Institutional Scholarships (including academic scholarships and employee tuition discounts) can not be applied toward more than two off-campus study programs during a student’s enrollment at Lee. Off-campus study programs that are directly sponsored by Lee University and led by Lee University faculty are the only study programs eligible for institutionally-funded aid.

Global Perspectives trips must be paid in full prior to departure.

Applying to the Program
Entering students interested in applying to the Kairos Honors Program may do so by requesting information and an application form at the following email address: kairos@leeuniversity.edu. Or they may download the application form and follow the instructions at the following link: http://leekairosscholars.weebly.com/ Applications are generally due by May 15 for the following fall term. Decisions regarding admission into the program are made around the first week of June and all notifications are by email using the contact information provided on the application form. Entering students with AP credit, dual enrollment or specific major requirements that duplicate honors substitutions will not be required to take those honors classes to remain in the program. The program director, with the assistance of Academic Services, will work individually with each student to ascertain the course schedule and honors plan that works best for them. Rising sophomores may also apply for the program, understanding that criteria for admission and likelihood of course load fit will differ on a case by case basis. The honors program coursework fits without difficulty in any major program with the possible exception of music due to the specific general education core requirements of music major programs.

2. The satisfactory completion of all General Education and Religion Core requirements.
3. The admission to and satisfactory completion of a departmental major with a minimum GPA of 2.0 (2.5 for teacher education).
4. The removal of all incompletes and completion of all correspondence, proficiency credit, or independent study credits (in required areas) in compliance with the published deadlines.
5. The completion of the required academic assessment tests.
6. The completion of the required service learning hours (80 hours total for four years at Lee or 10 hrs/semester for transfer students).
7. The completion and passing of Praxis II examinations by education students.
8. The completion of the final 25% of credit hours in residence at Lee University (i.e. 33 hours of a 130 hour program).
9. The filing of an application for graduation with the school dean in compliance with the published deadlines.

Because of the transitional nature of university curricula, a number of changes in the graduation requirements may take place during one's tenure in college. The purpose of such changes is to improve the university programs; consequently, it is expected that students will adapt their course planning to new graduation requirements established during the course of their training. The curriculum changes introduced in the course of the student's enrollment will be included in the student's curriculum, provided that this inclusion does not increase the number of hours required for graduation.

Students who complete the requirements of more than one program of study will have verification of each major program on the official transcript; however, only one diploma is awarded upon graduation.

Honor Graduates
Undergraduate students who achieve certain academic distinctions through earned grade point averages will be graduated upon recommendation of the faculty with institutional honors. The following standards apply: 3.4 with honor (Cum Laude), 3.7 with high honor (Magna Cum Laude), 3.9 with the highest honor (Summa Cum Laude). These averages are computed at the close of the semester prior to the semester of graduation.

The Lee University faculty nominates the recipient of the F.J. Lee Award, which is given to the “senior who, in the estimation of the faculty, has modeled high standards of integrity, leadership, service, broad campus involvement and academic excellence”; the Zeno C. Tharp Award, which is given to the senior “most likely to make the greatest contribution to the Kingdom”; and the Charles Paul Conn Award, which is given to the senior who demonstrates the greatest promise of achievement in graduate/professional studies after graduating from Lee University. Departmental awards and honors are generally confirmed by the faculty and presented to the students at an annual Honors Day award program.

Awarding Diplomas
Students who have completed all academic requirements and fulfilled all other university requirements including full payment of all financial obligations will receive their diplomas at the time of graduation. Deficiencies which cause a diploma to be held must be corrected within 30 days following the date of commencement. If the deficiency is not removed by the deadline, the diploma will be re-dated reflecting the next graduation date following the removal of the deficiency.

Admission to Second Degree Program
Normally students who graduate from Lee University may receive only one degree and one diploma regardless of how many major programs of study are completed. Special exception may be made for Lee alumni who wish to return to the university to complete a second program of studies if the former student satisfies the following minimum requirements:

1. To be admitted as a second-degree-seeking student, the graduate must have been away from the university for a minimum of three years after having completed the previous degree;
2. The major of the desired second degree must be in a program of studies that is distinctively different from the previous program of studies. It must be in a different discipline, and the bulk of the required courses for the major must be different from those required by the previous program of studies;
3. To qualify for the second degree a minimum of 45 additional semester hours of credit must be earned.

Excellent faculty members and outstanding academic programs characterize the College of Arts and Sciences which encompasses the most diverse spectrum of academic departments of all the university’s colleges. The College of Arts & Sciences houses six departments: Behavioral and Social Sciences, Business, Communication & the Arts, History & Political Science, English & Modern Foreign Languages and Natural Sciences & Mathematics. Most of the general education core taken by every student who attends Lee is taught in this college. More than 80 of the university’s faculty and over 1000 of the student body work and study in the 30-plus degree programs offered. Arts & Sciences cooperates closely with the Helen DeVos College of Education in helping to deliver a dozen teacher-education programs. The college also includes the graduate program in counseling, in which a Master of Science degree may be earned in mental health or school counseling. The general education, graduate and major program courses are taught by highly qualified faculty members committed to student learning and to imparting a liberal arts education from a strong Christian worldview.

Interdisciplinary Studies
The Interdisciplinary Studies major allows the student to develop an individualized plan of study. The intent of this program is to allow the student to experience a more comprehensive approach in academic pursuits than is provided in the traditional single major and to synthesize material from a variety of disciplines.

This program of study may prepare students for liberal arts graduate programs, and although it is not intended as prevocational, it will prepare students for entry level positions in professional areas requiring broad knowledge and skills in writing and critical thinking.

Students interested in this major must consult with a designated advisor to design a major program of study that meets the requirements listed below. Students are not limited to the areas indicated in the pre-approved list; however, if one of these areas is chosen, the student must select courses as indicated below. The completed program proposal will be submitted to the Deans’ Council for approval.

Special Minors

Asian Studies Minor
A minor in Asian Studies enhances the education of students in business, science and the liberal arts, especially those students working on a major in business. Not only does this minor teach students more about histories, cultures, languages, and societies throughout the Asian region that continue to grow in influence and significance, but it prepares students to work and live in various Asian countries. The minor itself requires an interdisciplinary approach to the study of Asia, providing a broad understanding of the complexity of the region while respecting the uniqueness of each country and its culture.

It is highly recommended that students holding a minor in Asian Studies engage in a study abroad experience in an Asian country either as a member of one of the Lee University sponsored trips or by an individually arranged trip.

Latin American Studies Minor
A minor in Latin American Studies enhances the education of students in business, science, and the liberal arts. Not only does this minor teach students more about history, culture, language and society throughout a very important region of the world, Latin America, it will prepare students to work and live in the countries of a region that continues to increase in importance. The minor itself requires an interdisciplinary approach to the study of Latin America, providing a broad understanding of the complexity of the region.

Mission and Philosophy
The counseling faculty at Lee University affirms its commitment to counseling as an effective, viable means of assisting individuals and families in the prevention of problems and in coping effectively with personal, social and spiritual problems.

We believe that God exists, that He is the source of all truth and that He calls us into relationship with Himself and others. The theological paradigm which portrays human nature as created by God, sinned altered by the fall and redeemed in Jesus Christ provides the foundation of our understanding of human nature. The primary purpose of all our counseling programs is to develop within the students knowledge, appreciation, understanding, ability and skills which will prepare them for responsible Christian service in a complex world.

The practice of counseling is based on theory and research information, an understanding of ethical practices and a set of professional and interpersonal skills. Exposure to conceptual frameworks, research findings and informed practice is the basic curriculum model employed. It is recognized that an interaction of these components is essential. The counselor, regardless of his/her theoretical stance, functions as a change agent. Effective and positive change is brought about by assisting clients to examine and modify their behavior for more effective living and by assisting clients to cope with, adjust to or otherwise negotiate the environments affecting their psychosocial well-being. For optimal change to occur, the counselor must also be sensitive to the spiritual needs of the individual. We believe that the grace of God and the indwelling of the Holy Spirit are the ultimate experiences through which individuals can achieve wholeness and maturity.

The counseling faculty, while representing diverse views, is in agreement that individual beliefs and theoretical patterns must be fostered in graduate counseling students. Faculty members represent an array of models and information which they make available to students to help them clarify their own philosophical, theoretical and practical positions. Special emphasis is given to the enhancement of self-awareness and personal value clarification regarding such issues as the nature of humankind and the meaning of life. Students are continually encouraged in the process of maturation in the image of Christ. The opportunity to consider and refine a personal perspective on life is encouraged as an evolving aspect of individual development.

The counseling faculty is also dedicated to establishing a professional identity appropriate for students in each degree program. Specifically, we seek to encourage identification with the profession of counseling through active membership in organizations and divisions including the American Association of Marriage and Family Therapy, the Tennessee Association of Marriage and Family Therapy, the American School Counselor Association, and the Tennessee School Counselor Association.

Lee University identifies its public service region as being generally coterminous with the geographic scope of the denomination. While most students come from the United States, the student body typically consists of representatives from a broad range of socioeconomic backgrounds. Because of this geographic span, programs serve a racially, ethnically and culturally diverse student body. The institution has adopted the policy that no person in whatever relation with Lee University shall be subject to discrimination because of race, color, national origin, age, gender or disability.

Master of Science in Marriage and Family Therapy

The Marriage and Family Therapy Program prepares professionals as broadly trained mental health professionals with a specialty in working with relationships. Graduates of the program are trained to work in a wide variety of settings including mental health centers, substance abuse centers, church counseling centers and private practice. Completion of the degree is the first stage toward licensure as a marriage and family therapist. All MFT students are required to complete 500 hours of direct clinical services, half of which will be working with couples and families. In addition, students are required to complete over 100 hours of supervision in the delivery of those services.

Master of Science in Holistic Child Development

The Holistic Child Development Program is designed to prepare a student for working in child development and advocacy organizations both domestically and internationally. Coursework emphasizes legal and ethical issues in working for non-profits and NGOs, utilizing community resources, and research-supported interventions.

Master of Science in Counseling Psychology (ETS Campus only)

The Counseling Psychology Program is specifically designed for students seeking training in providing systems interventions in an international context. Offered only at our satellite campus in Kniebis, Germany, this degree is ideal for students interested in creating or working with advocacy programs, church service ministries, or NGO organizations in developing countries.

Master of Science in School Counseling

At the heart of the Master of Science program in School Counseling is the recognition of the inseparability of the school and the community and the role that counselors have in being advocates for all children and adolescents within these contexts. The program will lead students to develop skills in guiding and counseling children and adolescents, in facilitating team-building efforts, collaboration and coordination between teachers, parents, support personnel and community resources and in developing and implementing school guidance and counseling programs. Therefore, the purpose of the Master of Science program in School Counseling (PreK-12) is two-fold: (1) to provide a route to initial school counselor licensure and (2) to educate school counselors to become advocates and systems specialists who are capable of assessing, developing, implementing and sustaining programs for youth PreK-12 from diverse backgrounds.

Students who successfully complete the degree program and meet all standardized test requirements and other conditions set by the state are eligible for school counselor licensure in grades PreK-12 (Praxis II - School Counselor Exam) and for certification by the National Board for Certified Counselors (NBCC) Licensed Professional Counselor Exam. The Master of Science program in School Counseling would benefit students with undergraduate degrees in psychology, sociology, human development or teacher education that are seeking to become a licensed school counselor in the PreK-12 school setting. Students entering the program may often be mature students embarking on a career change or those who begin immediately upon completion of the undergraduate degree. Applicants must have earned a baccalaureate degree. The program offered by the Department of Behavioral and Social Sciences includes integrated academic and field-based experiences that provide the knowledge base and develop the skills, abilities and understanding needed for success as a school counselor in an elementary or secondary school environment. The curriculum is designed to equip graduates to assume roles as professional counselors who will emerge as leaders in the field of school counseling.

Program Goals

Counseling programs at Lee University are based upon the following goals, which reflect both programmatic and individual needs:

- To provide a curriculum which contains an appropriate balance between both didactic and experiential learning.
- To provide a curriculum which reflects faculty expertise and competencies, students' needs for credentialing and the community's needs for well trained professionals.
- To provide students with the opportunity to test out their newly acquired skills in a structured, supervised environment.
- To provide a comprehensive program which is open to change and revision based upon the changing needs of students, faculty, the institution and society.

To provide a comprehensive program that enables students to gain knowledge and experience that will enhance their identity as a professional.

To provide a program that teaches the theory and practice of counseling in conjunction with application of Christian principles and values. To provide a learning environment which is sensitive to the person and work of the Holy Spirit.

Admissions Policies

Procedures
Application materials for any of our degree programs may be obtained from the graduate admissions coordinator.

Applications will not be acted upon until all required documents have been received (including transcripts, letters of recommendation, and entrance exam scores). In order to allow time for the university and the program admissions committee to process the applications, it is advisable to have applications completed by the following dates: April 1 for Fall matriculation.

(MFT applications will only be accepted for Fall)

November 1 for Spring matriculation

Requirements
Applicants who are granted regular admission must meet minimum requirements. Among those elements of the total evaluation process are the following:

- A bachelor’s degree from a regionally accredited college or university.
- An undergraduate cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 3.0 or above on a 4 point scale (highly recommended).
- A cumulative GPA of 3.0 or above on a 4 point scale for any graduate work completed.
- No specific undergraduate major is essential for admission. Applicants are encouraged to have undergraduate credit in subjects that embrace human development, sociology, psychology and statistics. Applicants without adequate preparation may be accepted upon the condition that they register for additional courses deemed necessary by the admissions committee.
- Scores on the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) OR the Miller Analogies Test (MAT) if required. Scores must be no more than five years old. The GRE Advanced tests and Subject tests are not required. For regular admission, scores should be in the 50th percentile or higher.

NOTE: Individuals who have completed a graduate degree at an accredited college or university are not required to submit GRE/MAT test scores. Also, test scores are waived for students with an undergraduate GPA of 3.0 or above from a regionally accredited college or university.

Each applicant must submit the following:

- Completed application form
- $25 application fee (non-refundable)
- Official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended.
- Scores from the Graduate Record Examination (GRE)

Or
- Scores from the Miller Analogies Test (MAT) if required
- Three recommendation forms, two of which must be from former professors familiar with your work (recommendation forms are included in the application packet).
- Autobiographical information (guidelines are included in the application packet).
- Personal interview for those who are finalists in the application process (phone interviews may be conducted in cases where face-to-face interviews are impossible).

Hours Required
A minimum of 60 semester hours is required to complete the Master of Science degree in Marriage and Family Therapy. A minimum of 44 semester hours is required to complete the Master of Science degree in College Student Development. A minimum of 36 semester hours is required to complete the Master of Science degree in Holistic Child Development. A minimum of 48 semester hours is required to complete the Master of Science degree in School Counseling.

Transfer Credit.
A maximum of six semester hours of credit may be transferred into the program. Approval for the substitution of required course work is made on an individual basis in consultation with the student's advisor and the Program Director.

Non-Degree Status
Students desiring to take courses without full admission status in our program may choose one of the following options. With any category of non-degree status, students will be required to complete a non-degree status application and submit official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended. If at any time nondegree students wish to pursue one of the Master of Science programs, full admission status will be required including a separate application and all other full admission status requirements. Completion of course work under non-degree status does not guarantee that students will be granted full admission status.

A maximum of nine semester hours may be taken at the applicant's risk as an unclassified student. Enrollment will be limited to specific entry-level courses. Courses must be approved by the Director of Graduate Studies in Counseling. Professionals who hold a master's degree in counseling or a closely related field but do not satisfy state requirements for licensure may take a maximum of six courses with non-degree status through one of the Counseling programs.

Admission with Deficiencies
Students may be admitted into the program with deficiencies if they lack appropriate course work in their undergraduate programs. Deficiencies should be completed during the first year of study. Credits taken to make up deficiencies do not count toward the 60 hour credit requirement.

Full-time vs. Part-time
Although it would be the faculty's preference, students need not always take a full-time course load. However, degree requirements must be completed within 6 years of matriculation.

Once students are admitted they are expected to maintain continuous enrollment (a minimum of three hours during both the fall and spring semester), and make satisfactory progress toward their degree. If a student has not maintained continuous enrollment, he or she must go through the re-entry process and contact the Program Director at least ten weeks prior to the semester in which he or she wishes to re-enter. The admissions committee can:
1. Grant re-entry without conditions.
2. Grant re-entry conditionally.
3. Deny re-entry.

Generally, if the student is making satisfactory progress toward a degree, re-entry will be approved without conditions. However, evidence of delayed progress without reasonable grounds (e.g., multiple requests for re-entry, several semesters not registered) may result in option (2) or (3) above. Students who anticipate discontinuities in registration should inform their advisor in writing.

Ethical Standards
The program endorses and abides by ethical standards of service delivery and research established by the American Association for Marriage and Family Therapists and American School Counseling Association, Lee University and the State of Tennessee. In accordance with these ethical standards, master level students are not permitted to engage in the independent practice of counseling. Information on professional ethics is distributed to and reviewed with each incoming class on an annual basis and reiterated in counseling courses and seminars.

The Counseling Graduate Committee
The Counseling Graduate Committee’s responsibility is to give administrative oversight to the graduate program. The committee considers and recommends curricular changes to the Graduate Council, approves all program policies, assesses effectiveness of the graduate program, serves as the Admissions Committee, reviews candidacy, and approves applicants for graduation.

Behavioral & Social Sciences
Dr. Jeffrey Sargent, Chairperson

The Behavioral and Social Sciences Department has as its mission preparing students for occupations such as social work, counseling, law, human services administration, teaching and pastoring as well as for graduate and professional schools in areas concerned with human behavior and the social world. We believe our students should be taught the Christian perspective on the behavioral and social sciences and should plan to be involved in vocations that fulfill the great commission of Jesus. A broad liberal arts undergraduate education should expand the students’ understanding of their own social context, increase their knowledge of individual behavior and facilitate their adjustment to a rapidly changing social world by preparing them to recognize and appreciate cultural diversity. We offer majors in Anthropology, Health Care Administration, Psychology and Sociology. In addition, the department administers the Bachelor of Arts in Healthcare Administration, an interdisciplinary major with courses in both the Business and Health Sciences departments. Teacher licensure can be obtained in psychology for 9th through 12th grade. Minors are offered in psychology and sociology, as well as practical minors in social work and counseling, which include practicums and courses in social work and counseling.

Anthropology
The Bachelor of Arts in Anthropology is designed to provide an understanding of human beings and human society with respect to both culture and biology. Students are exposed to a broad historical and comparative framework within which to view the variety of human cultures. Coursework deals with basic anthropological concepts, ethnographic and quantitative research techniques, and substantive knowledge of the branches of the field, e.g., physical anthropology, social and cultural anthropology, ethnology, archaeology, linguistics, and applied anthropology. Anthropology as a major is primarily intended for those students who want to pursue anthropology at the graduate level; however, an anthropology major could be used as preparation for careers in governmental and private social service agencies, museums, ethnic and immigrant organizations, elementary and secondary schools, health care agencies that serve diverse populations, foreign service and foreign aid agencies, businesses with international and interethnic scope and missions-evangelism.

Psychologists work in a variety of settings including churches, business, government, schools, mental health centers or hospitals. The program at Lee emphasizes specifically how the Christian faith interacts with the theories and practices of psychology. The psychology major is designed for those intending to continue their study of psychology at the graduate level (PSYCH.BA) as well as those seeking teacher licensure as preparation for school counseling (PSYCH.BAT). However, knowledge of psychology is also an asset in such fields as management, sales, personnel work, information systems, pastoral care, law, computer science and public relations. Psychology helps individuals understand human behavior and enhances social skills, communication and problem solving skills.

In keeping with one of the goals of Lee University, the Department of Business seeks to provide major programs of sufficient quality to prepare students for success in graduate and professional schools and in the early stages of their careers as they consider their calling. The Department of Business offers programs of study designed to prepare men and women for positions of leadership in business, government, the teaching profession and the community at large. This is done by imparting to them the ethical and philosophical principles upon which our society and our economy rest and by equipping them with the knowledge and skills needed for success. A pedagogical emphasis is placed on experiential learning bolstered by a focus on critical thinking skills. Since a significant dimension of the business curriculum includes the integration of one’s faith with the discipline, graduates should demonstrate a Christian worldview as they discharge the duties of their vocation or profession.

The department offers majors in Accounting, Business Administration (with emphases in Accounting, Finance, Financial Services, International Business, Management, and Management Information Systems), Business Education/Corporate Training with teacher certification, and Computer Information Systems. Minors are offered to non-departmental majors in Accounting, Business Administration, Computer Information Systems, Finance and International Business. Additionally, a student may select Accounting and/or Computer Information Systems as concentration areas for the major in Interdisciplinary Studies.

An Accounting major who wishes to add Business Administration as a second major must select an emphasis other than Accounting. A Computer Information Systems major who wishes to add Business Administration as a second major must select an emphasis other than Management Information Systems.

Accounting
The Accounting program prepares students for careers in accounting and for graduate or professional school. Graduates will be equipped with the necessary skills for the various fields of financial accounting, managerial accounting, auditing, both private and public accounting, and taxation. In addition, many students may be prepared and eligible to take the Certified Public Accounting (CPA) exam prior to graduation. Students should confirm requirements for specific state licensure.
Graduates will be trained in a Christian worldview to make a significant impact in their vocation.

Business Education/Corporate Training

The Business Education program prepares graduates for initial employment as business teachers in secondary schools, careers in business, corporate training and for graduate school. Given the diverse and dynamic nature of today’s world, the program emphasizes decision making, problem-solving, technological skills and pedagogical skills.

Computer Information Systems

The Computer Information Systems curriculum is designed to equip and prepare students to function in an entry-level CIS position and for graduate studies in a computer field. The university liberal arts education along with the CIS curriculum and business courses will provide students with a broad understanding of how information systems assists in the decision-making process and the operation of the business organization. Graduates will be prepared for entry-level positions in a variety of computer fields such as application development, database design, help desk/end-user support, Internet/Intranet development, networking, programming, and systems analysis. The CIS program will prepare these students to work in a changing technical environment and to communicate effectively in an individual and/or group setting. The curriculum will train graduates to integrate their faith and Christian worldview, demonstrating this through the moral and ethical use of technology in the business environment.

The Communication and the Arts Department at Lee University exists to provide instruction and training to individuals pursuing knowledge and/or professional development in the wide variety of fields associated with the communication discipline. As an integral part of an institution that bases its educational practice on the discovery of truth found in Scripture, the faculty of Communication and the Arts seeks to guide students through programs of professional, technical and vocational education with a view toward the integration of faith in daily life and learning.

Communication and the Arts offers six majors: Bachelor of Arts in Communication; a Bachelor of Arts in Public Relations; a Bachelor of Arts and a Bachelor of Science in Telecommunications; a Bachelor of Arts in Theatre and a Bachelor of Arts of Teaching in Theatre Education. The B.A. in Communication offers emphases in the following areas: Advertising, Communication Studies, and Journalism. The B.A. and B.S. in Telecommunications also offers an emphasis in Church Media. The Department of Communication and the Arts also houses auxiliary programs and disciplines. Lee University Theatre stages four theatrical productions each year as well as a summer Art & Theatre Day Camp for community children. The art program features an art minor with studio emphasis, an art minor with computer design emphasis, and courses in art appreciation, art history and studio techniques.

Communication

The communication major helps students maximize their options for graduate school or a professional career. The emphases offered seek to give students the opportunity to craft their own program of study, within reasonable academic limits. Regardless of which emphasis the student may choose, the core courses in the major provide the tools necessary for success in a diverse field, including speech, writing and communication. The professional and religion capstone courses demonstrate how all these elements come together to equip the student for faith and living.

Theatre
The B.A. in Theatre is designed to train students interested in professional or academic work in the areas of acting, directing and technical theatre. The theatre major seeks to give students the opportunity to craft their own program of study, within reasonable academic limits. The core courses in the major provide preparation for graduate school or the professional stage. The senior seminar and religion capstone bring together the students’ academic study with the art and practice of a Christian theatre artist. The BAT in Theatre Education shares much of the same curriculum with the addition of a teaching certification for K-12.

The Department of English and Modern Foreign Languages has the primary mission of preparing students for vocations and graduate study in disciplines which emphasize the verbal arts. It offers majors in English, French and Spanish. It also prepares students who wish to obtain a broad liberal arts undergraduate background before beginning specialized training for such professions as law and theology or simply as a means to an in-depth understanding of the function of human beings in the world. The faculty believes strongly in a Christian worldview and insists that such a view has practical implications for both content and pedagogy. All facts, concepts and understandings relevant to each field are presented from the perspective of the Christian view of a divinely created and ordered world under the lordship of Jesus Christ.

Modern Foreign Languages
The Bachelor of Arts in French or Spanish programs (FRNCH.BA, SPNSH.BA) prepare students for graduate work in the target language or for work in a variety of careers, including political science, business and academia. In addition to language learning and practice, upper-level coursework in literature, stylistics, and special topics, students will take a capstone course that will engage and motivate them to integrate their faith and their chosen disciplines.

The Bachelor of Arts in French or Spanish teacher certification programs (FRNCH.BAT SPNSH.BAT) prepare students for careers as teachers of French or Spanish in grades 7 through 12. Courses at all levels are designed to increase students' proficiency levels in all skills, enabling them to teach effectively with an advanced knowledge of the target-language culture. Study abroad programs are available and encouraged for all teaching licensure candidates.

Students majoring in a foreign language must complete a minimum of 6 credit hours of target-language coursework in a target-language country. Native speakers (those educated in target language countries) of Spanish, French, German or Chinese may not receive proficiency credit by examination for either 211 or 212. Native speakers may have their foreign language requirement waived by successfully completing both ENGL 105 or 106 and ENGL 110.

Native speakers who minor or major in Spanish or French must begin their coursework with any course numbered SPAN 310, FREN 213 or above. Additional upper-level courses must be taken to complete the required 36 hours in either major. Heritage speakers (those who learned Spanish or French in the United States, not formally educated in target language country) must pass both a writing exam and a speaking proficiency exam to receive proficiency credit for either 211 or 212. If passed, they begin their minor or major coursework with SPAN 310, FREN 213 or above.

A study abroad program in France is required of all FRNCH.BA and FRNCH.BAT candidates. French minors may be eligible to participate in an internship in their major area of specialization in France.

The History and Political Science Department has as its mission preparing students for occupations such as law, teaching and international work, as well as entrance into graduate and professional schools. We believe our students should be taught from a Christian perspective and should plan to be involved in vocations that fulfill the great commission of Jesus. A broad liberal arts undergraduate education should expand the students’ understanding of their own historical context, increase their knowledge of political issues and facilitate their adjustment to a rapidly changing social world by preparing them to recognize and appreciate cultural diversity all from within a Biblical worldview. We offer majors in History, Humanities and Political Science. Teacher licensure can be obtained in history with an emphasis in political science or economics for 7th through 12th grade. Minors include history, humanities and political science.

Art
A minor in Art with an emphasis in Studio or Graphic Design gives students hands-on experience that helps equip them for the work force or for graduate school. The classes offered in Art help students develop their talents and experience in a variety of media, both traditional and electronic that should prove useful in their career development.

History
Students electing to major in history have the opportunity to select from a varied field of study designed to provide instruction and direction that will enable graduates to succeed in future endeavors such as graduate programs and professional careers. The program also offers students the opportunity to gain teacher licensure. Students are taught to think critically, to communicate (in both written and verbal form) in an articulate manner, and to respect opinions and ideas unlike their own. Finally, the program seeks to instill in students an appreciation of their own history as well as the histories of others.

The Bachelor of Arts in Humanities will provide the student with a well-rounded knowledge of various aspects of western culture, including art, literature, history, music, religion and philosophy. Students in this major will choose one area of emphasis (Philosophy, Art History, or Liberal Arts) to complement their required Humanities survey courses and seminars. The primary goal of the Humanities major is to explore some of the basic themes and questions concerning the human condition from a historical perspective. This major will develop strong critical thinking and research skills within the student and help them to make various connections within and across historical periods. The student will also be required to develop a Christian worldview and to reflect on how they might apply their personal calling and abilities to fields within the humanities and to the world. The Humanities major would serve to provide students with the most comprehensive liberal arts education and be a great primary or secondary major for those students who wish to establish an excellent foundation for graduate or professional school. The major would also serve those who wish to pursue other various careers by providing them with critical thinking and writing skills, as well as an informed sense of what it means to be a Christian in our contemporary age.

In harmony with the mission statements of Lee University and its College of Arts and Sciences, the Department of Natural Sciences and Mathematics strives to equip students for success in mathematics and science through its commitment to excellence in teaching, interdisciplinary studies and innovative research. Majors are provided with a foundation in the sciences and mathematics to enable them to think critically, communicate clearly and perform successfully in their vocational calling. Through the integration of faith and its academic disciplines, the department promotes the highest standards of professional and ethical behavior. Students are challenged to discover and use their God-given gifts and talents to make a positive impact in their world.

The department offers majors in Biochemistry, Biological Science, Biological Science Education, Chemistry, Chemistry Education, Health Science, Mathematics and Mathematics Education. Foundation courses in botany, zoology, chemistry, computer science, health sciences, mathematics and physics present opportunities for both majors and non-majors to become acquainted with basic principles and concepts of the biological and physical sciences.

Biological Science
The Biological Science program (BIOLS.BS) is intended for the student who desires a good foundation in the biological sciences but not necessarily an emphasis in teaching, or the pre-professional track. Although these individuals could design their program to meet the requirements for professional school, they are more likely to progress to graduate studies or the technical job market. The philosophy of this program is to provide a broad exposure to the various sub-disciplines of biology so as to provide a solid foundation of knowledge and understanding on which to build with additional graduate training or work experience. There is an emphasis on understanding, problem solving, exploration of the scientific literature and research.

Undergraduate Studies in the Helen DeVos College of Education

The Helen DeVos College of Education seeks to promote practices and programs that facilitate teaching and learning. This occurs in the classroom and outside of the classroom through modeling best practice, encouraging experimentation and innovation, research, and facilitating programs that positively affect the learner in his/her environment.

At the heart of the Helen DeVos College of Education is the Teacher Education Program, which is the mechanism that governs all teacher preparation and licensure programs. Thus, the College collaborates with other departments on campus to provide a broadbased curriculum of liberal arts, specialty area study and professional education. Experiential learning is highly valued as students construct understandings and develop problem solving skills in the context of real-world situations.

The Helen DeVos College of Education includes the Department of Early Childhood, Elementary, and Special Education and the Department of Health, Exercise Science, and Secondary Education. The Department of Early Childhood, Elementary, and Special Education offers majors in Human Development, Early Childhood; Middle Grades Education; Interdisciplinary Studies (Elementary Education) and Special Education.

The faculty of this department collaborate with the faculty of the respective discipline specialties and staff the courses of the professional studies sequences for each of the curricula.

The Department of Health, Exercise Science, and Secondary Education offers majors in Athletic Training, Health Science with an emphasis in Fitness/Wellness, Health / Wellness Education, and Physical Education with an emphasis in Recreation. The department also offers minors in Fitness/Wellness, Physical Education, Recreation, and Coaching, as well as the professional education courses required for secondary education majors.

Graduate Studies in Education

Gary Riggins, Graduate Program Director

Master of Education in Classroom Teaching, Special Education, or Educational Leadership (M.Ed.)

This program is designed to provide post-baccalaureate study for persons preparing for careers in professional education and for those teachers and school administrators who want to refine their professional skills. Specifically, the degree will:

1. Provide advanced preparation, theory, integration of faith and learning, and practical application.
2. Encourage candidates to solve professional problems by independent investigation through study and research.
3. Further develop the professional competencies attained in undergraduate programs.

For those school personnel who have a need for further professional training but who may not be interested in pursuing a graduate degree, this program of study may provide in-service educational opportunities.

Master of Arts in Teaching (M.A.T.)

The purpose of this program in Elementary, Secondary, or Special Education is to provide a route to initial teacher licensure with graduate work leading to a master’s degree. Students who successfully complete the degree program and meet all standardized test requirements will be eligible for licensure by the Tennessee Department of Education.

The Conceptual Framework

The following brief outline is an abridged version of the extended Conceptual Framework that guides the Unit's work. This abstraction delineates the linkage between the Unit's Vision, Mission, Philosophy, and Goals and is the basic rationale for all its activities.
Vision
The vision of the Graduate Education Program at Lee University is to be an institution of international significance in professional education. That vision is expressed in the following mission statement summarizing and organizing this unit’s efforts toward that end.

Mission
This unit's mission is to produce candidates who are...
- Lifelong Learners
- Effective Educators
- Ethical Practitioners

Each of the three statements in the mission is an organizing principle that shapes and informs this unit’s activities and is the summation of the following fundamental philosophical assumptions undergirding these lofty ideals.

Philosophy
Competent, caring, and qualified educational professionals are essential in securing the future of this country and the world. These men and women must be prepared to discern wisely, think creatively, and lead courageously. Toward that end, the Lee University Graduate Education programs are designed to encourage problem finding, problem solving and reflective practice within the framework of biblical truth and commitment of service in the kingdom of God. The program should enhance the candidates’ present teaching and leadership skills, help develop new talents, and improve educational research abilities. Expected outcomes include scholarly contribution to the profession, significantly improved classroom teaching, and modeling of able and compassionate leadership. This philosophical ideal is best achieved if our candidates are Lifelong learners, Effective Educators, and Ethical Practitioners.

Goals
Specifically, the goals that follow are the expected pragmatic outcomes of the unit’s vision, mission and philosophy. Along the way, the assessment of these benchmarks helps ensure adequate progress toward the realization of the unit’s philosophy, its mission and ultimately its vision.

For each of the levels in the unit - the Masters and Specialists - the seven fundamental goals are the same. In each of the levels, these goals are further refined to reflect program specifics and are linked to additional external measures that help clarify and differentiate the expected outcome by program. Further, each of the fundamental goals will be related to one or more of the mission outcomes, Lifelong Learner, Effective Educator, Ethical Practitioner. As indicated above, the subsections for each level of these fundamental goals will be identified and cited from a variety of organizations including outcome goals established by the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards, Tennessee State Board of Education for the Administrator License (TSBEAL), and those identified by this unit (12 Unit Goals).

Graduate Goals

Masters Level Classroom Teaching Candidates will demonstrate evidence of intellectual and personal growth defined by the prescriptive activities in the 12 undergraduate Unit Goals (initial license) linked to each of the following goals for the Master Level candidate.

Masters Level Educational Leadership Candidates will demonstrate evidence of intellectual and personal growth in standards implicit in the seven areas described in the Tennessee State Board of Education for the Administrator License (TSBEAL -A-G) as they are linked to the following fundamental goals for the Master Level candidate.

Educational Specialist Level Classroom Teaching Candidates: The graduate education goals are extended for the Educational Specialist candidates in Classroom Teaching to include outcomes identified by the Unit (U1-12), the EDS candidates in Classroom Teaching will satisfy the objectives inherent in the five (5) Core Propositions (P1-5) of the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards (NBPTS).

Educational Specialist Level Educational Leadership Candidates: The fundamental graduate education goals are extended for the Educational Specialist candidates in Educational Leadership. In addition to the general outcomes identified by the NBPTS Five (5) Core Propositions (P1-5: please note that in the NBPTS sections, the word “Teachers” has been replaced by the word “Educator”), these candidates will satisfy the outcomes mandated by the Tennessee State Board of Education for the Administrator License (TSBEAL).

All Graduate candidates will demonstrate competencies in an (a):
1. Extend Knowledge and experience in the area of learning and instruction, including conceptual and practical applications of practices that support the process.
2. Understanding and utilization of research methods that improve practices in schools and classrooms.
3. Ability to apply knowledge of multi-media technology to school and classroom practices.
4. Understanding and application of practice of inclusive educational opportunities for learners from diverse backgrounds and disabilities.
5. Enhancement and extension of knowledge of current trends and issues in education.
6. Demonstration of professional contributions, such as leadership in professional organizations, provision of in-service education for peers and mentorship of beginning teachers.

The Department of Early Childhood, Elementary, and Special Education provides training for those students wishing to obtain teacher licensure in early childhood education (PreK-3), elementary education (K-6), middle grades education (4-8), and special education (K-12). The department also provides the professional education courses for post-baccalaureate students seeking licensure on the undergraduate level. Students wishing to work with children in institutions and agencies other than public schools may choose majors that do not lead to teacher licensure.

The major in Human Development, Early Childhood prepares students for a profession as an early childhood teacher (PreK-3). A major in Interdisciplinary Studies prepares students for a profession as an elementary teacher (K-6). A major in middle grades prepares students for a profession as an upper elementary or middle grades teacher (4-8). A major in Human Development, Business Emphasis, prepares students for working with younger children in agencies and schools where teacher licensure is not required or for graduate work in child and family studies. The courses in psychology, sociology, cultural anthropology, linguistics and health provide knowledge in the stages of early human development and family organizations as well as an understanding of how these stages are influenced by culture.

The major in Special Education (Teacher Licensure Emphasis) prepares students for a profession as a special education teacher (K-12) in a resource setting, in a self-contained class, or as an inclusion teacher in a general education classroom. A major in Special Education, Support Services Emphasis, is appropriate for students who wish to pursue a career in a child care area, alternative schools or education facilities housed within psychiatric hospitals, as well as in the mental health or social services areas.

Secondary Education

The Department of Health, Exercise Science, and Secondary Education prepares students for careers in secondary education, physical education (including K-12 licensure), fitness/wellness, health education (including K-12 licensure), recreation and athletic training. In addition to major classes, the department offers a variety of activity, sport, and lifetime fitness classes.

The secondary education faculty work extensively with other departments on campus and the state of Tennessee to secure teacher licensure for students admitted to the Teacher Education Program. All students seeking licensure in a secondary education area (other than physical education or health) will declare their major in the College of Arts and Science or the School of Music. Initial licensure areas include biology, business, business technology, chemistry, English, French, health education, history, mathematics, instrumental music, physical education, psychology, Spanish and vocal/general music. Numerous add-on licenses are available. For a complete list see the add-on endorsement section at the end of the introduction to the Helen DeVos College of Education in this catalog.

The Health Science major with an emphasis in Fitness and Wellness prepares students for careers in corporate, commercial, community and hospital-based settings. Knowledge of the human body and the effects of exercise and general self-care are emphasized. Students are encouraged to prepare for and take one of the American College of Sports Medicine (ACSM) certification examinations immediately after graduation.

Teacher licensure areas in Physical Education and Health Education prepare professionals for successful and productive careers in teaching grades K-12. Both programs emphasize knowledge of the human body, self care, and techniques to motivate all students to lead healthy and productive lives. Students are encouraged (but not required) to become certified in both fields prior to graduation.

A Physical Education degree with an emphasis in Recreation is offered for students wanting to work in various recreational settings. A leadership track prepares students for careers in city and county agencies, YMCAs or on college campuses. A second track focuses on outdoor recreational experiences emphasizing safety, skills, and teaching styles in canoeing, backpacking and several other outdoor venues.

The Athletic Training Education Program prepares students for a career as a health-care professional in athletic training. A certified athletic trainer has numerous employment possibilities, including college and university intercollegiate athletic programs, interscholastic athletics, professional sports, corporations and in clinic and hospital-based programs. Athletic training students will have the opportunity to develop applied technical and clinical skills while working with the athletic programs at Lee University and in our affiliated sites such as local high schools, orthopedic clinics, and hospitals.

Lee University's ATEP is nationally accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of Allied Health Education Programs through the Commission on Accreditation of Athletic Training Education. The initial accreditation status was awarded through 2010.

Admission to the Athletic Training Education Program

The Athletic Training curriculum is highly competitive. Entry into this phase of the athletic training curriculum is NOT guaranteed upon completion of the preprofessional phase during the sophomore year. The determining factors include the success of the pre-professional experience, meeting all academic prerequisites, completion of the clinical proficiencies and how many students are currently enrolled in the program. The number of students admitted into the program varies from year to year with the usual cohort numbering between five and eight.

Freshman students enrolled in ATEP 115 or ATEP 353 are required to attend OSHA and HIPPA training to accumulate clinical observation hours.

Students may apply for admission to the Athletic Training Education Program (ATEP) in the middle of their Sophomore year. Selection is centered on academic achievement and athletic training experiences. Academic achievement involves successful completion of BIOL 109 and/or HSCI-292 and ATEP-200 (with at least a B), and maintaining an overall grade point average of 2.50 on a 4-point scale. The athletic training experiences include working under the direct supervision of a certified athletic trainer and completing clinical proficiencies. Applications are available from the Director of the Athletic Training Education Program and must be completed and submitted to the Program Director by the December graduation date.

The following requirements need to be met in order to apply to the curriculum phase of the athletic training program. Applicants must:

- Have a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.50 for ALL course work attempted
- Major in Athletic Training
- Have completed 4 credit hours of basic college level human anatomy or biology (ex. HSCI-292 or BIOL 109) with a grade of “C” or higher
- Have completed a basic college-level First Aid (ATEP-353)

with a grade of “B” or higher and have a current CPR card (by American Red Cross, American Heart Association or equivalent)

- Have completed a basic college-level athletic training course (ex. ATEP-200) with a grade of “B” or higher

The second category of prerequisites is the Athletic training experiences. The four requirements are:

- Obtain a recommendation from a National Athletic Trainers Association Board of Certification (NATABOC) Certified Athletic Trainer who knows the student and his/her interest and commitment toward athletic training studies.
- Completion of clinical proficiencies outlined in ATEP 200 and ATEP 353.
- An acknowledgement of the student’s ability to meet the demands of the program—with or without accommodations—as presented in the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA) Education Council’s technical standards.
- Provide documentation of at least 70 hours of clinical observation.

In addition to the two categories of prerequisites, professional goals and work experience related to any allied health field (e.g. rescue squad, physical therapy aide, etc.) are taken into consideration when weighing athletic training experiences. Students will be notified, in writing, of the outcome of their application. If the application is accepted, the student will begin the curriculum phase.

The Athletic Training Student Handbook contains details on these and other policies and procedures of the Athletic Training Education Program. This handbook is provided to all students enrolled in ATEP-200. Once an applicant is accepted to the Professional aspect of Athletic Training Education, the student will begin clinical rotations with affiliated sites. The student is responsible for travel (no more than 30 miles) to reach their assigned site. Some high school sites will require a background check prior to beginning that clinical rotation.

Endorsements

A student in any Teacher Education program may add additional endorsements or licensure areas in Health Education or Physical Education. Information regarding required classes, hours, and Praxis II tests may be obtained in the Teacher Education Office.

School of Music

The Lee University School of Music is an institutional member of the National Association of Schools of Music; 11250 Roger Bacon Drive, Suite 21; Reston, VA 20190; (703) 437-0700.

The School of Music offers programs of study designed to prepare men and women for the performance or instruction of the musical arts by developing skills needed to become music performers, educators, ministers, private instructors, or music business professionals. The School of Music offers the Bachelor of Arts in Music (Applied Emphasis), Bachelor of Arts in Music (Church Music Emphasis), Bachelor of Music Education, Bachelor of Music in Performance, Bachelor of Music in Church Music and Bachelor of Science in Music (Music Business Emphasis) degrees.

Bachelor of Arts in Music
Students wishing to pursue a liberal arts degree may audition for these programs. While developing performance and ensemble skills, understanding the place of music in its broader context as one of the humanities is the priority of this major.

Bachelor of Arts in Music – Church Music Emphasis
Specifically designed to equip the music minister in the congregational setting, these degree tracks stress practical skills needed to lead the modern church in musical worship. Performance literature includes a well-selected balance of standard repertory and contemporary selections.

Bachelor of Music Education
Offered in cooperation with the Helen DeVos College of Education, degrees in music education lead toward teacher licensure for students pursuing careers in elementary or secondary schools. These programs provide the pedagogical and musical experiences needed for students to succeed as music educators. The program meets all requirements for K-12 music education certification through the Tennessee Department of Education.

Bachelor of Music in Church Music
The Bachelor of Music in Church Music is designed to provide undergraduate professional education for men and women who wish to pursue music ministry leadership in a local church. Church music of today is an increasingly varied and ever-changing area of study and ministry. To be a successful church musician in today’s environment, a student needs to have a balance of historical and biblical knowledge of church music, excellent musical skills, a sound philosophical approach, and the ability to apply these skills and knowledge in a local church setting. A primary goal of the Bachelor of Music in Church Music degree is to develop in the student a balance of skill, knowledge, and practical application through intensive music study supported by a broad general core.

Bachelor of Music – Performance
Students with significant talent and experience in music may audition for this highly selective degree program. Its primary focus is individual performance, preparing the student for study in performance at the graduate level and/or studio teaching. Study of specialized pedagogy and literature complete the music core of theory, history and analysis.

Bachelor of Science in Music – Music Business Emphasis
Offered in cooperation with the Departments of Business and Communication and the Arts, these degree tracks provide multidisciplinary instruction to students desiring careers as performers, managers or entrepreneurs in music business. Building on the common core of music classes, the degree culminates with a recital or specialized project.

Official Acceptance to the School of Music
Requirements for acceptance of a student to the School of Music which must be completed prior to registration are:

1. Admission to the University
2. The completion of a music theory placement exam.
3. An audition in the primary area of study (instrumental, keyboard or voice).
4. The demonstration of skills that can be developed to enable the student to successfully serve as a performer, music educator, music minister or music entrepreneur. Any deficiencies must be completed, without credit, during the first year.
5. The completion of a piano placement examination.

Piano Proficiency Requirement
The Piano Proficiency requirement is part of a continuing effort to prepare music graduates for their respective careers in the best and most thorough manner possible. We require it because the development of basic, functional keyboard skills is considered essential to success in all music careers.

Most music majors must demonstrate proficiency in General Skills and Specific Skills. General skills are those required of all majors (except BA Music); specific skills are those associated with the various degree programs offered by the School of Music. Based on an evaluation of each student’s skills before matriculation as a music major, the piano faculty assigns placement in the appropriate level of piano study.

Piano Proficiency classes cover both general and specific skills. Students assigned to class piano, MUSA 111, are expected to remain in the sequence of piano classes (MUSA 111, 112,121,122) until the proficiency requirement is completed.

All students assigned to MUSA-111 or higher will play the exam as outlined in the music handbook. If all competencies are not met by the completion of MUSA 122 or its equivalent, the student must register for the appropriate level of piano study in an applied studio, i.e. MUSA-102-PI.

All music majors (except BA Music) must enroll in piano every semester until all aspects of the proficiency are passed. The completion of MUSA 122 or its approved equivalent will be required of all music education majors as a prerequisite to student teaching and other music majors, for graduation.

AP-Advanced Placement in Music Theory
Students receiving a score of four or better on the 1996 version (or later) of the Advanced Placement Examination in Music Theory will be granted proficiency credit for Theory I (MUST-111, 3 credit hours) and Sight-singing & Ear-training I (MUST-112, 1 credit hour). Evidence of qualification for such placement must appear in the student’s advising folder and will take the place of a score on the Music Theory Placement Examination required by the School of Music.

Requirements for Upper-Division Study
Requirements for admission into upper-division study are:

1. A minimum 2.0 overall grade point average in all music courses.
2. The attainment of a 2.0 overall grade point average at the completion of 58 semester hours.
3. The successful completion of an Upper Division Admission Examination (UDAE), a special hearing given before a committee of music faculty members during the fourth semester of applied music study.
4. Transfer students with more than 58 hours must have a minimum 2.0 grade point average in music as well as a minimum 2.0 overall grade point average and must perform the UDAE during their first semester of study at Lee. Placement in upper-division study as the result of an audition is conditional until successful completion of the UDAE.

Recital/Project Requirements
Guidelines governing all degree recitals/projects:

- Applications must be submitted by published deadlines.
- Performances that vary from the requirements for the student’s degree program—including length and format—must have approval of the appropriate Department Chair.
- All recitals/projects require hearings by appropriate faculty committees.

Requirements for the various degree programs:

- Bachelor of Arts in Music: a thirty-minute recital or scholarly paper in the senior year
- Bachelor of Arts in Music – Church Music Emphasis: a thirty-minute recital in the senior year
- Bachelor of Music Education: a thirty-minute recital in the senior year
- Bachelor of Music – Performance: a thirty-minute recital in the junior year and a one-hour recital in the senior year
- Bachelor of Music – Church Music: a thirty-minute recital in the senior year
- Bachelor of Science – Music Business Emphasis: a senior project in the senior year

Performance Seminar Requirements
Every student majoring in music is required to enroll in and successfully complete Performance Seminar (MUSA-185) for seven semesters. Graded on a pass/fail basis, this course receives zero hours credit. A passing grade is based on the attendance of 60% of Performance Seminar offerings per semester and 9 additional music events. Performance Seminar meets every Thursday afternoon at 4 p.m. in the Squires Recital Hall in the Center for the Humanities Building.

Class roll will be taken electronically, and students entering late or leaving early will not receive credit for attendance at the class. To receive credit for the remaining required off campus events or on-campus performances, where roll is not taken by a School of Music representative, the student must bring a program, along with a completed Performance Seminar Attendance Verification Form, to the School of Music Administrative Offices with in five business days of the event. A student is expected to attend the entire performance in order to receive credit. No exceptions will be made. The additional concerts must come from the categories of vocal/choral, instrumental, and ensemble music, three of each. Exceptions to this policy require an approved academic petition submitted to the Dean of the School of Music prior to the conclusion of the semester. The Performance Seminar requirements for transfer students are determined on an individual basis by the Dean of the School of Music.

Performance Ensembles
Students pursuing a Bachelor of Arts in Music are required to enroll in four semesters of a required ensemble (MUSE 101 – 201) according to the area of their primary instrument. Students pursuing a Bachelor of Arts in Music – Church Music Emphasis or the Bachelor of Music Education are required to enroll in six semesters of a required ensemble (MUSE 101 – 301) according to the area of their primary instrument and four semesters of elective ensemble (MUSE 102 – 202). This must include two of Choral Union in order to partially fulfill choral/vocal training competencies. Students majoring in Music Education must have completed all ensemble requirements prior to the student teaching semester and may not participate in a performance ensemble during the student teaching semester. Students pursuing a Bachelor of Science in Music – Music Business Emphasis are required to enroll in six semesters of a required ensemble (MUSE 101 – 301) and four semesters of elective ensemble (MUSE 102 – 202). Students pursuing a Bachelor of Music are required to enroll in seven semesters of a required ensemble (MUSE 101 – 201) according to the area of their primary instrument and four semesters of elective ensemble (MUSE 102 – 202).

Required Ensembles by area of primary instrument:

- Non-keyboard instruments: Wind Ensemble or Symphony Orchestra (Symphonic Band if not selected for either listed)
- Keyboard instruments: Choral Union, Wind Ensemble, or Symphony Orchestra
- Voice: Choral Union

For transfer students, the ensemble requirement is determined on an individual basis by the Dean of the School of Music. Only full-time students in good academic standing in the University may participate in touring ensembles.

Official Acceptance into the Teacher Education Program
All students who desire to prepare as K-12 music educators are required to make application for and be accepted into the Teacher Education Program prior to registering for 400-level methods courses. Application is to be filed during the first semester of the sophomore year or when the student is enrolled in MUED-225. Application forms may be obtained in the office of the Director of Teacher Education, Helen DeVos College of Education.

Music Education
A Music Education student may not present a Senior Recital or be enrolled in course work outside of student teaching during the student teaching semester. The student will not be allowed to student teach if he/she has not completed the piano proficiency requirement in its entirety or passed appropriate parts of the Praxis II, or completed all degree requirements other than those expressly required during the Student Teaching semester. For information on official acceptance to student teaching, see the appropriate section listed under the Helen DeVos College of Education.

Dual Endorsement/Certification in Music Education
A student pursuing a Bachelor of Music Education degree with Instrumental Teacher Licensure, Grades K-12, may add-on Vocal/General Teacher Licensure, Grades K-12, by completing the following courses:

- MUED-421 Methods and Materials for Teaching Vocal/General Music, Grades 7-12
- MUED-405 Methods and Materials for Teaching Music in the Elementary School

It is also recommended that the student complete four semesters (one credit hour each) of applied voice or voice class as a secondary instrument. It is also recommended that the student participate in a choral ensemble two semesters. Student teaching must include both instrumental and vocal/general experience.

A student pursuing a Bachelor of Music Education degree with Vocal/General Teacher Licensure, Grades K-12, may add-on Instrumental Teacher Licensure, Grades K-12, by completing the following courses:
MUED-231  Brass Techniques
MUED-241  Woodwind Techniques
MUED-251  String Techniques
MUED-261  Percussion Techniques
MUED-422  Methods and Materials of Teaching Marching Band
MUED-423  Methods and Materials of Teaching Concert Band and Orchestra

It is also recommended that the student complete four semesters (one credit hour each) of applied instrumental (non-keyboard) lessons on a secondary instrument. It is recommended that the student participate in an instrumental ensemble two semesters. Student teaching must include both instrumental and vocal/general experience. The instrumental technique classes would substitute for MUED-226, Introduction to Instrumental Music.

Music Endorsement for the Non-Music Education Major
Vocal/General Music, Grades K-12

Music Resource Center
The Music Resource Center houses reference material, scores, technological resources, and audio-visual materials including DVDs, videos, CDs, cassettes, and LPs. The purpose of the Music Resource Center is to provide Lee University students and faculty with resources and information services to support the university's programs in church music, applied music, and music education and performance, as well as serving music reference and research needs for the local community. The audio-visual materials, technological resources and reference materials basically do not circulate outside the MRC to students, but are checked out for two-hour in-house use. Circulating scores may be checked out for a 14-day loan period to undergraduate students and a 28-day loan period to graduate students. Graduate students may check out audio-visual materials for a 24-hour period.

Access to the Music Technology Lab, which is located in the MRC, is approved on an individual basis by signing in at the circulation desk. A valid Lee University ID card or Cleveland Public Library card is required for admittance to the Music Technology Lab (MTL) and to check out materials. Regular hours for the MTL are:

- Monday-Thursday 8:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. (closed during chapel)
- Friday 8:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m.
- Saturday 12:00 noon to 5:00 p.m.
- Sunday 2:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Hours may vary during holidays and special events.

Statement of Purpose
The School of Music provides discipline related experiences in worship, musical artistry, and aesthetics which will help prepare Lee University graduate students for responsible living in the modern world. It addresses its efforts both to the general university student and to those who choose to pursue music as graduate students.

For the student who wishes to pursue music as a profession, course offerings will assist in preparing graduate students for careers in the ministry of music in either church leadership or performance roles, music education in either public or private schools or private studio teaching, and the public performance arena as soloist or collaborative artist. The School of Music supports the belief that in order to be truly educated, each student must be familiar with the monumental artistic achievements of western civilization. Each student is offered the opportunity to become acquainted with selected examples of music literature and to develop the listening and analytic skills necessary to understand and appreciate that literature.

The faculty of the School of Music advocates that music is not only an academic discipline, but it is also a performance art. Working with university administration and the Fine Arts Committee, the School of Music endeavors to provide a well-rounded series of events that allow the university community to participate in music from an artistic and aesthetic perspective. The School also maintains a variety of music ensembles that provide interested, talented, and qualified students the opportunity to become acquainted with the performer’s art.

Since Lee University is a Christian university, the School of Music is intimately involved in the spiritual life of the campus. Through its faculty and students, the School takes a leading role in providing musical worship experiences in the university-wide chapel services. Courses are provided which are specifically designed to aid pastors, Christian Education students, and others preparing for full-time Christian service. In addition, the School of Music offers workshops, seminars, and clinics for ministers of music, pastors, and church leaders in order to promote the ministry of music in the Church of God, the sponsoring denomination of Lee University and other faith traditions.

The students, faculty and administration of the School of Music accept the responsibility to bring a sense of celebration to our university community through the re-creative art of music—a celebration of the creative gifts with which our Creator God has endowed man and a celebration of the God of our salvation through music that is both artistic and spiritual.

National Association of Schools of Music

The Lee University School of Music is an accredited institutional member of the National Association of Schools of Music (NASM). NASM has been recognized by the United States Department of Education as the agency responsible for the accreditation of all music curricula. NASM is a constituent member of the American Council on Education. In the field of teacher education, the Association cooperates with the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education. The services of the Association are available to all types of degree-granting institutions in higher education and to non-degree-granting institutions offering pre-professional programs or general music training programs. Membership in the Association is on a voluntary basis.

The general statement of aims and objectives follows:

- To provide a national forum for the discussion and consideration of concerns relevant to the preservation and advancement of standards in the field of music in higher education.
- To develop a national unity and strength for the purpose of maintaining the position of music study in the family of fine arts and humanities in our universities, colleges and schools of music.
- To maintain professional leadership in music training and develop a national context for professional growth of the artist.
- To establish minimum standards of achievement in music curricula without restricting an administration or school in its freedom to develop new ideas, to experiment or to expand its program.
- To recognize that inspired teaching may rightly reject a “status quo” philosophy.
- To establish that the prime objective of all educational programs in music is to provide the opportunity for every music student to develop individual potentials to the utmost.

The Graduate Music Committee

The Graduate Music Committee’s responsibility is to give administrative oversight to the Graduate Studies in Music program. The committee considers and recommends curricular changes to the university faculty, approves all policies, assesses effectiveness of the graduate program, serves as the Admissions Committee, reviews candidacy, and approves applicants for graduation. The Graduate Music Committee consists of: William R. Green, D.M.A., Dean of the School of Music, Chair; Mark Bailey, D.M.E., Jim Burns, D.M.A., Ron Brendel, D.M.A., Walt Mauldin, D.M.A., Bradley Moffett, D.W.S., Austin Patty, PhD; Phillip Thomas, Ph. D., Linda Thompson, Ph. D., and LuAnn Holden, M. M.

Graduate Programs in Music Admission Requirements

Each applicant must complete and submit:

- The Graduate Studies in Music Application for Admission
- A current Resume
- An essay explaining the rationale for his/her desire to become a graduate student in Lee University School of Music Graduate Program
- Three reference forms (two academic and one personal)
- Lee University Health Clinic Certificate of Immunization

Non-degree Seeking Status

A student desiring to take courses without admission to Graduate Studies in Music will be required to complete an application and submit official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended. A maximum of nine semester hours may be taken as a non-degree seeking student, and enrollment will be limited to specific entry-level courses. The Dean of the School of Music must approve any course(s) selected by the applicant. Completion of course work under non-degree seeking status does not guarantee that a student will be admitted to any graduate music degree program for which they may subsequently apply. Non-degree-seeking student may pursue admission to Graduate Studies in Music programs by meeting all admission criteria.

Completion Requirements

1. To be a full-time graduate student the student must enroll in nine semester hours per semester. It is possible for a full-time graduate student-in-residence to complete classroom courses for the degree program in one year. It is suggested that this optimal course load will be as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Term</th>
<th>Hours</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Fall</td>
<td>12</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spring</td>
<td>12</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Summer</td>
<td>08</td>
</tr>

2. In addition to this traditional approach to scheduling, courses will be offered so that students may attend classes one day a week (specifically Thursday for only Master of Church Music students) and complete course requirements over a two-year period. A schedule of late afternoon and early evening classes has been developed to assist the working music professional to achieve his/her degree while maintaining a career.
Another option is the modular two-week “J-Term” summer courses offered each June and July. Distance students may complete course requirements over a three-year period using other creative options during the regular academic calendar to meet Music Elective, Ministerial Elective and Advanced Technique Music Studies requirements.

3. A cumulative average of 3.0 or above (on a 4.0 scale) is required in the graduate program. Course credits with a grade below a “C” may not be counted toward the degree.

4. Graduate Church Music students will have a practicum requirement in which they will serve in a local church or other appropriate venue under the supervision of a qualified professional and his/her graduate faculty adviser.

5. Graduate students must successfully complete a final project, depending on their degree program the final project may be a graduate recital, a thesis or a worship festival. The final project must be completed at least three weeks prior to graduation.

6. Master of Church Music Graduate students must successfully complete a worship festival. This must be completed at least three weeks prior to graduation.

7. Music Education Graduate students must successfully complete a thesis (two options) or final project. This must be completed at least three weeks prior to graduation.

8. Master of Music-Music Performance students must successfully present a one-hour public recital. The recital must be presented at least three weeks prior to graduation.

9. A student is admitted to candidacy for the graduate degrees only after the completion of 28 (MUSCH.MCM) or 30 (MUSED.MM & MUSPF. MM) hours of course work and the successful completion of the written and oral comprehensive exams.

10. Upon completion of all required course work, the Master’s candidate is required to register for GRAD-591 Graduate Supervision for each succeeding semester until the comprehensive examinations and the final project (thesis, recital, or worship festival, depending upon the degree requirements) are satisfactorily completed. One hour of graduate tuition is charged for each semester of enrollment in GRAD-591. While enrollment in GRAD-591 is required for continuing candidate status in the program, it does not fulfill any degree requirements and carries no credit. If the student fails to register and pay for GRAD-591 for two consecutive semesters, but then wishes to return to complete the final project and/or comprehensive exams, s/he must re-apply to the University.

Once a student begins course work towards a graduate music degree, the degree program must be completed within a six-year period.

Final Project Committee

1. The graduate student’s Final Project Committee will include a chairperson and two additional members. This committee will give oversight and direction for the final project. The student may refer to this committee as his/her “Final Project Committee.” The Chair of the Graduate Music Committee will assign two graduate faculty members to serve on the student’s Final Project Committee. Each student may choose an additional faculty member to serve on his/her committee. The student must seek approval from the faculty member before submitting his/her name to the Chair of the Graduate Music Committee.

2. Requirements for the worship festival, thesis, and recital can be found in the Graduate Music Handbook or from the Graduate Studies in Music Office.

Comprehensive Exams

Comprehensive exams are typically offered three weeks before the desired graduation ceremonies. A three-hour written exam is followed one week later by a 30 minute oral examination. The written exam can cover all material presented in the graduate music curriculum, and/or other material in music history, hymnology and related areas from undergraduate study. The oral exam continues the exploration by the graduate faculty of the student’s experiences and the synthesis of their academic work. A minimum of three members of the Graduate Music Committee will be present for the oral comprehensive exam.

It recognizes that music and the ability to perform it are gifts from God and strives to instill the guiding principle that good stewardship of those gifts is a responsibility inherent to their endowment.

The department serves its majors by providing intensive, personalized studio instruction and other specialized courses in instrumental music. It serves the School of Music by administering music theory, history and literature courses for all music majors. Besides delivering the music elective component of the general education core to the university, the department also provides elective instruction on a wide spectrum of band, orchestral, and keyboard instruments. Departmental ensembles also invite membership from the entire student body, as well as the surrounding community.

The Department of Vocal Music recognizes the importance of a comprehensive education in music and offers programs relevant to a wide range of musical environments. The department administers five baccalaureate degree programs designed to prepare the student for church music ministry, teaching of choral and general music in public or private schools, vocal performance, private instruction, music business, and further studies at the graduate level.

Each discipline includes the general education core and is supported by an appropriate array of courses through private studio and class instruction that encourages creativity, performance and scholarship. Choral ensembles, opera workshop and musical theater classes provide educational opportunities for vocal performance integrating experiences in diverse styles.

The vocal faculty believes, teaches, and demonstrates that integrity and artistry in vocal performance bring glory to our Creator, whether in art song, opera, folk ballad or contemporary Christian song.

School of Religion
Terry L. Cross, Dean

Department of Christian Ministries
Thomas J. Doolittle, Chairperson

Department of Theology
Rickie D. Moore, Chairperson

The School of Religion offers programs of study to prepare men and women for ministry in the church and world. Two departments oversee the curriculum and faculty for these programs: the Department of Christian Ministries and the Department of Theology. The Department of Christian Ministries combines theoretical and practical information on a biblical basis in training students for ministry in the contemporary world. It offers the following degrees: the Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Science in Pastoral Ministry, Discipleship Ministry, Children's Ministry, and Youth Ministry; and the B.A. in Intercultural Studies, with emphases in global missionology, urban missions, or vocational studies. Minors may be obtained through the Department of Christian Ministries in Discipleship Ministry, Christian Ministry, Children's Ministry, Youth Ministry, and Intercultural Studies. The Department of Theology offers the B.A. in Biblical and Theological Studies with two emphases: a preprofessional studies emphasis and a pastoral studies emphasis. Minors in philosophy, New Testament Greek, and Biblical Languages are available from the Department of Theology. The School of Religion oversees the work of the School of Religion programs in the Center for Adult and Professional Studies (CAPS). School of Religion degrees offered through CAPS are as follows: B.A./B.S. in Christian Education; B.A./B.S. in Christian Leadership (part of the degree completion program through CAPS); B.A./B.S in Christian Studies; B.A./B.S. in Pastoral Studies; and the Bachelor of Christian Ministry through the Charlotte Center. CAPS also offers a 24-hour Certificate Program (non-degree track) in several emphases. The curriculum, faculty, and programs are administered through CAPS but are overseen by the School of Religion. The School of Religion provides several graduate programs of study in the disciplines of Biblical Studies, Theological Studies, and Ministry Studies. In addition to these various degree programs, the School of Religion oversees the Religion Core Minor that undergraduate students at Lee University complete for graduation requirements. The Religion Core Minor is operated through the Department of Theology. It consists of 18 hours in the following schema: Old Testament, New Testament, Biblical and Theological Foundations of Benevolence, Introduction to Theology, Introduction to Christian Ethics, Christian Service and a Religion Capstone course within one's major.

Graduate Studies

Terry L. Cross, Dean

The School of Religion offers three graduate degrees: the Master of Arts in Biblical Studies, the Master of Arts in Theological Studies, and the Master of Arts in Ministry Studies.

Graduate Studies in Biblical and Theological Studies

Rickie D. Moore, Department of Theology, Chairperson
Skip Jenkins, Director of Graduate Programs in Biblical and Theological Studies

The Master of Arts degree in Biblical Studies and the Master of Arts degree in Theological Studies provide post-baccalaureate study which prepares men and women for further graduate work or for other vocational interests. The programs are offered within a community of Christian scholars. The educational perspective is evangelical/Pentecostal. The focus of the degree programs is academic rather than professional. The goal of the programs is disciplinary competence through collegial engagement with peers and scholars in the discipline. The degree programs in Biblical and Theological Studies offer advanced study in the disciplines. In this respect, they are different from seminar degree programs which accept applicants with any undergraduate degree. Those with the undergraduate degree in biblical/theological studies can complete the MA with 36 credit hours of study. There is an alternative path for those with less preparation at the undergraduate level. This degree tract requires 48 credit hours to complete.

Graduate Studies in Christian Ministries

Thomas J. Doolittle, Department of Christian Ministries, Chairperson
Lisa M. Long, Director of Graduate Programs in Christian Ministries

The Master of Arts degree in Ministry Studies at Lee University provides a program of study that combines practical studies and practical ministry. For those whose undergraduate degree focused on religious studies, this graduate program offers the opportunity to further the student’s knowledge and expertise. For those whose undergraduate degree focused on disciplines other than religion, this graduate program can fill the missing pieces of the student’s education. The Master of Arts in Ministry Studies will equip the student to be the leader in ministry that God has called and gifted the person to be.

The courses in this program are specifically designed to help the student to understand the biblical and theological foundation of issues related to ministry in contemporary contexts, and then to move beyond theory to the implementation of practical skills for successful vocational ministry. The combination of superior education and ministry experience of the School of Religion faculty enable them to present a realistic approach to this union of theory and practice. The modular design of this program offers convenient once-a-month course scheduling.

The Master of Arts degree in Ministry Studies at Lee University offers three tracks: Youth and Family Studies, Leadership Studies, and Worship Studies. The degree includes 18 hours of common core courses and 18 hours of courses within each track. The student's learning experience will culminate in either a track-specific final project or internship.

The Department of Christian Ministries prepares men and women for servant leadership in Christian ministry. The theological perspective from which the department works is both evangelical and Pentecostal. The degree programs are designed to prepare people for the work of ministry and to enable graduates to do further studies in graduate or professional schools. A personal commitment to Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior as well as submission to the guidance and empowerment of the Holy Spirit are the controlling perspectives which guide the educational task of the department.
The mission of the Department of Christian Ministries emphasizes the development of the whole person. The goal is to facilitate Christian character, service to others and knowledge of the Christian faith. A milestone in the educational process occurs at the beginning of the junior year. Students who have previously self declared as majors in the department are reviewed by the department faculty. The review process emphasizes the three-fold dimension of ministry: being, doing and knowing. It considers three key areas: Christian character, Christian service and knowledge of the Christian faith. Christian character reflects both spirituality and maturity. Christian service relates to the ability to do the normal tasks of ministry. Knowledge of the Christian faith includes knowledge of Scripture and the various areas of ministry. Each student applying for admission to the majors within the department is expected to demonstrate evidence of God’s call upon his or her life in these areas.

Criteria for Continuation in a Major
The student majoring in the Department of Christian Ministries must help create an evaluation portfolio during the second half of the sophomore year (45-59 hours completed). The portfolio must address the three key areas of concern in the following ways:

1. Christian Character
   a. Be in good standing with the university. The student must not be on social or chapel probation.
   b. Be in good standing with the community of faith. A reference letter is required from the student’s pastor or ministry supervisor.

2. Christian Service
   a. Be committed to regular church and chapel attendance.
   b. Be committed to Christian ministry with evidence of active involvement.

3. Knowledge of the Christian Faith
   a. Be in good standing with the academic program. The student should have completed at least 45 hours with a minimum grade point average of 2.0.
   b. Be committed to academic excellence. The student’s academic record should show ongoing progress toward the completion of the degree program.

Process for Continuation in a Major
1. Submit the following materials for the evaluation portfolio:
   a. Reference letter from the student’s pastor or ministry supervisor on the standard reference form.
   b. Reference letter from a Lee University professor on the standard reference form.

2. Be reviewed and approved by the Department Admissions Retentions Committee.

Suspension from the Major
The student may be suspended from majoring in the Department of Christian Ministries if he or she fails to meet or maintain the criteria for continuation in the major. The following situations are some reasons that a student might be suspended:

1. Placement on social probation
2. Chapel probation for three or more months in any academic year
3. Academic probation for two continuous semesters
4. Violation of Lee University policies on student behavior

If a student is suspended from a Department of Christian Ministries major, he or she will receive written instructions regarding the re-application and appeal process.

Major Programs of Study
The Department of Christian Ministries offers majors in Children’s Ministry, Discipleship Ministry, Intercultural Studies, Pastoral Ministry and Youth Ministry. Each program combines biblical/theological knowledge with practical ministerial skills, enabling students to succeed in graduate and professional studies as well as in church ministries. The distinctives of each of these areas of practical ministry are described below.

Children’s Ministry
The Children’s Ministry degree has the primary purpose of preparing men and women for church ministry with children. The curriculum delivers an understanding of the spiritual, cognitive, moral and social development of children, birth through twelve years old. The courses in the major explore various models of children’s ministry and assess their strengths and weaknesses. The course of study considers both the methods and the components of effective ministry to children. It relates ministry to children to the broader context of ministry to the family. The degree program requires an internship in children’s ministry.

Discipleship Ministry

The Bachelor of Arts/Science in Discipleship Ministry seeks to prepare men and women for ministry in a local church context in the area of discipleship ministry. It takes seriously the imperative command of Matthew 28 to "make disciples" of all nations. This degree program will intentionally develop knowledge, skills and attitudes necessary for small group ministry. Most educational settings (e.g., Sunday school, Bible studies) are by nature small group. The primary purpose of this degree program will be to intentionally enhance and augment existing programs while at the same time offering breadth and depth in the design of new programs, built around the methodology of small groups. In combination with the "common core" required of all Christian Ministries students, this degree will prepare ministers in Bible, theology, and Christian Education for entry-level positions in church administrative staffs (e.g. director of small groups, discipleship, and/or positions in Christian education or as associate pastors).

Intercultural Studies

The Intercultural Studies degree is designed to train men and women for ministry in a culture other than their own. This could be missions in the arena of the two-thirds world or the secularized West, with special emphasis on the emerging urban, global world. The degree program combines biblical/theological knowledge with skills in cross-cultural communication. It includes courses that address the multicultural dimensions of our cities’ ethnic, minority and immigrant groups and diverse cultures and faiths converging on the cities of the world. The coursework includes biblical basis of missions, strategies for evangelizing specific people groups within our cities and across the globe. The central focus of the degree program is recognizing and understanding the dynamics, problems, challenges and opportunities these contexts present and their implications for holistic mission and ministry. The major requires knowledge of a foreign language and is therefore offered only as a Bachelor of Arts degree.

Pastoral Ministry

The Pastoral Ministry majors are designed to prepare individuals to serve in the ministry role of senior, associate and assistant pastor. Individuals intending to work in other areas of full-time ministry, such as evangelist, will also find this major beneficial due to the practical methodologies and the biblical content of the program. Individuals in the Pastoral Ministry program can choose between a Bachelor of Arts or a Bachelor of Science. The only difference is the Greek language requirement for the former degree (the Bachelor of Arts). Distinctives of the specialty areas for both are the pastoral seminar, ministry internships, the Ministry of Worship course and the Church and Social Problems elective. The pastoral seminar provides for further reflection on one’s calling and an introduction to spiritual gifts. The internship provides for 150 hours of ministry experience within a local church under the supervision of a mentor/pastor. Since worship and social care are key ministry areas and concerns of the church, the worship and social problems classes provide the opportunity to study issues within each and to develop ministry principles based on biblical guidelines.

Youth Ministry

The Bachelor of Science/Arts in Youth Ministry is designed to prepare men and women for the specific ministerial role of working with adolescents in a variety of settings, including local church and parachurch ministries. The major is a hybrid of the Discipleship and Pastoral Ministry majors, since much of what a youth pastor does involves both areas. Youth Ministry, as a vocational ministerial calling, is in high demand in many denominations and is typically one of the first staff positions added by senior pastors. In the early stages of the major, the program gives the ministerial student foundational information on the various age groups with specific attention given to adolescent development. As the student progresses through the major, focus is given to more advanced topics (e.g., Models of Youth Ministry and Strategies for Youth Ministry).

Theological Studies

The Department of Theology encompasses the disciplines of biblical, theological, and historical studies, as well as philosophy and biblical languages. It offers a major in Biblical and Theological Studies. Students may choose one of two tracks in this major. The first is a Pre-Graduate Studies Emphasis in which further training at the graduate level or seminary is anticipated. The second is a Pastoral Studies Emphasis in which some skills requisite for pastoral ministry are offered. Students are strongly encouraged to speak with their advisors concerning the difference between these two degrees and the other programs offered in the School of Religion so that they may choose the one that best reflects their calling and gifts. The Department of Theology also serves the university as a whole by providing an 18-hour minor to university graduates. This is described as the Religion Core. The goal of this core is to enable all graduates to be conversant in the Christian faith and to begin integrating the faith in all aspects of their lives and vocations.

Biblical and Theological Studies
The major in Biblical and Theological Studies is intended for the person who wants a thorough preparation in biblical and theological knowledge. It is the recommended degree program for those who plan to continue their education at the graduate level. The degree with Pastoral Studies Emphasis may also be useful for thorough preparation in biblical and theological studies as well as some training in the skills of pastoral ministry.

The Biblical and Theological Studies degree provides a foundation of Bible content, Christian doctrine, biblical languages (especially New Testament Greek), and Church history. Elements from the discipline of philosophy are also introduced to students for the purpose of making them conversant in the major issues of thought throughout the ages. This program is ideal for those who plan to work in the educational ministry of the church.

Religion Minor
As part of the university’s general core of courses, the Religion Core is a set of eighteen hours in the following courses: BIBL-110, BIBL-111, RELG-200, Christian service component, THEO-230, THEO-231 and one three-hour Religion “Capstone” course within one’s major that integrates the Christian faith with one’s chosen discipline.

Religion Core courses should be taken in the order in which they are listed here. Any variance to this order may result in a student not being prepared for the work in an upper level course. This sequence, therefore, is crucial since material in the upper level courses presumes knowledge of the lower level courses. The only possible variation is between BIBL-110 and BIBL-111. These courses can be taken in either order, but both must be completed before taking THEO-230. In addition, THEO-230 must be completed before taking THEO-231. RELG-200 should be taken after BIBL-110 and BIBL-111.

The Christian service component is designed to occur throughout a student’s time at Lee.

Any student who majors within the Department of Christian Ministries or the Department of Theology does not follow the same pattern as the rest of the university. To fulfill their Religion Core, majors within the School of Religion take the following courses: BIBL-101, BIBL-102, RELG-200, Christian service component, THEO-230 and THEO-231. These hours are combined within the biblical or theological electives in all School of Religion disciplines, and therefore School of Religion majors do not obtain a minor in religion. The Religion Core seeks to equip students with a well-rounded grasp of biblical and theological foundations (BIBL-101/111, BIBL-102/110 and THEO-230), as well as an understanding of their practical applications (THEO-231). Additionally, the Religion Core introduces students to the concept of Christian service (RELG-200) and its application through experience (a two credit hour Christian service component that includes eight service units with each unit representing approximately 10 hours of actual service). Transfer students will complete one service unit per semester at Lee. Questions regarding service should be directed to the Leonard Center. The goal of the Religion Core is to nurture students to think critically about their faith and to engage the needs of others because of their faith.

Miscellaneous
For each of the programs of study in the Department of Theology, the GPA is computed from the specialty area. Although transfer students may have already acquired the hours required in Biblical & Theological Studies for a specific program, the Department of Theology requires its students to take the following courses at Lee University: THEO-437-438 (Systematic Theology) and two semesters of book studies, one of which must be BIBL-402 (Romans and Galatians.) If the transfer student has already taken two semesters of Systematic Theology, the courses may be retaken or THEO-337 (Theology of the Old Testament) and THEO-338 (Theology of the New Testament) may be taken instead. In addition, students taking this major on campus may not take Systematic Theology (THEO-437-438) or Romans and Galatians (BIBL-402) from the Center for Adult and Professional Studies, except under special circumstances. BIBL-101, BIBL-102 and THEO-230 are pre-requisites to all 300- and 400-level courses in Biblical Studies and for all 300-level courses in Theological Studies. For 400-level courses in Theological Studies there is the additional pre-requisite

PROGRAM FORMATS

CAPS Online Classes
CAPS Online courses offer study via the Internet. This form of study blends the best of independent study research with the traditional campus model in a virtual classroom environment. Over the course of the semester, students log in to classes for online instructions, lectures, assignments, discussions, etc. Materials are available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week throughout the semester. During a course the instructor may schedule times to meet online with the students. These sessions are for discussion, lecture, course mentoring, etc. Traditional resident students must process CAPS Online registrations with their advisor through the approved university registration procedures. Students interested in CAPS Online courses should visit http://caps.leeuniversity.edu for information regarding policies and procedures of the program, offered courses, an application, and financial aid information. The number of hours necessary to complete CAPS Online courses is similar to that of traditional resident courses. All CAPS Online courses earn resident credit.

Computer Requirements:
Most current personal computer systems will meet the requirements of CAPS online classes. We strongly recommend a high speed internet connection in order for students to complete their coursework. CAPS encourages the latest version of Microsoft Office and Firefox web browser. Instructors will inform students if additional software is needed.

Extension Classes
Extension classes are offered (in a classroom setting) at various off-campus locations and are taught by instructors who have an accredited degree in the discipline in which they teach. The general information already presented in this catalog applies to the student taking courses through extension classes. For information regarding class locations, schedules and registration procedures, contact Extension Programs at the CAPS office - 800.256.5916 or caps@leeuniversity.edu. These classes qualify as resident credit.

Independent Study
The CAPS curriculum is offered in an independent study mode. Independent study is characterized as follows:

- Study is accomplished by use of a course guide or individual lessons and associated textbook(s). The course syllabus is also available online.
- The student should set a schedule for completion of assignments and examinations within the given semester.
- Examinations are taken and assignments submitted online via the learning management system.
- Courses are tied directly to the Lee University Academic calendar and must be completed within the calendar start and end dates.
- Credit is applied as non-resident study.

Independent Study courses offer students an opportunity to study at an individual pace and at convenient times and places. Responsibility for progress lies with the individual student. This motivates and encourages the student to persist toward the achievement of carefully defined educational objectives.

Course materials include: a course guide or individual lessons, appropriate additional materials, and textbooks. Textbooks can be obtained through the Lee campus bookstore. Course materials are available within the course itself via the online learning management system. The course guides and lessons are designed to direct learners in a step-by-step fashion through an array of educational objectives related to the textbooks. All learning materials, from the course objectives to final evaluation of progress, have been prepared or approved by professional educators. In many cases, the authors teach the same or a similar course on a resident campus or serve as an instructor in one of the resident extension classes.

Examinations are similar to those given in resident courses. They may consist of objective, essay and problem-solving types of questions. The number of study hours necessary to complete an Independent Study course in approximately the same as for resident courses. The difference in that the time normally spent in class is used for reading, completion of assignments, and study. Since there are no scheduled classes, students study when and where they wish, and they experience considerable financial savings over attending traditional campus courses.

A student may not request an examination until he or she has been enrolled in a course a minimum of two weeks. A two-week period is also required between the mid-term and final exams. Exams in courses which have more than two exams may be taken at one-week intervals. Exams may be proctored for special circumstances. Please contact the CAPS office for more information if needed.

CAPS On-Campus Classes
Students within driving distance of the university may take classes on campus. These classes are specially designed for adults involved in active ministry and those who are contemplating entering active ministry. The classes meet once a week for three hours each during the regular fall and spring semesters. Currently, these classes usually meet on either Tuesday or Thursday. (Modular classes and a summer session are also offered. Contact the CAPS office for more information - 800.256.5916 or caps@leeuniversity.edu.) Traditional resident campus students may take only one CAPS Tuesday/Thursday class per semester. Traditional resident campus students must process CAPS registrations with their advisor through the approved university registration procedures. View the CAPS webpage for class schedules: http://www.leeuniversity.edu/caps. Textbooks for classes may be obtained through the campus bookstore. These classes earn resident credit.

There is a fee applied for each change beginning with the first day of classes. Withdrawal from a course(s) does not exempt a student from payment of tuition, registration fee, and book fees. The tuition refund policy for dropping courses after classes have begun is explained in the section titled Refund Policy (Tuition Only). Registration and book fees are non-refundable.

Withdrawing from the University
If a student withdraws from all courses of study, the student is considered to be withdrawing from the university. Students may withdraw from the university at any time beginning the first day of classes until the final day of classes for the semester. Withdrawals will not be processed after final exams have begun. Students who withdraw will be assigned the grade of "W" for all courses. The procedure is as follows:
1. Withdrawal from the University requests must be submitted in writing or via e-mail to the student's academic advisor. The request must include the student's name, ID number, the name of course(s) and any other essential information.
2. Upon receipt of this request, the student will be sent via an e-mail attachment, the required Withdrawal Permission Form. It is the student's sole responsibility to complete this form in its entirety and return it back to the Center for Adult & Professional Studies Office.
3. Upon receipt of the completed form, the appropriate offices on Main Campus will be notified.

Financial aid recipients should note that withdrawing from the University can affect eligibility for current and future aid. See the Undergraduate Tuition and Fees Refund section and the Undergraduate Financial Aid Satisfactory Academic Progress Policy respectively. Students who are recipients of federal student loans should complete required loan exit counseling. This can be completed online at www.leeuniversity.edu/financial-aid or in the Financial Aid Office. Recipients of the Tennessee Hope Scholarship should go the Financial Aid Office to complete the Tennessee Hope Enrollment Change Request Form to avoid loss of eligibility for future funding.

The Business Office will issue a final statement of the student's account.

Charlotte Center for Ministerial Training

Christian Ministry
Assistant Professor Gregory Sloop

The Charlotte Center offers an undergraduate degree program designed specifically for those preparing for full-time vocational ministry. It is a combination of biblical-theological knowledge and ministerial skills courses. It provides the knowledge of Scripture so important for the work of ministry as well as the ministerial skills to enable effective work in each area.

The Course of Study
The Bachelor of Christian Ministry (B.C.M.) degree is a flexible program of study easily tailored to fit the student’s specific ministerial or discipleship needs. Core courses provide a valuable balance of general studies, and biblical-theological knowledge with specialized skills taught in each of the following emphases:
The Bible emphasis gives an extensive knowledge of both Old and New Testaments, emphasizing interpretation skills and Bible study methods. It considers types of literature found in the Bible and provides principles of interpretation for each, ultimately focusing on informed Christian living.

The Christian Education emphasis prepares and equips men and women for effective ministry in discipleship or Christian education. Providing a foundation of biblical-theological knowledge, it explores the teaching/learning process involved in discipleship of people of all ages. The Counseling emphasis prepares men and women for graduate studies in Counseling and also equips them for service in entry-level mental health positions or lay ministry positions. This degree does not prepare the student for licensure or credentialing with any state agency.

The Pastoral Ministry emphasis combines biblical-theological knowledge with ministerial skills such as preaching, counseling and church leadership. It examines the role of the pastor, the mission of the church and the means of enabling the laity to accomplish the work of the Kingdom.

The Theology emphasis provides a thorough preparation in biblical and theological knowledge. It is recommended for those planning to continue their education at the Masters and/or Doctoral level, and is ideal for those planning to work in the educational ministry of the church.

Graduate Studies at Lee University

A Christian environment and team of personally committed professionals are the "natural surroundings" that encompass all programs in Lee's graduate studies. Lee University's graduate programs provide an educational experience that meets the most important requirement - a profitable engagement of the student's time, purpose and personal resources.

Lee's graduate programs serve adult students with various professional interests and diverse personal histories. Flexible scheduling for part-time and full-time students and personal attention from experts and practitioners in wide-ranging professional fields enable students to find a niche for their personal goals and their intellectual progress in a field of study.

Eighteen degree programs are offered at Lee University for the level of Master in those fields within the colleges or schools. The Ed.S. degree is offered within the Helen DeVos College of Education.

In the College of Arts & Sciences: the Master of Science in Marriage and Family Therapy prepares students for careers in counseling children and families. The Master of Science in School Counseling prepares students to be counselors in public and private schools. The Master of Science in College Student Development offers preparation for students interested in working in the student affairs areas of higher education administration. The Master of Science in Holistic Child Development prepares students to work in frontline advocacy roles for children.

In the Helen DeVos College of Education: the Master of Arts in Teaching provides preparation for professional licensure in education for graduates from liberal arts and other non-education fields. The Master of Education program extends to classroom teachers and school administrators an opportunity for in-service professional training and advanced development in both knowledge and practical skills. The Education Specialist degree is offered to those who currently hold a master's degree in education and provides candidates with two options: Classroom Teaching or Educational Leadership.

In the School of Music the Master of Church Music degree program develops the potential of musicians while providing leadership in music training for ministry. The Master of Music - Music Education is designed to provide graduate professional education for men and women who wish to pursue or are currently involved in music education in public or private institutions. The Master of Music - Performance provides graduate professional education for men and women who wish to pursue or are currently involved in music performance and/or studio instruction.

In the School of Religion: the Master of Arts in Biblical Studies and in Theological Studies offers advanced graduate study in the respective disciplines. The Master of Arts in Ministry Studies prepares students for ministry in the areas of Youth and Family Studies, Leadership Studies, or Worship Studies.

Graduate Faculty

The purpose of the graduate faculty of Lee University is to set standards for graduate work and to provide graduate instruction. Only members of graduate faculty or associate graduate faculty may teach courses numbered 500 or above or serve on Final Project Committees for master's degree candidates.

Members of the graduate faculty must meet the following criteria:

1. Hold a doctorate or hold candidacy status in a doctoral program,
2. Hold the rank of assistant professor or higher, and
3. Demonstrate teaching competence, continuing interest in the graduate program and research or creative productivity.

Associate graduate faculty members are those who do not satisfy the above criteria but are approved to provide instructional services for graduate students because of their unique competencies and professional roles.
Graduate Admissions

Criteria for Admission
Graduate programs at Lee University are open to persons holding a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university whose undergraduate or graduate work has been of sufficient quality and scope to enable them to profitably pursue graduate study. Lee University offers equal educational opportunity to all persons without regard to race, religion, gender, age, creed, color, national origin or disability. Applicants are required to meet specific admission criteria established by each of the graduate programs. All applications must be accompanied by a $25 non-refundable application fee.

An application to a graduate program is reviewed by the graduate faculty in each program before an admission decision is recommended. The applicant is advised to have all credentials on file well in advance of the registration period for the semester in which the application is made. Each Lee University graduate program has different requirements for admission. Applicants are advised to refer to appropriate sections in this catalog for specific graduate program admission requirements (or go to www.leeuniversity.com).

Graduate students applying for admissions must submit the following immunization documentation:

Measles Immunization Verification (MMR) (if born after January 1, 1957)
Proof of Chicken Pox Immunity (Required for full-time graduate students born after 1979)

International graduate students must also submit proof of a Tuberculin PPD skin test taken within a one-year period of the date of admissions application

The Certificate of Immunization form must be completed and signed by a Licensed Health Care Provider and returned to Lee University prior to registration.

If an applicant does not meet the admission requirements of a graduate program, he/she may be considered for probationary acceptance.

Admissions Testing
A student who has completed a bachelor’s degree within the past seven years must submit Graduate Record Examination Aptitude Test (GRE) scores indicating a score that is at least in the 35th percentile or above; or, the student may take the Miller Analogies Test (MAT) and score at least in the 35th percentile. (GRE Institutional Code 1401; MAT Institutional Code 2540). Education graduate students not meeting these minimum requirements may be admitted on a provisional status. The MAT is offered by individual appointment in the Lee University Office of Counseling and Testing. Applicants may contact the office by phone at 423-614-8415 or online at www.htpc.com/mat. The GRE is not administered at Lee University, but informational materials are available at www.gre.org. For information regarding testing and placements for the School of Music degree programs, please see the Graduate section of the School of Music in this catalog or contact the office of Graduate Studies in Music at 423-614-9245 or gradmusic@leeuniversity.edu.

Policy Regarding False Information
Any applicant who fails to acknowledge attendance or who submits false records from any college or university where he/she has previously registered is subject to dismissal from the university.

International Students
The university is authorized under federal law to enroll non-immigrant alien students on an F-1 or J-1 visa. International applicants are expected to apply well in advance of their projected beginning date. All academic records and other credentials must be accompanied by an official English translation. If transfer credit from an institution outside the United States is desired, an evaluation from World Education Services (WES) must be submitted. [Refer to the “Transfer Credit” section under Graduate Academic Policies for additional information.]

In addition to admissions requirements described in each graduate program, international students must supply the following:

1. TOEFL Scores: All applicants who will be attending the university on a student visa and who are not graduates of an American college or university must supply proof of a minimum score of 550 (paper), or 213 (computer) on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). Information on this test can be attained by writing to TOEFL Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey 08540; U.S.A. (or go to www.toefl.org). All test scores should be sent directly from the testing agency to Lee University (Lee University Code: 1401).

2. Financial Statement: An applicant on an F-1 student visa must supply, on the form provided by the university, sufficient evidence of financial support for the applicant and all members of his/her family who will accompany the applicant to Lee. This requires that the applicant certify that his/her intent is to attend full time and that no employment will be required.

All of the above credentials must be received and approved before an INS Form I-20 can be issued to the applicant.

Change of Program
Students who have previously declared a program of study but desire to change should apply to the appropriate graduate program director. A change in program is considered the equivalent of reapplying for admission. All admission requirements of the new graduate program must be satisfied and approved before a change can be granted.

Settlement of Accounts
Students should be prepared to pay full semester charges on or before registration. Money may be submitted in advance to the Student Financial Services Office. This payment will facilitate registration. On-campus students are required to pay $4,220 and off-campus or part-time students are required to pay forty five percent down on or before registration according to the deferred payment plan. Students who are unable to pay their accounts in full must either borrow the necessary funds or enroll in the university’s deferred payment plan. Students who will have difficulty paying the full charges within the semester are encouraged to make advance arrangements for borrowing the needed funds. The university also offers services by which students may use Visa, MasterCard, Discover and American Express to make payment on their accounts.

Deferred Payment Plan
Any full-time, on-campus student desiring to participate in the university’s deferred payment plan is required to pay $4,220 down at registration and the balance of the semester charges in two equal payments on the dates mentioned below. Any part-time student or off-campus student desiring to participate in the deferred payment plan is required to pay forty five percent of the total charges at registration and the balance of semester charges in two equal monthly payments on the dates mentioned below. The same financial requirements apply to veterans and others in cases when money is not sent directly to Lee University. In all cases, when the student does not have the down payment, a commitment letter is required from those underwriting the student’s account. Students enrolling in the deferred payment plan will be charged a $75 fee for this service. This fee will apply to all students owing a balance in excess of $500 at the completion of registration.
Fall Semester
Full-time, on-campus students must pay $4,220 at registration; off-campus and part-time students must pay forty five percent of their total charges. The balance must be paid as follows:

- First payment by September 30
- Final payment by October 31

Spring Semester
The same down payment ($4,220) is required at registration. (Off-campus and part-time students must pay forty five percent of their total charges.) The balance must be paid as follows:

- First payment by February 28
- Final payment by March 31

A bill will be sent to the student's permanent address (unless otherwise indicated) each month. However, the student is still responsible for timely payments, even if a bill is not received. If payment is not made on the due date, a $25 late fee will be assessed.

Deferred Payment Plan for Summer School
Students are ordinarily required to pay the full charges for all terms at registration. However, those unable to pay the full amount may defer up to 50% of the charges for a maximum of 30 days. Students delaying registration for a second term must pay an additional registration fee of $25. Students enrolling in the deferred payment plan will be charged a $75 fee for this service. This fee will apply to all students owing a balance in excess of $500 at the completion of registration.

Refund Policy
No reduction of charges will be granted unless application is made within two weeks of any change in program or departure of the students. STUDENTS WHO WITHDRAW FROM THE UNIVERSITY AFTER THE FIFTH WEEK OF CLASSES WILL RECEIVE NO ADJUSTMENT ON TUITION, FEES, AND ROOM. Those whose study is interrupted by the university for discipline reasons will receive no adjustment on tuition, fees, and room after the fifth week of classes. When a student withdraws from the university or moves out of on-campus housing, his or her ROOM CHARGES WILL BE ADJUSTED ON THE SAME SCHEDULE AS TUITION AND FEES. Board charges will be prorated from date of withdrawal. If a student withdraws during a semester and requests a refund of advanced payments, the following rules will determine the amount of adjustment, provided the student withdraws formally through the Office of Student Life.

1. Board will be adjusted by the full amount unused at the date of withdrawal
2. Tuition, fees, and room, with the exception of matriculation and registration fees, will be adjusted on the following percentages:
   - During first two weeks of semester: 80%
   - During third week of semester: 60%
   - During fourth week of semester: 40%
   - During fifth week of semester: 20%
   - After fifth week of semester: No Adjustment
3. NO REFUND ON MATRICULATION FEE, REGISTRATION FEE OR LATE REGISTRATION FEE.
4. No person who registers as a full-time student and is later permitted to drop enough courses to place him/her in the classification of a part-time student will be entitled to an adjustment or prorated tuition after the fifth week.
5. Mandatory refunds and repayments to Federal Title IV student financial aid programs will be calculated based upon earned and unearned aid percentages as outlined by the Federal Government. The formula for such calculations is based on the number of days in a given semester and the number of days attendance completed by the student prior to his/her withdrawal. Refunds mandated by the calculation could possibly increase the amount a student must pay after he/she withdraws from school. Please refer to “Return of Federal Title IV Financial Aid Policy” in the Undergraduate Financial Aid section.

Refund Policy for Summer School

1. Withdrawals during the first week of classes will receive 50% credit on tuition and room. THERE IS NO REFUND AFTER THE FIRST WEEK.
2. There is no refund for Registration Fee or Late Registration Fee. Refund for board will be prorated by the week.
3. If you register for both terms and withdraw prior to the beginning of the second term, you will receive full refund for the second term.

Accounts Must be Paid Prior to Final Examinations
Written commitments for aid from Lee University or other sources are the only substitutes for the required down payment. Therefore, students should assume responsibility for applying for aid in advance and for seeing that the proper letters or cash arrive at the Student Financial Services Office by registration day.

While we recognize the problems involved in increasing costs to the student, education with a Christian emphasis is the greatest personal investment available today. The university will assist students in every way possible to finance their education. If you need financial assistance, please check with our Office of Student Financial Aid.

Accounts with the school must be settled in full before a diploma or a transcript of credits is issued or a letter of honorable dismissal is granted. ACCOUNTS MUST BE PAID BEFORE FINAL EXAMINATIONS ARE TAKEN. NO STUDENT WILL BE ALLOWED TO GRADUATE UNTIL HIS/HER ACCOUNT IS PAID IN FULL.

Graduate Financial Aid
Eligibility for financial aid is determined by filing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) through the Federal Processor. The FAFSA can be completed online at (www.fafsa.ed.gov). In order to receive federal aid, a student must be fully accepted into a graduate program. Provisional acceptance does not meet the requirements to qualify for federal aid. Students must be enrolled at least halftime to receive Federal Student Aid. Graduation from a program can impact eligibility for future federal aid. Graduate students are eligible to apply for Stafford Loans. Maximum annual loan amounts are indicated below:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Loan Type</th>
<th>Amount</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Subsidized Stafford</td>
<td>$8,500</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Unsubsidized Stafford</td>
<td>$12,000</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

These amounts will be subject to the student’s filing for federal aid, showing eligibility for loans based on income and cost of attendance for school. Students may or may not be eligible for the maximum possible award based on these criteria.
Lifetime Learning Credits
A family may claim a 20% tax credit for the first $5,000 of tuition and fees paid each year through 2002, and thereafter 20% of the first $10,000. This credit may be claimed for any number of years, starting July 1, 1998, provided students and taxpayers meet the criteria for each credit. If eligible, this credit can be applied to an individual annual tax return. The program is administered by the Internal Revenue Service. Questions should be addressed to a local IRS representative.

Graduate Assistantships and Scholarships
Assistantships and scholarships are available for full-time and part-time graduate students. Information can be obtained from the Director of the Graduate Program in each area of study.

More Resources
For more information about financial aid and funding resources, see the Undergraduate Financial Aid Section of this catalog.

---

Residential Life and Housing
Lee University has a Residential Life and Housing program that exists to meet the housing needs of graduate students who desire this service. Graduate students are assigned on a first-come, first-served basis, once the following criteria has been met: (1) acceptance to Lee University, (2) completion of a Residence Hall application, and (3) payment of the $200 housing reservation deposit. Half of this deposit will be applied toward the cost of the first semester’s residence hall expense, and the other half will be held as a "roll-over" deposit. In subsequent semesters, this roll-over deposit, along with a residence hall application, will reserve the student’s residence hall assignment for the following semester. Room assignments within the residence hall are made by the Resident Director. Every effort is made to assign roommates based on written mutual request on the residence hall application. The university reserves the right to change residence hall assignments.

Married/non-traditional housing is available but limited. Graduate students are expected to abide by all rules and regulations governing residential life and housing as established by the Student Handbook. These include regulations regarding care of room, safety concerns and special services, among others. Residence Hall applications can be obtained by contacting the Office of Residential Life and Housing or visiting http://www.leeuniversity.edu/residential-life.

Lifestyle Expectations
Graduate students will be expected to adhere to all of the rules and policies of Lee University while on campus. Every student is provided a copy of the Student Handbook at registration and is encouraged to read it thoroughly.

Lee University is a smoke-free, alcohol-free, drug free campus. Graduate students are expected to respect campus norms. Sexual harassment, unwelcome sexual advances, premarital or homosexual conduct, requests for sexual favors and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature will not be tolerated on campus. Students who are subjected to harassment should promptly contact the Vice President for Administration.

Questions regarding student lifestyle expectations can be directed to the Dean of Students.

Athletics
Graduate students are invited to attend intercollegiate athletic activities.

Recreation and Fitness
The DeVos Recreation Center offers a wide range of equipment and activities from treadmills and weights to racquetball and billiards. Graduate students have full use of the facility and its services with a minimal additional fee for some features such as lockers and supplies. Immediate family members (i.e. spouses and children of graduate students) may purchase memberships good for one calendar year. Fees for adults are $25 per year. Children (15 and up) are $15 per year. Membership includes full use of the facilities and the same privileges as students. Children under the age of 16 must have adult supervision at all times. The DeVos Recreation Center is not appropriate for pre-school age children. Participants must present a valid ID at the reception desk prior to use of facilities.

Intramurals
Graduate students and their spouses may participate in intramural programs. This service is free to all students. Spouses may participate by purchasing a spouse pass at the Recreation Center Office. The pass includes participation in any intramural event. Some events such as golf and bowling may have additional fees.

Campus Safety
All graduate students are required to have a valid student identification card. Additionally, all students who park an automobile on campus must register it with the Campus Safety Office. Upon receipt of a parking permit the student is entitled to park in an assigned area. Parking is on a first-come, first-served basis. Automobiles parked illegally will be ticketed and in some cases “booted” or towed at the owner's expense.

More Resources
For more about student life, see the undergraduate student life section of this catalog.

Graduate Academic Policies

Academic Probation and Disqualification
Satisfactory progress toward the degree is required. A student may be disqualified from further graduate work if a 3.0 grade-point average is not maintained. In the event that the grade-point average drops below the minimum level, the student may be given one enrollment period to raise it to the satisfactory level.

Auditing
A qualified student may apply for permission to audit a class. The student must meet the regular university entrance requirements and pay the audit fee per credit hour. Changing from audit to credit or credit to audit must be done during the registration period at the beginning of each term. Such a change to audit would not entail a refund.

Course Numbering System
Graduate courses are identified by a departmental abbreviation followed by a three-digit 500-level course number.
Grading

The Lee University graduate programs use the following system of grading and quality points for all graduate-level courses. These letter grades are assigned grade point values as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Grade</th>
<th>Description</th>
<th>Quality Points</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A</td>
<td>Excellent</td>
<td>4.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A-</td>
<td>Excellent</td>
<td>3.7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B+</td>
<td>Good</td>
<td>3.3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B</td>
<td>Good</td>
<td>3.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C+</td>
<td>Passing</td>
<td>2.3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C</td>
<td>Passing</td>
<td>2.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>F</td>
<td>Failing</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

A grade of “I” indicates the student’s work is incomplete. The grade becomes “IF” if the work is not completed by the end of the following semester unless a written extension has been approved by the Vice President of Academic Affairs. A grade of “I” is given only to students who encounter some personal difficulty such as a severe illness or an extreme family emergency near the end of the semester. The “I” grade is not given in order to allow students additional time to complete assignments.

A grade of “W” (withdrawal) is assigned to a student who, for any reason, officially withdraws or is withdrawn by the official semester date. This “W” is assigned without quality point penalty to the student.

Policies for Theses

Many, but not all, of the Lee University graduate programs require a thesis as a demonstration of the student’s research, writing and critical thinking skills. If a thesis is required, two copies must be deposited with the William G. Squires Library. In addition to the two copies required for the library, the college or school granting the degree will require a certain number of copies and the student may want several copies for his/her own purposes.

The library will assist the student by sending all copies to the bindery, but reproduction and bindery costs are the student’s responsibility. The college or school granting the degree will collect all the required fees and credit the proper library account. The charge for binding is $9 per copy. A fee of $15, in addition to the sum for binding, is charged for handling the bindery process. Should a student bring additional copies of the thesis to be bound at a later date, an additional fee will be charged for processing the second order. Therefore it is important that all copies requiring binding be delivered to the library at one time.

When the copies are delivered to the library, the student must include a one-paragraph abstract of the thesis. At that time the student will also complete a form to ensure all relevant information is communicated correctly.

Because the two copies held by the library are considered a permanent record of the student’s scholarship, these two copies should be duplicated on paper that is acid free and 25% rag content.

Release of Transcripts

Transcripts of Lee University course work are available approximately four weeks after the completion of courses. Requests must be made in writing and should include the following information: the last semester attended, where the transcript is to be sent, date of graduation (if applicable), social security number and signature. Transcript requests are available online at www.leeuniversity.edu, “Alumni and Friends”, “Request a Lee Transcript”. A $5 fee per official transcript applies. Transcript requests can be filled only if a signature accompanies the request. Also, transcripts, diplomas and/or verification of degrees will not be released until all the student’s financial obligations to the university are met.

Study Load

To be classified as a full-time graduate student, students must enroll in at least 12 hours per semester. Maximum graduate enrollment is no fewer than nine hours per semester. Students enrolled in summer sessions may take a maximum of six hours per session. For summer sessions shorter than four weeks, the maximum load is four hours.

Time Limits

Course work completed more than 10 years prior to admission is generally not accepted toward meeting degree requirements. The student has a maximum of six years from the date of admission to degree standing (and registration for course work) in which to complete the requirements for the master’s degree. Refer to specific program sections within the catalog for detailed policies.

Transfer Credit

Lee University will allow up to six semester credit hours of a graduate program to be comprised of transfer credit from a regionally accredited graduate program when the grade received is a “B” or better. The individual program committee must approve application of transfer credits. Exceptions to this policy may be determined by the respective graduate program committees.

Up to six semester credit hours of appropriate graduate work with a grade of “B” or better from institutions outside the United States may be approved by the individual graduate program committee. The program committee will normally require these credits to be evaluated by World Education Services (WES). Instructions for submitting a transcript for review can be found at www.wes.org. This website provides specific submission instructions for each country. The transfer work will not be added to the Lee transcript until the program committee has approved the hours and, if requested by the committee, the official academic credit report is received from WES. All costs associated with obtaining the WES evaluation are the responsibility of the student.

Withdrawing from the University

Students may withdraw from the university at any time beginning the first day of classes until the final day of classes for the semester. Withdrawals will not be processed after final exams have begun. Withdrawn students will not be allowed to continue on the meal plan or remain in campus housing and should make arrangements to check-out of their on-campus housing within 24 hours upon withdrawal. Withdrawn students will be assigned the grade of “W” for all courses. Following is the withdrawal procedure:

1. The Office of Administration is designated by the University as the office to process official withdrawals. Any student wishing to withdraw from all courses must notify this office. Students are required to present both his/her current University I.D. card and parking permit. Students are asked to complete the Permission to Withdraw Request Form.

2. The Vice President for Administration must approve the withdrawal request. Upon approval, the appropriate offices will be notified.

3. Students are responsible to notify their graduate program directors.
4. Financial aid recipients should note that withdrawing from the University can affect eligibility for current and future aid. See the Undergraduate Tuition and Fees section and the Undergraduate Financial Aid Satisfactory Academic Progress Policy respectively. Students who are recipients of federal student loans should complete required loan exit counseling. This can be completed online at www.leeuniversity.edu/financial-aid or in the Financial Aid Office. Recipients of the Tennessee Hope Scholarship should go the Financial Aid Office to complete the Tennessee Hope Enrollment Change Request Form to avoid loss of eligibility for future funding.

5. The Business Office will issue a final statement of the student’s account. See the Undergraduate Tuition and Fees section of this catalog from refund policy information.

Withdrawal from Courses
Students may withdraw from a class without grade penalty until the official withdrawal deadline published in the online university calendar. The student must secure the appropriate form from the Office of Records and obtain an approval signature from the professor. The student will receive a "W" grade in the course from which he or she withdraws. A student who never attends or stops attending a course for which he or she is officially registered will receive an "F" in that course if accepted procedures for withdrawal are not followed.

Federal Graduate Plus Loan
A Federal Grad Plus Loan is a non-deferred loan for graduate students who need further assistance after the use of Federal Stafford loans. This is a federal loan with a fixed interest rate and is approved based on a student’s credit. Applications are made directly with the lender. Students are eligible for an amount up to the Cost of Education, less other aid received. Grad Plus Loan Entrance Counseling is required before funds can be disbursed. Entrance counseling can be completed at: http://mappingyourfuture.org/oslc/counseling/index.cfm?act=Intro&OsId=24

Mission and Philosophy
The counseling faculty at Lee University affirms its commitment to counseling as an effective, viable means of assisting individuals and families in the prevention of problems and in coping effectively with personal, social and spiritual problems.

We believe that God exists, that He is the source of all truth and that He calls us into relationship with Himself and others. The theological paradigm which portrays human nature as created by God, sinfully altered by the fall and redeemed in Jesus Christ provides the foundation of our understanding of human nature. The primary purpose of all our counseling programs is to develop within the students knowledge, appreciation, understanding, ability and skills which will prepare them for responsible Christian service in a complex world.

The practice of counseling is based on theory and research information, an understanding of ethical practices and a set of professional and interpersonal skills. Exposure to conceptual frameworks, research findings and informed practice is the basic curriculum model employed. It is recognized that an interaction of these components is essential. The counselor, regardless of his/her theoretical stance, functions as a change agent. Effective and positive change is brought about by assisting clients to examine and modify their behavior for more effective living and by assisting clients to cope with, adjust to or otherwise negotiate the environments affecting their psychosocial well-being. For optimal change to occur, the counselor must also be sensitive to the spiritual needs of the individual. We believe that the grace of God and the indwelling of the Holy Spirit are the ultimate experiences through which individuals can achieve wholeness and maturity.

The counseling faculty, while representing diverse views, is in agreement that individual beliefs and theoretical patterns must be fostered in graduate counseling students. Faculty members represent an array of models and information which they make available to students to help them clarify their own philosophical, theoretical and practical positions. Special emphasis is given to the enhancement of self-awareness and personal value clarification regarding such issues as the nature of humankind and the meaning of life. Students are continually encouraged in the process of maturation in the image of Christ. The opportunity to consider and refine a personal perspective on life is encouraged as an evolving aspect of individual development.

The counseling faculty is also dedicated to establishing a professional identity appropriate for students in each degree program. Specifically, we seek to encourage identification with the profession of counseling through active membership in organizations and divisions including the American Association of Marriage and Family Therapy, the Tennessee Association of Marriage and Family Therapy, the American School Counselor Association, and the Tennessee School Counselor Association.

Lee University identifies its public service region as being generally coterminous with the geographic scope of the denomination. While most students come from the United States, the student body typically consists of representatives from a broad range of socioeconomic backgrounds. Because of this geographic span, programs serve a racially, ethnically and culturally diverse student body. The institution has adopted the policy that no person in whatever relation with Lee University shall be subject to discrimination because of race, color, national origin, age, gender or disability.

Master of Science in Marriage and Family Therapy

The Marriage and Family Therapy Program prepares professionals as broadly trained mental health professionals with a specialty in working with relationships. Graduates of the program are trained to work in a wide variety of settings including mental health centers, substance abuse centers, church counseling centers and private practice. Completion of the degree is the first stage toward licensure as a marriage and family therapist. All MFT students are required to complete 500 hours of direct clinical services, half of which will be working with couples and families. In addition, students are required to complete over 100 hours of supervision in the delivery of those services.

College Student Development prepares graduates to work in student life sectors at colleges and universities. Using counseling skills as the base, coursework includes training in student leadership development, higher educational environments, and institutional research. Following an apprenticeship model, students will be assigned to complete four projects, each within a different institutional sector, such as service learning, global perspectives, first-year programs, student leadership, and the career center.

College Student Development (CSDEV.MS)
Program Objectives

At the end of the master’s program, the graduate should have acquired the necessary advanced skills, knowledge, and experience to:

1. Engage in ethical practices as relates to student development on college campuses.
2. Develop campus programs/interventions based on theories of human development and student learning.
3. Understand student leadership theory and practice.
4. Interact with various higher education structures and cultures.
5. Integrate faith and religious development with current theory and practice in the field.
6. Encourage practitioners to understand their role as co-educators in the academy and their contribution to student learning.
7. Apply appropriate helping skills to assist students in their identity formation.

Program of Study

The Student Leadership Development prepares graduates to work in student life sectors at colleges and universities. Using counseling skills as the base, coursework includes training in student leadership development, higher educational environments, and institutional research. The program is composed of a minimum of five semesters of approved graduate study. The typical full-time student will complete the program in two years. A minimum of 44 semester hours is required.

Assistantships

Students will be assigned to complete four projects, each within a different institutional sector, such as service learning, global perspectives, first-year programs, student leadership, and the career center. Each of the projects will be specifically to improve services offered to students in that particular sector and will use outcome measures as part of the methodology. Each project will be included as part of the student’s professional portfolio.

Typical Two-Year Curriculum

Several configurations or sequences for completing required course work are possible. There are a variety of considerations and restrictions that limit the flexibility of these options and demand close attention when developing a program of study. Several of the more important factors to consider are the prerequisites or co-requisites of each course, the availability of a given course in a specific semester, individual interests, and ability and desire to enroll during the summer.

The following sequence is a possible program of study. This sequence is not required but is simply an example. Several assumptions underlie this program: 1) the desire to complete in five semesters and (2) no transfer work being applied.

Program of Study
The Holistic Child Development Program is designed to prepare a student for working in child development and advocacy organizations both domestically and internationally. Coursework emphasizes legal and ethical issues in working for non-profits and NGOs, utilizing community resources, and research-supported interventions. The program is composed of a minimum of three semesters of approved graduate study. A minimum of 36 semester hours is required. This degree program is offered at both our Cleveland, Tennessee campus as well as on the campus of SEMISUD in Quito, Ecuador.

Practical Experiences
As this degree program is primarily for students interested in working for international developmental and advocacy organizations, the practical experiences for the typical student are conceptualized as post-degree, although it is possible to earn elective credit for local internship experiences. With the help of their faculty mentors, students are encouraged to plan post-degree experiences with established international organizations that can provide appropriate guidance and supervision when first working with new populations and settings.

The Counseling Psychology Program is specifically designed for students seeking training in providing systems interventions in an international context. Offered only at our satellite campus in Kniebis, Germany, this degree is ideal for students interested in creating or working with advocacy programs, church service ministries, or NGO organizations in developing countries. As licensing laws in different countries vary dramatically for mental health professionals, it is the responsibility of the student to work with the program chair to develop a plan of study that will best meet the student’s goals.

Clinical Experience
Clinical experiences are an integral part of a degree in counseling psychology at Lee University. The counseling practicum and internship placements provide an opportunity to practice skills and to utilize acquired knowledge in real life situations. Fieldwork activity follows a developmental model consisting of a sequence of training experiences of increasing complexity and responsibility. Each level of training is designed to accommodate the student’s particular level of professional development.

Practicum
Practicum refers to the experience of working with clients within the setting of a formal course, under direct supervision of a faculty member. Students are required to complete a minimum of 100 hours of practicum prior to entering an internship. A minimum of 40 hours must be in direct contact with clients. The remaining hours can be indirect in nature, i.e., the student may participate in role plays, observe counseling sessions, review taped sessions and so on.

Internships
Internship refers to a formalized arrangement by which the student is assigned to a community agency in order to gain experience in the many facets of the role of a counselor including but not limited to direct services to clients. Each student is required to complete three semesters of internship with a minimum of 300 hours of service each semester.

Typical Two-Year Curriculum
Several configurations or sequences for completing required course work are possible. There are a variety of considerations and restrictions that limit the flexibility of these options and demand close attention when developing a program of study. Several of the more important factors to consider are the prerequisites or co-requisites of each course, the availability of a given course in a specific semester, individual interests and ability and desire to enroll during the summer.

The following sequence is a possible program of study. This sequence is not required, but is simply an example. Several assumptions underlie this program: (1) the desire to complete in five semesters and (2) no transfer work being applied.

Year One
The program will lead students to assume roles as professional counselors who will emerge as leaders in the field of school counseling.

School Counseling (SHCSL.MS)

Program Objectives

One of the main tasks of the school counselor is to integrate the school counseling program into the total school curriculum, by systematically providing knowledge and skills to assist PreK-12 students in maximizing their academic, career and personal/social development. The Tennessee State Department of Education has established standards and goals for school counselor preparation programs. Therefore, based on licensure standards set by the Tennessee State Department of Education, the M.S. in School Counseling degree program at Lee University will provide the prospective candidate with the knowledge and skills to develop the following outcomes:

1. An understanding of the nature and needs of students in grade levels PreK-12 as well as the ability to apply knowledge from the area of human growth and development and learning theories; to identify learning problems; and to assist teachers and parents in responding to counseling and guidance interventions with students.

2. An understanding of the process of social and cultural change with respect to various racial, gender and ethnic groups, knowledge of differing cultural and lifestyle patterns, and the ability to develop plans and programs to prevent person and substance abuse, discrimination, and dropping out of school.

3. An understanding of the philosophical basis underlying the helping process and the ability to facilitate student growth and development through both counseling and consulting activities, including contributing to the development and implementation of the individualized educational programs (IEPs) for students with special needs.

4. The ability to lead large and small group counseling and guidance activities related to personal and interpersonal growth, self-help and problem solving, and career development.

5. An understanding of changes in society and technology and the influence of changes on work and learning as well as the ability to develop and implement a comprehensive career development program.

6. The ability to assist in curriculum advisement and career counseling using a variety of materials, strategies, and technologies.

7. An understanding of appropriate tests and other assessments to assist students and their parents in making effective educational, social and career descisions as well as the ability to use group administered educational and psychological measurement and appraisal instruments.

8. An understanding of research and research design as well as the ability to conduct research and evaluation projects related to the outcomes of counseling and guidance services.

9. The ability to plan, manage and evaluate a comprehensive PreK-12 program of guidance and counseling services.

10. An understanding of the ethical and legal standards of guidance and school counseling professionals.

11. The ability to work with teachers, school social workers, school psychologists and family resource center staff in meeting student needs.

12. The ability to inform students, teachers, parents and the community

Master of Science in School Counseling

At the heart of the Master of Science program in School Counseling is the recognition of the inseparability of the school and the community and the role that counselors have in being advocates for all children and adolescents within these contexts. The program will lead students to develop skills in guiding and counseling children and adolescents, in facilitating team-building efforts, collaboration and coordination between teachers, parents, support personnel and community resources and in developing and implementing school guidance and counseling programs. Therefore, the purpose of the Master of Science program in School Counseling (PreK-12) is two-fold: (1) to provide a route to initial school counselor licensure and (2) to educate school counselors to become advocates and systems specialists who are capable of assessing, developing, implementing and sustaining programs for youth PreK-12 from diverse backgrounds.

Students who successfully complete the degree program and meet all standardized test requirements and other conditions set by the state are eligible for school counselor licensure in grades PreK-12 (Praxis II - School Counselor Exam) and for certification by the National Board for Certified Counselors (NBCC) Licensed Professional Counselor Exam. The Master of Science program in School Counseling would benefit students with undergraduate degrees in psychology, sociology, human development or teacher education that are seeking to become a licensed school counselor in the PreK-12 school setting. Students entering the program may often be mature students embarking on a career change or those who begin immediately upon completion of the undergraduate degree. Applicants must have earned a baccalaureate degree. The program offered by the Department of Behavioral and Social Sciences includes integrated academic and field-based experiences that provide the knowledge base and develop the skills, abilities and understanding needed for success as a school counselor in an elementary or secondary school environment. The curriculum is designed to equip graduates to assume roles as professional counselors who will emerge as leaders in the field of school counseling.

about the purposes and activities of the school guidance and counseling program.

13. The ability to work with parents and conduct parent education activities.

14. The ability to use community resources and referral processes and develop effective partnership arrangements with community agencies.

15. Establish a professional identity as a School Counselor.

Program of Study

The Master of Science in School Counseling (PreK-12) prepares individuals to work as school counselors. Requirements lead directly to licensure as a School Counselor by meeting all of the requirements of the Tennessee State Department of Education. The requirements for this track include a 48-semester hour curriculum that includes a full year placement in a school setting. This curriculum includes 43 semester hours of required courses and five semester hours of elective courses. The program is composed of a minimum of four semesters of approved graduate study. The typical full-time student will complete the program in approximately two full years.

The program core will provide educational preparation in school guidance and counseling programs, human growth and development, social and cultural foundations of counseling, cross-cultural issues in counseling, a Christian perspective on psychology, helping relationships, group work, career and lifestyle development, appraisal, research and professional issues. The program core will also provide supervised counseling experience working in schools with culturally diverse students in grades PreK-12. The program furnishes additional training in family systems, human sexuality, crisis intervention and collaboration.

Clinical Experiences

Clinical experiences in a school setting are an integral part of a degree in school counseling at Lee University. The counseling practicum and internship placements provide an opportunity to practice skills and to utilize acquired knowledge in both elementary and secondary school settings. Fieldwork activity follows a developmental model consisting of a sequence of training experiences of increasing complexity and responsibility. Each level of training is designed to accommodate the student’s particular level of professional development.

Practicum

Practicum refers to the experience of working with students and teachers within the setting of a formal course, under direct supervision of a faculty member. Students are required to complete a minimum of 100 hours of practicum prior to entering an internship. A minimum of 40 clock hours must be in direct contact with clients. The remaining hours can be indirect in nature, i.e., the student may participate in role-playing, observe counseling sessions, review taped sessions, and so on.

Internship

Internship refers to a formalized arrangement by which the student is assigned to a school in order to gain experience in the many facets of the role of a school counselor, including but not limited to direct services to clients. The internship experience includes two separate placements: (1) an elementary school and (2) a secondary school. Students are required to complete a minimum of 600 clock hours of internship. A minimum of 240 clock hours must be in direct contact with clients. The remaining hours can be used to provide the student with opportunities for a variety of professional activities in addition to direct service (e.g., record keeping, supervision, information and referral, in-service and staff meetings, IEP meetings and consultation, etc.).

Liability Insurance

Background Check

All students are required to obtain a background check through the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation prior to beginning classes. Applications must be obtained through the graduate office. Prior background checks may not be valid due to the age of the previous report and the level completed.

To provide a comprehensive program that enables students to gain knowledge and experience that will enhance their identity as a professional.

To provide a learning environment which is sensitive to the person and work of the Holy Spirit.

Admissions Policies

Procedures
Application materials for any of our degree programs may be obtained from the graduate admissions coordinator.

Applications will not be acted upon until all required documents have been received (including transcripts, letters of recommendation, and entrance exam scores). In order to allow time for the university and the program admissions committee to process the applications, it is advisable to have applications completed by the following dates: April 1 for Fall matriculation (MFT applications will only be accepted for Fall)

November 1 for Spring matriculation

Requirements
Applicants who are granted regular admission must meet minimum requirements. Among those elements of the total evaluation process are the following:

- A bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited college or university.
- An undergraduate cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 3.0 or above on a 4 point scale (highly recommended).
- A cumulative GPA of 3.0 or above on a 4 point scale for any graduate work completed.
- No specific undergraduate major is essential for admission. Applicants are encouraged to have undergraduate credit in subjects that embrace human development, sociology, psychology and statistics. Applicants without adequate preparation may be accepted upon the condition that they register for additional courses deemed necessary by the admissions committee.

- Scores on the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) OR the Miller Analogies Test (MAT) must be provided. Scores must be no more than five years old. The GRE Advanced tests and Subject tests are not required. For regular admission, scores should be in the 50th percentile or higher.

NOTE: Individuals who have completed a graduate degree at an accredited college or university are not required to submit GRE/MAT test scores. Also, test scores are waived for students with an undergraduate GPA of 3.0 or above from a regionally accredited college or university.

Each applicant must submit the following:

- Completed application form
- $25 application fee (non-refundable)
- Official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended.
- Scores from the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) OR Scores from the Miller Analogies Test (MAT) if required
- Three recommendation forms, two of which must be from former professors familiar with your work (recommendation forms are included in the application packet).
- Autobiographical information (guidelines are included in the application packet).
- Personal interview for those who are finalists in the application process (phone interviews may be conducted in cases where face-to-face interviews are impossible).

Hours Required
A minimum of 60 semester hours is required to complete the Master of Science degree in Marriage and Family Therapy. A minimum of 44 semester hours is required to complete the Master of Science degree in College Student Development. A minimum of 36 semester hours is required to complete the Master of Science degree in Holistic Child Development. A minimum of 48 semester hours is required to complete the Master of Science degree in School Counseling.

Transfer Credit.
A maximum of six semester hours of credit may be transferred into the program. Approval for the substitution of required course work is made on an individual basis in consultation with the student’s advisor and the Program Director.

Non-Degree Status
Students desiring to take courses without full admission status in our program may choose one of the following options. With any category of non-degree status, students will be required to complete a non-degree status application and submit official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended. If at any time nondegree students wish to pursue one of the Master of Science programs, full admission status will be required including a separate application and all other full admission status requirements. Completion of course work under non-degree status does not guarantee that students will be granted full admission status.

A maximum of nine semester hours may be taken at the applicant’s risk as an unclassified student. Enrollment will be limited to specific entry-level courses. Courses must be approved by the Director of Graduate Studies in Counseling. Professionals who hold a master’s degree in counseling or a closely related field but do not satisfy state requirements for licensure may take a maximum of six courses with non-degree status through one of the Counseling programs.

Admission with Deficiencies
Students may be admitted into the program with deficiencies if they lack appropriate course work in their undergraduate programs. Deficiencies should be completed during the first year of study. Credits taken to make up deficiencies do not count toward the 60 hour credit requirement.

Full-time vs. Part-time
Although it would be the faculty’s preference, students need not always take a full-time course load. However, degree requirements must be completed within 6 years of matriculation.

Once students are admitted they are expected to maintain continuous enrollment (a minimum of three hours during both the fall and spring semester), and make satisfactory progress toward their degree. If a student has not maintained continuous enrollment, he or she must go through the re-entry process and contact the Program Director at least ten weeks prior to the semester in which he or she wishes to re-enter. The admissions committee can:

1. Grant re-entry without conditions.
2. Grant re-entry conditionally.
3. Deny re-entry.

Generally, if the student is making satisfactory progress toward a degree, re-entry will be approved without conditions. However, evidence of delayed progress without reasonable grounds (e.g. multiple requests for re-entry, several semesters not registered) may result in option (2) or (3) above. Students who anticipate discontinuities in registration should inform their advisor in writing.

Ethical Standards
The program endorses and abides by ethical standards of service delivery and research established by the American Association for Marriage and Family Therapists and American School Counseling Association, Lee University and the State of Tennessee. In accordance with these ethical standards, master level students are not permitted to engage in the independent practice of counseling. Information on professional ethics is distributed to and reviewed with each incoming class on an annual basis and reiterated in counseling courses and seminars.

The Counseling Graduate Committee
The Counseling Graduate Committee’s responsibility is to give administrative oversight to the graduate program. The committee considers and recommends curricular changes to the Graduate Council, approves all program policies, assesses effectiveness of the graduate program, serves as the Admissions Committee, reviews candidacy, and approves applicants for graduation.
Master of Education in Classroom Teaching, Special Education, or Educational Leadership (M.Ed.)

Further, each of the fundamental goals will be related to one or more of the mission outcomes, Lifelong Learner, Effective Educator, Ethical Practitioner. As indicated above, the subsections for each level of these fundamental goals will be identified and cited from a variety of organizations including outcome goals established by the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards, Tennessee State Board of Education for the Administrator License (TSBEAL), and those identified by this unit (12 Unit Goals).

School of Music Graduate Studies
William R. Green, Dean

Graduate Studies in Church and Sacred Music
Brad Moffett, Graduate Discipline Coordinator

Graduate Studies in Music Performance
Ron Brendel, Graduate Discipline Coordinator

Graduate Studies in Music Education
Linda Thompson, Graduate Discipline Coordinator

Statement of Purpose
The School of Music provides discipline related experiences in worship, musical artistry, and aesthetics which will help prepare Lee University graduate students for responsible living in the modern world. It addresses its efforts both to the general university student and to those who choose to pursue music as graduate students.

For the student who wishes to pursue music as a profession, course offerings will assist in preparing graduate students for careers in the ministry of music in either church leadership or performance roles, music education in either public or private schools or private studio teaching, and the public performance arena as soloist or collaborative artist. The School of Music supports the belief that in order to be truly educated, each student must be familiar with the monumental artistic achievements of western civilization. Each student is offered the opportunity to become acquainted with selected examples of music literature and to develop the listening and analytic skills necessary to understand and appreciate that literature.

The faculty of the School of Music advocates that music is not only an academic discipline, but it is also a performance art. Working with university administration and the Fine Arts Committee, the School of Music endeavors to provide a well-rounded series of events that allow the university community to participate in music from an artistic and aesthetic perspective. The School also maintains a variety of music ensembles that provide interested, talented, and qualified students the opportunity to become acquainted with the performer’s art.

Since Lee University is a Christian university, the School of Music is intimately involved in the spiritual life of the campus. Through its faculty and students, the School takes a leading role in providing musical worship experiences in the university-wide chapel services. Courses are provided which are specifically designed to aid pastors, Christian Education students, and others preparing for full-time Christian service. In addition, the School of Music offers workshops, seminars, and clinics for ministers of music, pastors, and church leaders in order to promote the ministry of music in the Church of God, the sponsoring denomination of Lee University and other faith traditions.

The students, faculty and administration of the School of Music accept the responsibility to provide the opportunity to bring a sense of celebration to our university community through the re-creative art of music – a celebration of the creative gifts with which our Creator God has endowed man and a celebration of the God of our salvation through music that is both artistic and spiritual.

National Association of Schools of Music
The Lee University School of Music is an accredited institutional member of the National Association of Schools of Music (NASM). NASM has been recognized by the United States Department of Education as the agency responsible for the accreditation of all music curricula. NASM is a constituent member of the American Council on Education. In the field of teacher education, the Association cooperates with the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education. The services of the Association are available to all types of degree-granting institutions in higher education and to non-degree-granting institutions offering pre-professional programs or general music training programs. Membership in the Association is on a voluntary basis.

The general statement of aims and objectives follows:

- To develop a national unity and strength for the purpose of maintaining the position of music study in the family of fine arts and humanities in our universities, colleges and schools of music.
- To maintain professional leadership in music training and develop a national context for professional growth of the artist.
- To establish minimum standards of achievement in music curricula without restricting an administration or school in its freedom to develop new ideas, to experiment or to expand its program.
- To recognize that inspired teaching may rightly reject a “status quo” philosophy.
- To establish that the prime objective of all educational programs in music is to provide the opportunity for every music student to develop individual potentialities to the utmost.

The Graduate Music Committee
The Graduate Music Committee’s responsibility is to give administrative oversight to the Graduate Studies in Music program. The committee considers and recommends curricular changes to the university faculty, approves all policies, assesses effectiveness of the graduate program, serves as the Admissions Committee, reviews candidacy, and approves applicants for graduation. The Graduate Music Committee consists of: William R. Green, Dean of the School of Music, Chair; Mark Bailey, D.M.E.; Jim Burns, D.M.A.; Ron Brendel, D.M.A.; Walt Mauldin, D.M.A.; Bradley Moffett, D.W.S.; Austin Patty, PhD; Phillip Thomas, Ph. - An essay explaining the rationale for his/her desire to become a graduate student in Lee University School of Music Graduate Program
- Three reference forms (two academic and one personal)

NOTE: Each program has additional requirements pertaining to the application process that must be submitted in order for the application file to be complete. These requirements are listed under the description of each specific degree program in the following pages. Each applicant must submit official transcripts verifying the completion of an undergraduate degree in music, or equivalent, at an accredited institution.

Each applicant must have a minimum grade point average of 2.75 for admission to the graduate music programs. If the applicant has a grade point average below 2.75, the student may petition the Dean of the School of Music for Special Student Status. Action on this petition will be determined by the Music Graduate Committee in consultation with the Dean of the School of Music.

Each applicant is required to have an interview with the Graduate Music Executive Committee or its appointees.

Non-degree Seeking Status
A student desiring to take courses without admission to Graduate Studies in Music will be required to complete an application and submit official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended. A maximum of nine semester hours may be taken as a non-degree seeking student, and enrollment will be limited to specific entry-level courses. The Dean of the School of Music must approve any course(s) selected by the applicant. Completion of course work under non-degree seeking status does not guarantee that a student will be admitted to any graduate music degree program for which they may subsequently apply. Non-degree-seeking student may pursue admission to Graduate Studies in Music programs by meeting all admission criteria.

Completion Requirements
1. To be a full-time graduate student the student must enroll in nine semester hours per semester. It is possible for a full-time graduate student-in-residence to complete classroom courses for the degree program in one year. It is suggested that this optimal course load will be as follows:

2. In addition to this traditional approach to scheduling, courses will be offered so that students may attend classes one day a week (specifically Thursday for only Master of Church Music students) and complete course requirements over a two-year period. A schedule of late afternoon and early evening classes has been developed to assist the working music professional to achieve his/her degree while maintaining a career.

   Another option is the modular two-week "J-Term" summer courses offered each June and July. Distance students may complete course requirements over a three-year period using other creative options during the regular academic calendar to meet Music Elective, Ministerial Elective and Advanced Technique Music Studies requirements.

3. A cumulative average of 3.0 or above (on a 4.0 scale) is required in the graduate program. Course credits with a grade below a "C" may not be counted toward the degree.

4. Graduate Church Music students will have a practicum requirement in which they will serve in a local church or other appropriate venue under the supervision of a qualified professional and his/her graduate faculty adviser.

5. Graduate students must successfully complete a final project, depending on their degree program the final project may be a graduate recital, a thesis or a worship festival. The final project must be completed at least three weeks prior to graduation.

6. Master of Church Music Graduate students must successfully complete a worship festival. This must be completed at least three weeks prior to graduation.

7. Music Education Graduate students must successfully complete a thesis (two options) or final project. This must be completed at least three weeks prior to graduation.

8. Master of Music-Music Performance students must successfully present a one-hour public recital. The recital must be presented at least three weeks prior to graduation.

9. A student is admitted to candidacy for the graduate degrees only after the completion of 28 (MUSCH.MCM) or 30 (MUSED. MM & MUSPF. MM) hours of course work and the successful completion of the written and oral comprehensive exams.

10. Upon completion of all required course work, the Master’s candidate is required to register for GRAD-591 Graduate Supervision for each succeeding semester until the comprehensive examinations and the final project (thesis, recital, or worship festival, depending upon the degree requirements) are satisfactorily completed. One hour of graduate tuition is charged for each semester of enrollment in GRAD-591. While enrollment in GRAD-591 is required for continuing candidate status in the program, it does not fulfill any degree requirements and carries no credit. If the student fails to register and pay for GRAD-591 for two consecutive semesters, but then wishes to return to complete the final project and/or comprehensive exams, s/he must re-apply to the University.

Once a student begins course work towards a graduate music degree, the degree program must be completed within a six-year period.

Final Project Committee
1. The graduate student’s Final Project Committee will include a chairperson and two additional members. This committee will give oversight and direction for the final project. The student may refer to this committee as his/her “Final Project Committee.” The Chair of the Graduate Music Committee will assign two graduate faculty members to serve on the student’s Final Project Committee. Each student may choose an additional faculty member to serve on his/her committee. The student must seek approval from the faculty member before submitting his/her name to the Chair of the Graduate Music Committee.

2. Requirements for the worship festival, thesis, and recital can be found in the Graduate Music Handbook or from the Graduate Studies in Music Office.

Comprehensive Exams
Comprehensive exams are typically offered three weeks before the desired graduation ceremonies. A three-hour written exam is followed one week later by a 30 minute oral examination. The written exam can cover all material presented in the graduate music curriculum, and/or other material in music history, hymnology and related areas from undergraduate study. The oral exam continues the exploration by the graduate faculty of the student’s experiences and the synthesis of their academic work. A minimum of three members of the Graduate Music Committee will be present for the oral comprehensive exam.
The School of Religion offers three graduate degrees: the Master of Arts in Biblical Studies, the Master of Arts in Theological Studies, and the Master of Arts in Ministry Studies.

Graduate Studies in Biblical and Theological Studies

Rickie D. Moore, Department of Theology, Chairperson

Skip Jenkins, Director of Graduate Programs in Biblical and Theological Studies

The Master of Arts degree in Biblical Studies and the Master of Arts degree in Theological Studies provide post-baccalaureate study which prepares men and women for further graduate work or for other vocational interests. The programs are offered within a community of Christian scholars. The educational perspective is evangelical/Pentecostal. The focus of the degree programs is academic rather than professional. The goal of the programs is disciplinary competence through collegial engagement with peers and scholars in the discipline. The degree programs in Biblical and Theological Studies offer advanced study in the disciplines. In this respect, they are different from seminary degree programs which accept applicants with any undergraduate degree. Those with the undergraduate degree in biblical/theological studies can complete the MA with 36 credit hours of study. There is an alternative path for those with less preparation at the undergraduate level. This degree tract requires 48 credit hours to complete.

Graduate Studies in Christian Ministries

Thomas J. Doolittle, Department of Christian Ministries, Chairperson
Lisa M. Long, Director of Graduate Programs in Christian Ministries

The Master of Arts degree in Ministry Studies at Lee University provides a program of study that combines practical studies and practical ministry. For those whose undergraduate degree focused on religious studies, this graduate program offers the opportunity to further the student’s knowledge and expertise. For those whose undergraduate degree focused on disciplines other than religion, this graduate program can fill the missing pieces of the student’s education. The Master of Arts in Ministry Studies will equip the student to be the leader in ministry that God has called and gifted the person to be.

The courses in this program are specifically designed to help the student to understand the biblical and theological foundation of issues related to ministry in contemporary contexts, and then to move beyond theory to the implementation of practical skills for successful vocational ministry. The combination of superior education and ministry experience of the School of Religion faculty enable them to present a realistic approach to this union of theory and practice. The modular design of this program offers convenient once-a-month course scheduling.

The Master of Arts degree in Ministry Studies at Lee University offers three tracks: Youth and Family Studies, Leadership Studies, and Worship Studies. The degree includes 18 hours of common core courses and 18 hours of courses within each track. The student’s learning experience will culminate in either a track-specific final project or internship.
